HOW TO MANAGE

This new sectional sofa arrangement seats six or seven people, and the effect is smooth, luxurious and uncrowded. Separate sofas and chairs, to seat as many in the same space, would huddle uncomfortably close together and clutter the room. Your room plan may call for a different fitting together of different pieces, but there are so many of them that almost any arrangement can be made with the same good result of more seating space in minimum floor space, and an easy, smooth look for the room. They can prove that a small room isn't the disadvantage you think it is if you learn to plan it well, they can make use of corners and jogs where other furniture won't fit, and of course can answer many problems of room arrangement for television viewing. On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Is it proper to use a piece of bread as a "pusher" in order to take up items from the plate more easily on the fork?

A. No; this ill-mannered. It is permissible, however, to hold the knife in the left hand, holding the edge down, and use it as a barrier against which the fork may pick up the articles of food more easily.

Q. Are the invitations to a home wedding usually limited?

Yes; usually to relatives and very close friends. Announcements are sent in place of wedding invitations to acquaintances not invited to the wedding.

Q. When walking with a woman who is carrying an umbrella, should a man offer to hold it for her?

A. Yes.

VA Chieftain To Arrive in Salem Sept. 25

The administrator of the Veterans administration, Maj. Gen. Carl R. Gray, Jr., is scheduled for appearances in Salem September 25, the Salem Memorial Auditorium association announced Monday.

General Gray's visit has been arranged by Lt. Col. Mark Hillary, retired army officer who is executive for the auditorium group. Colonel Hillary saw the general in Washington recently and learned that he was coming to Spokane in late September.

Plans are being made for conferences among state and veteran officials and General Gray, for informal entertaining of the distinguished visitor and one or two speaking engagements, including one with the advisory council of the auditorium association.

Detroit — Mrs. L. C. Davis of Detroit and her guest, Mrs. Gladys Carey of Tacoma, Wash., were slightly injured in an auto accident here Monday between Gates and Mill City. The car, which Mrs. Carey was driving, struck loose gravel and turned over. Neither woman was hospitalized.
