Editor Has Tidbits of News to Tell

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Woman's Editor

Telephoning for society news, we find in our inexperienced, brings forth many little bits of information not ordinarily to be read in the social columns. For instance, there's the fact that Mrs. Clifton Irwin has lovely pink delphiniums—in fact, Mrs. Irwin has lots of lovely and unusual flowers. This information came from Mrs. William Poorman, who helped set out two flats of the delphinium seedlings on Wednesday, and was sorely tempted to remain in bed all day Thursday.

(Veva Poorman, by the way, found that she definitely is not twins, when she traded Mrs. Irwin some garden work for a Toni.)

The Bride Was Surprised

We have often wondered if a surprise shower for a bride is really a surprise, and while conversing with one young bride-elect, Shirley Clark, who works down stairs in the circulation department, we find that they sometimes are, "sorta."

On Wednesday, Shirley went over to the home of the J. Edgar Reays to help Marilyn Reay with her bridesmaid's dress. She found that Marilyn and Virginia Beal were to be hostesses at a shower, and that these close friends hadn't forgotten her.

She and her fiancé Fred Sproule had planned on spending the evening househunting.

Attending the shower were: Mrs. Joseph Daniels, Mrs. Gilbert Bannister, Mrs. F. E. Clark, Mrs. James Beall, Mrs. Edgar Reay, Mrs. Robert Mentzer, and the Misses Joanne Clark, Clara Maxwell, Joan Majek, Lavelle du Buy, Patricia Bramble, Una Mae Grayless, Thais Crandall, Margaret Acton, Marlene DeWitt, Virginia Currier, Barbara Owens, Marilyn Linser, Alice Louise Ohling, and Virginia Beal and Marilyn Reay.

Then on Thursday night Shirley was again surprised (or was she?) with a party given by Mrs. Maurice Buchanan across the street, who invited a group in for a "clothesline" shower. Many of those appearing for the party were neighbors: Mrs. Arnold Coffel, Mrs. J. A. Hardie, Mrs. George Kan, Mrs. Dana Church, Mrs. Lloyd Hoxie, Mrs. Minnie Van Slyke, Mrs. Robert Vanslyke, Mrs. Paul Nieswander, Miss Shirley Nieswander, Mrs. George Wilson, Miss Eunice Harvey, Miss Lila Clark, Mrs. William Palmer, Mrs. Harold Douris, Mrs. Warren Lindsey, Mrs. Fred Bynon sr., Mrs. Floyd Hamman, Mrs. V. Vincent, Newberg, Mrs. Herbert Colman, Woodburn, Mrs. I. Waldespiel, Mrs. O. S. Adams, Mrs. Del Donnelly, Mrs. Jack Frisbie, Miss Carol Hardie, Miss Jozann Clark, and Mrs. Frances Clark.

Headliners

Vacationing continued to be top news. Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Minier had a long weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stevenson just above Vida on the McKenzie river. Their weekend extended from Friday until Tuesday.

Three sisters have just been together. Mrs. Wilmer Page visited at Bellevue, across Lake Washington from Seattle, with her sister, Mrs. T. B. Stover, and her other sister, Mrs. Ray Crowley of St. James, Minn. The two returned to Salem with Mrs. Page. Mrs. Stover has gone home, but Mrs. Crowley will remain here for an indefinite stay.

Will Attend Dance Conclave

Leaving today to attend the National Convention of Dancing Artists are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armstrong, Mrs. Elbert Neal and her twin sons, Jerry and Gary.

The Neal twins will appear as guest artists at the convention, and are scheduled for two television performances. They will go to Long Beach and appear at the Lakewood Country club. Enroute home the Neals will visit the boys' uncle in Bakersfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will remain in Hollywood to study new dance routines.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kafoury and their sons, Ivan, Stephen and Gregory of Portland, will be weekend guests at the Frank Shafer home. Mrs. Shafer and Mr. Kafoury are sister and brother.
