By Joyce English
Statesman Society Editor

Summer brides-elect are sharing in much of the entertaining these days with pre-nuptial showers, luncheons and dinners planned in their honor.

Thursday night is the bridge party for which Mrs. Wallace Carson, her sister, Mrs. Daniel J. McCallan, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Allan Carson, will be hostesses at the former's home on Leslie street in compliment to Miss Jane Carson, bride-elect of James Brice Shaw of Aberdeen, Wash. A group of Miss Carson's young friends have been hidden to the affair.

To Honor Miss Small
Mrs. John Carson and her daughter, Jane, and Mrs. F. W. Poorman will entertain with a pre-nuptial party Friday night at the former's South Commercial street home in honor of Miss Suzanne Small, who will be married to Newbury Close on September 1.

A group of mothers and daughters have been invited to the 8 o'clock party. A miscellaneous shower will fetter the bride-to-be and a late supper will be served by the hostesses.

Nuptials Read At St. Luke's On Saturday

St. Luke's Catholic church in Woodburn was the scene of the marriage of Miss Mary Alice Glatt, daughter of Adolph George Glatt of Woodburn, and Virgil Luis Cavagnaro of Portland, son of Mrs. Ida Cavagnaro of Portland, on Saturday afternoon, July 1 at 3 o'clock with the Rev. V. L. Mofenbeier officiating. Bernard Smith was the soloist and Mrs. Marie Donnelly the organist.

Mr. Glatt gave his daughter in marriage and she wore a white organdy gown embellished with lace insertion and a full train. Her fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a beaded headress and she carried a white prayer book marked with a white orchid.

Miss Janice Glatt was her sister's honor maid and wore a white organdy frock over yellow. Bridesmaids were Miss Audrey Dunston of Portland and Miss Carolyn Coleman of Corvallis, whose white organdy dresses were worn over aqua. They all wore white picture hats and carried nosegays of roses and gardenias.

David A. McNaught of Portland was best man and ushers were Jay Glatt, William Gray, Ray Tappier and Goodwin Hayes.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a garden reception. Mrs. Ray Miller and Miss Sara Lee Ferguson cut the cake and Mrs. Gale Buchheit of Mt. Angel presided at the punch bowl. Assisting were Miss Mayanna Miller, Miss Nancy Dimmer of Tacoma, Mrs. John Dimmer of Tacoma, Mrs. Lee Withers and Mrs. Henry Miller.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories and a corsage of white orchids. Following a trip to Canada, the mid-west and San Francisco, the couple will be at home at 2250 N.E. Flanders, Portland.

You Need Care in Decorating Small Home or Apt., Originality Appears

By Sue Gardner

How to get the most out of the space in a small apartment is a problem that taxes the ingenuity of any family, but often the solving of the problem brings out the home-makers' originality. With the current housing shortage many young couples have had to do with tiny apartments, and the three-room home is almost a luxury.

A young couple I know have managed to obtain an amazing feeling of spaciousness in a small two and a half room apartment. The wife is an artist and ceramicist and has a built-in potter's wheel in a cabinet in her kitchen. The husband, who does a good deal of his work at home, decided his filing cabinets and large desk attracted too much attention in the foyer and has taken an ordinary green porch shade, turned it on its side and made a most attractive roll-back screen to hide all the business materials.

The living room in this apartment is not large and after the couple brought in a fairly large sized sofa and a comfortable arm chair, they decided they had little room for accessories. Since they both have favorite phonograph albums, they had a loud-speaker concealed in an attractive window seat and have the radio-phonograph mechanism in the bedroom. A good sized cocktail table can be raised to dining room height and with two small commodes, the room was complete, yet not overburdened.

Another couple solved the problem of large and heavy reference books by designing a bookcase with shelves of heavy limed oak and sides of glass brick bought from a local lumber yard.

Couple to Live In Salem

A bride of Sunday, June 25 was Miss Janet Ruth Zollinger, whose wedding to William Coyne Edwards was solemnized by Dr. William G. Eliot in the chapel of Reed college, Portland. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Zollinger, Portland, and Mr. Edwards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards of Albany.

Mr. Zollinger gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white marquisette and lace dress with finger-tip veil and carried a nosegay of white orchids.

Miss Betty Zollinger, maid of honor for her sister, and the two bridesmaids, Miss Prudence Edwards and Miss Betty Olson, all wore similar marquisette frocks, Miss Zollinger in yellow, the others in green. They all carried bouquets of Esther Reed daisies. Susan Edwards, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Clarence W. Edwards of Albany was best man for his brother and ushers were Thomas Edwards, Jack Hazelett, Howard Dewey and Miles Edwards.

After a reception at the Zollinger home the newlyweds left for a honeymoon at Yellowstone national park. On their return they will live in Salem.
