

Kappell, List to Play Concerto for Pianos: World Premieres Scheduled

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Music Editor
The world's radio premieres of two symphonies, the playing of the Vivaldi-Bach concerto for four pianos by well known young pianists (two of whom we have heard here), and the appearance of Elena Nikolaidi as contralto soloist are among the special treats scheduled for radio listeners this week end.

This morning's good musical programs begin with:
8:30 on CBS—Salt Lake Tabernacle chorus and organ.
11:00 on CBS—The Choristers, Eugene Lowell, conductor. Hubert Hendrie, baritone soloist.

Anliker-Webster Vows Are Read

At a simple service at Johnson Memorial Seventh Day Adventist church at 3 o'clock on May 14 Mrs. Alta Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Reed, became the bride of Ben Anliker of Gaston. Elder A. J. Gordon performed the ceremony before a setting of lavender and white lilies, tulips and rhododendrons.
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wagner sang, accompanied by Mrs. Arch E. Schaffner.
The bride wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.
Mrs. Mary Wilcoxon was the bride's only attendant and a sister of the bridegroom. Edwin Anliker was his brother's best man.
A reception was held at the home of Mrs. W. Lee Hutchins on Hazel avenue. Mrs. Gordon Rasmussen was in charge of the reception. Mrs. Frank Nelson, Portland, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Assisting were Miss Ruth Hutchins, Miss Fern Anliker, Miss May Anliker, Miss Lois Wilcoxon, nieces of the groom, Miss Violet Webster and Miss Genevieve Webster, daughters of the bride. Mrs. A. R. Tartar was in charge of the gifts and Mrs. M. Campbell passed the guest book.
