Earl Johnston

Earl Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Johnston, Salem route 4, box 1046, is one of 671 cadets who will graduate Tuesday from the U.S. military academy at West Point, N.Y.

He hopes his commission as a second lieutenant will be with the air force, since he served as a captain in the 15th air force during World War II. He was awarded the distinguished flying cross and the air medal with clusters. Johnston was appointed to the academy by the late Rep. James Mott after attending Salem high school and Oregon State college. At the academy he has been active in intramural athletics and during the past year was appointed cadet first sergeant in the corps of cadets.

His parents and his sister, Betty Johnston of Salem, are to leave Thursday for the east to attend the exercises.

Agents Watch For Arrival Of Fruit Fly

Two cherry fruit fly emergence cages in the Lamberta orchard east of Salem are being observed daily by County Extension Agent D. L. Rasmussen. Cherry fruit fly emergence under these cages or others in the Willamette valley will be used by the entomology department at Oregon State college to determine the official spray notice for cherry fruit fly control.

Rasmussen warns commercial growers and home gardeners that it is still too early to spray for cherry fruit flies because the flies are still in the soil. Although the cages were erected on May 24, no flies have been found.

"Whenever the first fly is trapped in an emergency cage, interested growers will be notified promptly," says Rasmussen. "Official notice of cherry fruit fly emergencies in the Willamette valley is telephoned to county extension agents who relay this information to cherry growers in their areas."

"News of the first cherry fruit fly spreads rapidly through radio publicity, news stories, circular letter, telephone calls, personal calls, personal contacts, and other methods of communication. For this reason, there is no need for any cherry grower to spray or dust before cherry fruit fly emergence," Rasmussen continues.

Methoxychlor has been included with lead arsenate and rotenone as recommended insecticides for cherry fruit fly control in 1950. Lead arsenate will be used by growers raising cherries for processing. Methoxychlor and rotenone will be used by a few growers who sell fresh cherries.

Recommended spray and dust formulas are being mailed to cherry growers on the Marion county agents mailing list. Whenever the cherry fruit fly emergence is announced, an official spray notice will be mailed, says Rasmussen.
