

Ink-Producing Farms on Field Trip's Agenda

By Lillie L. Madsen
Farm Editor, The Statesman

Oregon's big edible ink-producing farms will be visited in a tri-county field tour planned for Friday, June 23.

Jack Hansell, county agent in Yamhill county is assisting in arranging the trip and says everyone interested is welcome to attend whether or not he lives in any of the three counties — Yamhill, Clackamas and Washington — included in the tour.

While by no means all Oregon blackcaps, production of which is increasing, also go into jams, canned foods and are one of the finest fruits for deep freezing.

Friday's tour starts at 9:30 a.m. at the Sherwood high school. From there the group will go to the Albert Oberst farm near Sherwood to observe work done on minor elements in relation to blackcap troubles. At the John Bauer farm on Parrot Mountain, plant selection will be viewed. The third morning stop will be at the Elmer Schaad farm also in Parrot Mountain vicinity.

A sack lunch has been arranged at the Fernwood Grange hall near Newberg. Speakers from the state college horticultural stations will speak during the luncheon hour. Included are Dr. George Waldo, C. O. Rawlings, and R. W. Every. Dr. Waldo will discuss cultural practices and varieties. Rawlings will speak on plant selection and improvement programs functioning this year on both black and red raspberries. Every will discuss insect problems in relation to blackcaps and their control.

Following the noon luncheon, the tour will go to the Melburn Ziegler farm on Chehalis Mountain where spray trials will be observed, along with the soil building practices that have been carried on before planting blackcaps.

Combustible Gas From Wood Waste Project Proposed

Providing combustible gas from wood waste for the operation of gas turbines is the latest project under consideration by the Oregon Forest Products laboratory, officials here were advised Monday.

The laboratory, in connection with proposed research operations, Saturday will ask the state emergency board for an appropriation of $8,500.

Development of combustible gas from wood waste, according to laboratory officials, would prove a boon to the sawmill industry thru inexpensive operation of gas turbines for power.

Slow Effects Of Bomb Seen In Hiroshima

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Delayed effects in the form of eye cataracts have begun to appear in some survivors of the atomic blast in Japan, the atomic energy commission has announced.

This first evidence of delayed injury has been obtained as a result of studies under way since 1947.

The Japanese living at Hiroshima and Nagasaki when the American air force atom bombed them in 1945 have apparently recovered from immediate effects "such as loss of hair, temporary infertility and blood changes," the commission observed.

Examination of 1,000 persons, most of whom were within 3,000 feet of the point above which the bomb exploded at Hiroshima, has turned up about "40 certain cases of radiation cataract and an additional 40 suspected cases," AEC said.

"The study of long range effects, such as effects on growth, tumor or eye cataract formation, and genetic changes will require many years," the statement added.

"In order to obtain definite information in inherited changes it will be necessary to make careful observation not only of the children of those bombed but their grandchildren as well."

Walnut, oak, mahogany and maple are still among the most popular furniture woods.

Tydings Asks U.S., Russia 'Keep Talking'

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Repeated across the table contacts between Russian and U. S. leaders until they "get somewhere" were urged Sunday by Senator Tydings (D-Md.).

Tydings said he would not, as an initial move, request Premier Stalin of Russia to come to Washington.

Instead he suggested some preliminary exchanges — probably through diplomatic channels — as to what negotiations are possible before "a formal and express invitation to Stalin."

Tydings is a member of the senate foreign relations committee and is chairman of the senate armed services committee. He said peace never would be accomplished "by name-calling and throwing epithets back and forth across the ocean."

In order to achieve peace, the senator said, "I believe you have to contact the other fellow with whom you've got to make the peace."

Lions to Hear Talk on FEP

William Van Meter of the state labor office will discuss fair employment practices in a talk before East Salem Lions club this noon at the Senator hotel. The speaker, a member of the club, supervises the new Oregon FEP program. Club officials have reported the outcome of their first full-year election since the group was chartered several months ago. Elected were:

Stearns Cushing, president; John Riches, Virgil Pade and Clayton Foreman, vice presidents; Ed Klippert, secretary; Louis Lawrence, treasurer; Joseph V. Tompkins, Lion timer; James Clark, tail twister; Harry Ewing and Glenn Bowman, directors.

Four Industrial Deaths Reported

Four fatalities, 1,239 accidents and 14 claims for occupational benefits, were reported to the state industrial accident commission here during the week ended June 15.

Fatalities involved Lester J. Hinch, Portland, truck driver; Frank M. McCarthy, Sweet Home, powder man; Clay Perkins, West Stayton, logger, and James D. Huddleston, Eugene, logger.

Proposals for Flag Sent to Alex Raymond

Proposed new designs for the American flag, plus several more scores of "votes," were sent Monday to Alex Raymond of New York, artist of the Rip Kirby comic strip. Raymond is conducting a nation-wide poll, through selected newspapers, as to what the flag should look like when and if Alaska and Hawaii are added as states.

The new designs were submitted by F. E. Lloyd, 1425 N. 5th st., Salem, former color sergeant in the army, and Gloria Cuff, Brooks, route 1 box 136.

The Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Tuesday, June 20, 1950—9

Lloyd would retain the eight-star horizontal rows and add a two-star row in the middle of the field. Miss Cuff would shape the star field in two triangles with the stripes forming the hypotenuse of the two parts and with the letters "U.S." where the triangles join at the side of the flag.

"Million Dollar Voice" Sings Camels' Praises

EZIO PINZA, famous for his starring role in the smash-hit South Pacific, says: "Mildness is all-important to me as a singer. I smoke the cigarette that agrees with my throat... Camel!"

Noted throat specialists report on 30-DAY TEST of Camel smokers:

Not One Single Case of Throat Irritation Due to Smoking CAMELS

Make Your Own Thirty-Day Camel Mildness Test... in your "T-Zone"!

That's T for Throat, T for Taste. See how mild a cigarette can be!

Smokers are Testing Cigarettes More Critically than Ever Before—Millions Prove Camel Mildness in their own "T-Zones" (T for Throat...T for Taste)

Yes, more and more smokers are finding there is one sensible way to test a cigarette... smoke that cigarette pack after pack, day after day—for 30 days!

Top "Pop" Singer says Camel's "Tops" with her

FRAN WARREN—radio and recording star, recently chosen by the American Academy of Entertainment as "Queen of Song," says: "My voice means my living." Fran tells you, "My own test won me to Camels. They agree with my throat—Camels are fun to smoke!"

That's just the test that Camel asks you to make for yourself!

What can you, the smoker, really learn from the trick tests and short cuts you hear about over and over again? From one puff of this cigarette... a sniff of that cigarette... an inhale of one brand... an exhale of another?

No, you don't have to rely on tricks! You have your own "T-Zone" (your Throat and your Taste)—the best possible proving ground for a cigarette. And for the right answer—the sensible answer—smoke Camels, and only Camels, in your "T-Zone" for 30 days. Once you've tested Camel's choice tobacco as a steady smoke—pack after pack—you'll discover how mild and good-tasting a cigarette can be!

Cross Section, U. S. A.

MEL PARNELL, star hurdler of the Boston Red Sox, says: "I made my own 30-day test of Camel mildness, and I sure enjoyed it! Mildest cigarette I ever smoked! They agree with my throat."

RUTH SHAFER uses her voice plenty as an airport control-tower operator. "In my job, it's a must that I be in good voice," she will tell you. "And... Camel's my cigarette!"

MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS than any other cigarette

A nationwide survey of doctors in every State of the forty-eight revealed that more doctors smoke Camels than any other brand.

Doctors in every branch of medicine were queried. "What cigarette do you smoke, Doctor?" was the question asked of 113,597 doctors. And the brand named most was Camel!

MRS. JANE CHRISTMAS says, "Serving Camels is the mark of a thoughtful hostess. I've tried and tested many brands. There's nothing quite like Camels for taste and mildness."
