Statement on Result Issued By Musgrave

With unofficial returns in the Salem mayors' race virtually ruling out his chances, Walter Musgrave late Friday night congratulated his rivals in the nominating race.

Musgrave, former West Salem mayor and a Salem alderman since West Salem became part of the city, was left behind in the preliminary counting by candidates Al Loucks and Harry V. Collins. Musgrave issued the following statement:

"I congratulate the winners. Both Mr. Collins and Mr. Loucks fought a clean campaign. Both showed me every personal courtesy.

"I am indebted to those who made my campaign possible and to all of those who expressed their confidence in my behalf.

"This community has given me the opportunity of serving the public in an official capacity.

"I was elected by popular majority and retired with common consent.

"I believe I have exercised a duty as a citizen in taking an active part in government.

"Someone must lose. I feel the privilege of enjoying the right to participate in one's own government is of more importance than the mere fact of winning, sweet though victory is to the winner. May the winners carry on."

Salem Memorial Hospital to Install Sprinkler System

Award of a contract for a sprinkler system throughout Salem Memorial hospital building, to be completed by July 15, was announced Friday.

Grinnell company has started work on the pipe and fixtures at its Portland plant, and no alteration is due at the hospital until that phase is completed. Cost of the project is about $15,000, not part of the Salem Hospital Development program.

A. C. Haag, chairman of the trustees, said the step was taken as an extra precautionary measure against fire from fear of fire at the hospital.

First Graders Rally to Aid of Stricken Child in West Salem

Thirty first grade students Friday rallied to the aid of a 5-year-old Salem girl who may attend their school next year if a forthcoming operation proves successful.

The youngster is Janie Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Jensen, 1450 Plaza st. Numerous west side organizations are sponsoring a benefit smorgasbord next Thursday to finance an operation June 7 in Portland for a heart and artery ailment that has prevented Janie from having a normal childhood.

Friday afternoon the 30 first-graders, students of Mrs. William Gwinn at West Salem school, school, marched in a group to Kingwood market whose proprietor, Mrs. Walter White, is co-chairman of the benefit.

The children donated about one dollar which the class had won for having the most mothers present at a recent PTA meeting. The money usually buys new books for the class.

"With the donation came a note, 'We wish that the operation for little Janie will be successful and that she can join us next fall.'"

Mrs. White announced Friday that only a few of the 500 adult tickets, priced at $1, for the smorgasbord are still available. She expects a sellout by Monday.

The smorgasbord will be from 5:30 until 9 p.m. Thursday at the west Salem city hall. All proceeds will go to help Janie. Food has been donated by bakeries, meat companies, restaurants and private homes all over Salem.

August through December is the most active shrimp season in the United States.

New Filling Station Will Open Today

Opening today of a new filling station, Deibert's Mobil service, at North Capitol and Market streets, is announced by Adam Deibert, owner. In addition to Mobilgas and Mobiloil, the new station will carry other General Petroleum products, Deibert said.

Opening day features will include free gardenias for the women and balloons and candy for the kiddies.

Deibert, a member of the VFW and the American Legion, who served in the South Pacific, said the new station would be open from 7 a.m. to midnight daily and Sunday.

$66.53 Weekly Average Wage for Industry Worker

Oregon's average industrial worker was paid $66.53 a week during the month of March, the state unemployment compensation commission, announced Thursday.

Though the highest figure paid this year, it was slightly less than the $67.57 a week paid last December. Lumber and wood products industries led the advance with an average of $69.88. This figure at $1.80 an hour for the average work week of 38.8 hours.

Highest hourly wage average was $2.23, paid in the printing and publishing industry. Lumber workers were second.

3 Counties Await Cherry Fruit Fly Traffic Wrecks Injure Two

Marion, Linn and Polk counties will have cherry fruit fly control programs this year for the fifth straight year, the state department of agriculture announced Friday.

This means that every cherry tree in the three counties has to be sprayed as soon as the fly emerges. It usually emerges late in May or early in June.

Oil Firm Investigates Fields in Washington

OLYMPIA, May 19—(AP)—The Phillips Petroleum corporation, a major oil company, has investigated the oil exploration possibilities in Washington, a spokesman for the state land department said tonight. Other sources here said the Phillips firm had reached no decision about drilling for oil in this area.

Two Salem residents incurred cuts and bruises Friday in minor traffic accidents.

Vernon C. Henrich, 27, Salem route 7, was injured while operating a motorcycle in the Keizer district, and Robert Miller, 9, of 1545 Baker st., was struck by an auto while riding a bicycle at McCoy and Madison streets. Both were treated by the city first aid squad and were advised to see physicians.

First aid men also treated Emil Valish, 24, of 1535 N. Church st., who was bruised when he fell off a loading dock at Capitol Lumber company, and 2-year-old Michael Bloom, 1079 Seventh st., who was gashed in the wrist by a piece of glass.
