Luncheons and Dinners On Agenda

By Jeryme English Statesman Society Editor Several informal luncheons and dinner parties have marked the social agenda the past week.

Mrs. Gene Vandeneynde was hostess for a smartly arranged one o'clock luncheon on Thursday af-ternoon at her E street home. Mrs. Vandenevnde entertained with a similar affair a week ago for a group of matrons.

The hostess used arrangements of lilies-of-the-valley and pansies for the decorative note on the ta-ble and about the rooms. Bridge was in play during the afternoon.

Covers were placed for Mrs.

Mrs. Ramage to Head Auxiliary

Mrs. John Ramage was elected president of the Salem Lions auxiliary at the regular meeting held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Norman Young. Other new officers are Mrs. Roy Todd, vice-president; Mrs. Evert Givens, secretary; and Mrs. E. Burr Miller, treasurer. Mrs. Wayne Doughton is the retiring president. Installation will be held at the last meeting of the year, which will be a picnic on June 15 at the country home of the Floyd Seamsters.

At the Thursday night meeting Carl Gies of the Hollywood Lions auxiliary was guest speaker and showed his pictures on Mexico. Guests present were Mrs. Edward Klippert, Mrs. Al Todd and

Picnic Season Opens With Memorial Day: Outdoor Food in Fashion Now

By Maxine Buren

Only eight more shopping days before the official opening of the picnic season, which is Memorial Day.

That is the day when outdoor cooking really becomes the fashion, from that day on, hostesses will be justified in serving in the informal and pleasant way that one does in the back yard or on the terrace.

There will be lots of potato salad made between now and Labor Day, and say what the scorners of potato salad will, it must be popular or so many people wouldn't like it. It is the salad which would be voted most likely to be necessary to a good pic-

Next to the salad in popularity comes deviled eggs as a picnic dish. Most experts in egg deviltry make theirs by guess, for, they say, variety is what makes deviled eggs so good. Once we soaked our hard cooked egg whites in beet juice to color them while we make the yolks into a filling. They were pretty, but a little disconcerting, for our contention is that one shouldn't try to dis-guise the natural appearance of foods which are normally atractive enough for anyone.

Standard recipe is to hard cook the eggs, cut in half, remove olks and mash them with some melted butter, dry mustard, salt, pepper and lemon juice to taste. To vary, add chopped olives (you can get them in cans ready-chopped). Some people get real fancy and add anchovies, grated cheese or capers. We like to put in some minced onion or some green pepper cut very fine.

An occasional casserole dish is well received for outdoor meals

too. Try this one: DELMONICO POTATOES

& hard-cooked eggs, chopped cup American cheese,

2 tablespoons butter 1½ tablespoons flour grated Pimiento, chopped (optional) 1 cup milk teaspoon salt teaspoon pepper quart boiled potatoes,

Make white sauce with butter, flour, and milk. Add salt and pepper. Arrange layers of potatoes, eggs, cheese, pimiento, and white sauce in buttered baking dish. Dot each layer with butter, salt and pepper. Cover top with cheese. Bake in a moderate oven
