

Oregon Postal Clerks to Open Annual Convention Here Friday

More than 150 postal clerks are expected in Salem Friday for the annual three-day convention of the Oregon Federation of Postoffice Clerks and its auxiliary. National officers are to be among those speaking.

Local arrangements are in charge of Francis Albright, president of local 604, and Mrs. Helen Lucas, state auxiliary president. Registration will begin at 10 a. m. Friday at the Marion hotel, where first day meetings are slated. At 2 p. m. meeting will include invocation by Dr. Mark Getzenamer of St. Mark Lutheran church, and greetings by C. E. Eyre, Salem assistant superintendent of mails. A picnic and softball game are slated for Leslie park at 6:30 p. m.

Saturday's meetings, mostly at the Labor temple, will include business sessions at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., presided over by Webb Sauzen, Corvallis, state president. The auxiliary is planning a noon luncheon at the Spa. A banquet is set for 6 p. m. at the Marion hotel and a dance that evening at the Labor temple.

Speakers at the banquet will include Mrs. Edgar Daugherty of Salem on Keep Oregon Green; Albright; Mayor R. L. Elstrom; Salem Postmaster Albert C. Gragg; Sauzen; Mrs. Lucas; LeRoy F. Krueger, Salem, national state representative; Mrs. Sydney Almqvist, Seattle, third national auxiliary vice president; Robert J. Rogers, Minneapolis, eighth national vice president, and a Salem Trades and Labor council representative. Salem Civic Players are to present a skit.

Purpose of the trip is to invite the city mayors to attend the Cherryland festival and Pageant of Progress next week. Cities to be visited are Independence, Monmouth, Dallas, Amity, McMinnville, Dundee, Newberg and Tigard.

The court is due in Portland at 6 o'clock and plans to attend the

Cash Oats Hit New 2-Year High Levels

CHICAGO, June 7 — (AP)—A new high for nearly two years was set by cash oats while oats futures raced to new seasonal peaks on the board of trade today.

Wheat closed ¾ to 1 cent lower, corn was ¼-¾ higher, oats were 1¼-1½ higher, rye was 1 to 1½ higher, soybeans were unchanged to 1¼ lower and lard was 13 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Wheat displayed strength at one time, partly in sympathy with oats and partly because traders felt the market was entitled to a rally after its drop of about 13 cents from recent highs. But good harvesting weather and increasing hedging pushed prices down toward the close.

Rose festival night show at Multnomah stadium.

Friday will also take the court on the road, as they visit the Lebanon Strawberry festival, have lunch with Albany's mayor, and then go to Corvallis to take part in the state Elks' convention parade at 1:30 p. m.

Valley Obituaries

James D. Huddleston — AUMSVILLE—James D. Huddleston, 37, an Aumsville resident until recently, was killed in a logging accident near Cheshire Monday, it was learned here Wednesday.

Huddleston was felling a tree with a chain saw when a limb fell and struck him on the head. He had lived here and at West Stayton for eight years until March, when he and his family moved to Eugene route 5.

Surviving are the widow, Helen, and children, William, Robert, Phyllis, Richard and Rosalie, all of Eugene; parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Huddleston, sr. North Santiam; brothers, Arthur and Marvin Huddleston, both of North Santiam; sisters, Mrs. Lester Graves and Mrs. Peter Fry, both of Aumsville, Mrs. Walter Nichols, Turner, and Leotta Stewart, Fresno, Calif.

Ethel Sholund, Long-Time City Resident, Dies

Mrs. Ethel Burriss Sholund, a floorlady at Paulus Brothers cannery for the past 23 years, died Wednesday at a local hospital following a short illness. She was 69.

Mrs. Sholund came to Salem 50 years ago. She was born in Dallas county, Iowa, June 12, 1880. Her husband, John Sholund, died about 18 years ago.

Mrs. Sholund was a member of the Baptist church. Surviving are several nieces and nephews, including Paul F. and W. G. Burriss, both of Salem.

Services will be Friday at 10:30 a. m. at the Virgil T. Golden chapel. Interment will be at City View cemetery.

Cases Drain Polio Funds

Marion county chapter of the polio foundation is "in the black" but still facing average monthly bills of about $2,000, Joe Kievit, Portland, state foundation representative, told Salem Eagles lodge Tuesday night.

Kievit and Mrs. Faye Wright, county chairman, spoke to the group and expressed gratitude for the Eagles' aid in securing an iron lung for Salem, as well as funds for other equipment.

Mrs. Wright said a $3,850 loan from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, plus benefit receipts, had come to the chapter, but they would not be sufficient for long to care for approximately 20 patients.

She said that four cases of polio have appeared in the county so far this year, all "very light."
