Marines Thank City for Training Time

City Manager J. L. Franzen receives a certificate of merit presented to the city of Salem by Gen. C. B. Gates, commandant of the U.S. marine corps, for city cooperation in allowing employes to attend marine corps reserve training sessions. Presenting the award is Capt. William E. Ryan, and Sgt. C. F. Domogalla, both of the Salem USMC reserve training center. The certificate states "appreciation of contributions to the national defense in granting leave to employes to attend active duty training." Others in Salem receiving awards are the district attorney's office, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., Bishop's Clothing store, Curry and Kropp Insurance Co., and Hicks Sundry Co.; and Raymond C. Equal Co., Woodburn. Letters of appreciation went to Safeway stores, Salem; and F. P. Ellis Co., Independence. (Statesman photo).

Festival Preparation Nearly Completed; Selected Events Set

Preparations for Salem's fourth post-war Cherryland festival are nearing a climax this week, with the new-type program of the annual event set for next week, Thursday through Saturday, June 15-17.

More emphasis on fewer events is the keynote this year of planning under Sidney L. Stevens, festival association president. The program will include a queen's ball and two other dances, carnival, a

Fifteen From Area to Join Naval Cruise

Fifteen Salem area men will be among 333 naval reserve trainees who will embark June 17 from Seattle aboard two destroyer-escorts on a 28-day training cruise to Acapulco, Mexico.

The cruise will be the longest in point of time since World War II. Trainees, representing 22 northwest cities, will be granted liberty to San Francisco, Santa Catalina island, San Diego and Acapulco.

Salem men scheduled to participate in the cruise include Perry E. Bartlemay, Gordon Byron Bennett, William Lewis Cracroff, Harman James Duan, Billy L. Foster, Glenn Allen Griffin, Robert Lee Kirk, Edward Thomas, Patrick James Lofting, Charles Everette Miller, Donald H. Plummer, Fred Carl Schoffe, Lloyd Pearl Sheldon, Floyd Dan Thompson and Leonard LaVern Yarnell.

The opinion was requested by the Oregon State Civil Defense agency.

Only McKay May Order Flood-Area Evacuations

The governor is authorized to order persons in flood-threatened areas to move out, Attorney General George Neuner ruled Wednesday.

Neuner added, however, that sheriffs, police and other officers of local governments do not have authority to order such evacuations.

U.S. dairy herd improvement associations cover more than a million cows.

Tacoma Man Admits Bad Check Counts

Thomas Nichol Mommsen, Tacoma, Wash., a former state hospital employe in Salem, has admitted to a city detective here that he passed two bad checks recently in Salem and seven others in Tacoma.

Mommsen was arrested Tuesday after a two-day investigation. Police held a warrant to arrest another man who, it turned out, was not even in Oregon at the time the checks, which bore his name, were cashed. A tip from this man, however, aided the detective in tracking down Mommsen.

Mommsen has signed statements admitting cashing $15 checks at the Salem Smoke shop, and at the Allen Hardware company, both on May 24.

Federal bureau of investigation agents told city police Wednesday that Mommsen also is wanted in Seattle for questioning in connection with some bad checks.

Mommsen is scheduled to appear today in Marion county district court. He was being held Wednesday night on $1,000 bail.

Pistol Shots Foil Burglary

Two pistol shots fired by R. G. Patton, 1080 N. 13th st., apparently foiled an attempted burglary of his residence Tuesday night.

Patton told city police officers he saw a hand reaching through his bedroom window and that he fired a .22 revolver twice through the open window. The intruder's footsteps were heard as he ran from the area of the home.
