Friday night. The Braves needed shortstop and got a dandy in Bud Peterson, who is again with Al Spaeter to form the famed douole play combination the town Senators had a couple seasons ago. Elsewhere the Braves are well fixed with Big Nick Pesut catching, the fancy Vic Buccola at first, dependable Neil Bryant at third and Dick Faber, Jim Warner and Clint Cameron in the outfield. Warner mashed 43 homers last year and Cameron was the loop's No. I hitter. Were Boss Petersen to come up with a seige of solid pitching from his oldtimers Joe Orrell, Lou McCollum, Cy Greenlaw and Jim Olsen he'd be in a mood to give Tacoma a real battle for the '50 bunting . . . The PCL Sactos picked an odd way in which to release Bill Bevens. Fact is, no one of the club seems to know just when and where the big guy was cut loose,

CHARLEY PETERSEN

He was kayoed in the third frame last Sunday night by Oakland, and when Sac. Mgr. Red Kress came out to get him he told Bill, "It's okeh, I haven't given up on you yet." The club then packed up and departed for Hollywood, and before taking off Bev was among those who were given expense money for the week. But lo, when he got to Los Angeles and picked up a paper he read where he was released! Reminds us of the time a few years ago that Tommy Drynan was replaced as football mentor at the Vik Villa. Tom didn't know a thing about it until he picked up his Statesman one morn . . . Don't know whether our suggestion of a couple of weeks ago caused it, and it doesn't matter if it did or didn't so long as the village kids are to get to see some of the Waters field ball games for free. Police Chief Warren and Senators Boss (I Wuz a Candidate) Emigh are to be congratulated on the new "Third Base Club" which blossoms into existence soon. Kids from 6 to 15 years old are to be admitted to the third base bleachers free on Wednesday and Friday nights in the police department sponsored plan. All they have to do to qualify is pick up a membership card at the police station Friday from 4 to 6 p.m., or Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Go

Van Loo, Abrahamson Sign On at Myrtle Creek

Two more college athletes stepping into the coaching field, and both at wee Myrtle Creek. Corky Van Loo, the halfback running mate for Robin Lee at OCE last fall, and Bob Abrahamson, an OCE basketballer and trackman before transfering to Linfield are the new men. Van Loo will be assistant in football to Coach Jack Keling and Abrahamson will be basketball mentor and track assistant. Frosty Loghry, up until now coach of all sports along with Keling at Myrtle Creek, moves up to the athletic director-

Quite a coach staff for a school listing an enrollment of only 250 students, but Mike Deller, the superintendent at Myrtle Creek always has believed in doing up athletics in a big way. Mike once was coach at Molalla high and had some fine basketball and track teams while there. He has big plans for the little Myrtle Creekers now.

The additional three fest of distance the softball flingers are pitching from this season (it's a new rule) hasn't seemed to bother a Jim Rawlins even a little bit. Annually one of the best hurlers in the City circuit, Jim has unbuttoned a one-hitter and a no-hitter in his last two outings. He has his work cut out for him tonight, however, as he and his Salem Supper Clubbers are up against Snide Campbell's Rock Woolers and their importation from McMinnville, Keith Marshall. Keith is a Grade-A flinger also and in his Salem debut whipped up a no-hitter of his own.

Gregg's Bad Break Saddens Local Drivers Gregg's Bad Break Saddens Local Drivers

The replacing of "Bullet Bob" Gregg as driver of the Spokane Athletic Round Table sponsored "Esmeralda" racer in the Indianapolis "500" was a sad blow to the racing gang hereabouts, as all were keeping fingers crossed for good luck for the Camas, Wash., heavyweight. As Frankie McGowan put it while waiting to herd one of the midgets here last Saturday night: "We sure hope Bob makes it back there. It's about time one of the boys from the Northwest showed them we're not minor league drivers out here." The Shermans, Osbornes, Humms, etc.-all of them top rivals for Gregg when operating on the Northwest's ovals, felt the same way. They wanted to see Rapid Robert ring the big ball at Indianapolis. To them the Indiana- Brayes came through with wins polis classic is the same valhalla that ballplayers find when they don a New York uniform and play in Yankee Stadium . . . Incidentally, Gregg is expected back home soon, and will resume his driving operations at Hollywood Bowl shortly

Speaking of auto racing, Bald Bill Klepper's new venture at Portland Meadows is about completed. The former baseball tycoon who now operates the horse plant has constructed both a half-mile track for hot rods and a quarter-miler for midgets in-side the big strip at the meadows, and the Northwest Motor Rac-ing Contest Board (the outfit that races in Hollywood Bowl) soon will install regular races there. The new strips are of dirt, so some fancy slipping, sliding and other motored maybem should result . . . Contrary to the rumors that have been flitting about, Klepper tells us the current Meadows hoss meeting is doing okeh financially. He had as his guest Bay Meadows man Bill Kyne the other night, and Kyne was elated over the healthiness of the

2-HITTER, SOLONS TIGER FIELD, Tacoma, May 31-(Special)-The Salem Senators'

John Tierney got back on the winning track tonight as he hurled the Solons to a sparkling two-hit 2-1 victory over the Western International league leading Tacoma Tigers. The triumph pulled the second-place Salem crew to within 71/2 games of the front-runners. The teams close out the series Thursday night with one game, with the Salems now owning a 2-
