Returns from School Budget Votes Received

Returns trickled in from more Marion county rural school budget elections Monday, including the first two districts, where budgets were defeated.

They were St. Louis and Eldridge, both north of Salem. The margin of defeat was not told. Both will vote on budgets again soon.

Roberts reported approval of its budgets by a 17-3 margin.

From Keizer district came word that its school budget had been approved by a 19-18 tally. School directors there reported its passage immediately following the Friday night election, but refused to disclose the size of the vote.

It was in sharp contrast with two earlier votes this year when Keizer supported a countywide rural budget by 641 to 21 and by 908 to 16.

County School Superintendent Agnes Booth, however, speculated that directors were apprehensive about the outcome because it was close, rather than because it was small.

Districts voted on individual school budgets in Friday's elections which were necessitated after countywide budgets were twice defeated.

WORKER INJURED

HAYWARD — To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hayward, 1349 Center st., a son, Monday, August 7 at Salem Memorial hospital.

Salem Painters to Decorate Fence for Community Chest
The fence painters will be shooting for a new record this Friday when they go to work with paint and brush in a campaign prelude for the 1950 Community Chest fund drive.

Members of the Salem Painters union plus city notables including Mayor R. L. Elstrom will apply the paint to the fence which surrounds the under-construction state highway commission building in the capitol area. Paint and labor are being contributed.

Two years ago the brush wielders applied paint and signs appropriate to the Community Chest campaign of the fence surrounding the new state office building which was then under construction. It took the painters just 22 minutes to complete the job.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to thank our many friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and words of comfort and especially for the beautiful flowers during our recent bereavement in the loss of our husband and father.

Bridges Loses New Round in Freedom Try

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7-(AP)—Harry Bridges lost another round today in his attempt to stay out of jail pending appeal of his perjury conviction.

Federal District Judge Dal M. Lemmon turned down a habeas corpus writ in which the CIO longshore leader argued he is being held in violation of his constitutional liberties. The court made no comment.

The U. S. circuit court of appeals will consider tomorrow morning a Bridges' appeal for bail. This petition also was based on the contention that denial of bail violates Bridges' constitutional rights.

The petition argued that Bridges should be freed since the government has made no claim that he is a bad risk nor denied that there is grounds for appeal.

Federal District Judge George Harris revoked Bridges' $25,000 bail Saturday. He declared the longshore president is a security risk whose "loyalty and allegiance are and must be with the communists."

Bridges is attempting to remain at liberty pending appeal of his conviction of lying when he told a 1945 citizenship hearing he had never been a communist.

The appeal before Judge Lemmon today was ostensibly to exhaust all remedies in the lower courts before Bridges' appeal to the circuit court is heard tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Bridges was reported living the same life and eating the same food as other prisoners in federal prison here. Deputies said he asked no special favors.

HONOLULU, Aug. 7-(AP)—Work stopped on at least ten sugar plantations on the island of Hawaii and the big Hawaiian Pineapple company plantation on Lanai island today when members of Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union walked off the jobs.

Some CIO union men described the work stoppage as a protest against the jailing of Bridges in San Francisco last weekend.

ILWU Regional Director Jack Hall applauded the temporary "illegal" jailing of Bridges. He denied that the work interruption was a violation of contract with sugar and pineapple companies.

The walkouts began simultaneously at 9 a. m. (Hawaiian time). The Hawaii Sugar Planters association said 4,000 workers left their jobs and 520 remained at the ten plantations on Hawaii.

CONTROL BOARD MEET DELAYED
This week's meeting of the state board of control, originally slated for Tuesday, has been postponed until August 15 because of the absence of Gov. Douglas McKay who is spending the week at his summer home at Neskonk.

Board of Control Secretary Roy Mills said bids for the tuberculosis ward at the Oregon State Hospital here probably would be considered by the board within two weeks. This structure was estimated to cost $650,000, exclusive of furnishings.

Also scheduled for early consideration are bids for construction of a new administration building at the state hospital to cost approximately $65,000.

Veterans Department Advisers to Meet
The advisory committee of the state veterans department has been called to meet in Portland Friday.

Considerable discussion will center on problems involving the calling of veterans department employees into practice as a result of the Korean situation. It was announced that 17 of the 38 men employees of the department are members of the Oregon national guard or the reserves.

Idaho Double Senate Vote Slated Today
By The Associated Press
A doubleheader senatorial primary in Idaho, involving the seats of Democrat Glen Taylor and Republican Henry Dworshak, was a feature political attraction today.

Arkansas democrats hold a second primary in which Senator J. William Fulbright and six incumbent house members were unopposed.

Nebraska selects nominees for governor and four seats in the house, after a quiet campaign. The Cornhusker state does not elect a senator this year.

Taylor, a one-time tent-show performer serving his first term in the senate, has declared himself back in the democratic party after an unsuccessful race for vice president on the progressive party ticket in 1948.

Opposing him for the democratic nomination for the six-year term are Rep. Compton L. White and former Senator D. Worth Clark. Clark accused Taylor of associating with communist front organizations. Since his fling with Henry Wallace's progressives, Taylor has stuck to the democratic line on most votes and has supported the republican nomination for and domestic policies in large part.

Chance at Taylor
Three republicans want a chance at Taylor's seat: Governor C. A. Robins, Rep. John Sanborn and State Senator Herman Welker.

Dworshak, a former senator and house member, was appointed to his present senate seat by Governor Robins upon the death of Democratic Senator Bert H. Miller. Former Rep. Abe McGregor Goff and Fentress H. Kuhn, a Boise businessman, are his rivals for the republican nomination for the remaining four years of Miller's elected term.

Five democrats are contesting for the four-year seat: F. M. Bistline of Pocatello, former democratic national committeeman; Claude J. Burtenshaw, Ricks college professor; Edwin M. Holden, chief justice of the state supreme court; Robert L. Summerfield, Twin Falls businessman and Mrs. Levera Swope, Boise businesswoman.

Idaho also selects nominees today for the governorship and its two house seats.

In Nebraska, Governor Val Peterson, a republican, is trying for a third term nomination. He is opposed by Ernest Adams of Omaha. The contest for the democratic gubernatorial nomination has attracted five candidates.

Open Switch Derails Train Near Astoria

ASTORIA, Aug. 7-(AP)—An open switch derailed eight cars and the diesel locomotive at Spokane, Portland and Seattle freight train at Bradwood, 23 miles east of here early today.

The engineer was slightly injured, and 44,000 gallons of gasoline from tank cars made an inflammable lake that created a dangerous situation. A lumber company warehouse partially demolished by the wreck was saturated. Rail officials refused to permit the use of photographers' flash bulbs in the area.

C. E. Barnes of Vancouver, Wash., master mechanic for the railroad, said the switch was open, but who opened it was not known. Rail officials discounted sabotage since the train did not carry material connected with the war effort.

Engineer Bert J. Callahan, 57, of Portland, had only minor injuries.

The Portland-Astoria passenger train was halted at Westport, and passengers and mail were transferred to buses and trucks for relay to Astoria.

The rails were expected to be open to traffic about 4 a. m. Tuesday.

The hurtling cars broke a water main, and much of the area inundated by gasoline was flooded, lessening the danger of fire.

Many of the adobe dwellings in the Indian pueblos of New Mexico have walls up to two feet thick, providing insulation against both heat and cold.

Air Weather Service Has Openings Left

There are a few openings for young men to become observers and forecasters in the Air Weather service while training on week-ends in their spare time at the Portland air force base, it was announced in Salem. Qualified persons may join the U. S. air force reserve and train one weekend each month to receive four days' base pay.

Men between 17 and 35 who are qualified observers and forecasters or have completed at least two years study in high school mathematics or science are eligible.

Former servicemen may be enlisted in the grade held prior to separation. Technical aptitude is essential.

Further information may be obtained at the base weather station, Portland air force base, or from Lt. Carl F. Jensen, USAFR, 1560 Market st., Salem.

Services for R. A. Snyder Set Thursday

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in the Clough-Barrick chapel for Ralph Albert Snyder, late resident of Dallas, who died Saturday at a Salem hospital. He was 60 years old.

Snyder spent most of his life working for railroads throughout the United States and contributed many articles and stories to railroad magazines during his career. For a time he was in the real estate business in Florida.

Born at Mill Hall, Pa., July 20, 1890, Snyder spent his early life in that area. He was married to Blanche I. Snyder at Lockhaven, Pa., August 25, 1908. As a telegraph operator for the railroad he was employed in Florida, California and Arizona before coming to Oregon three years ago.

He suffered a heart attack eight years ago and had been in ill health since that time.

Surviving besides the widow are three daughters, Mrs. Helen Stephens Salinas, Calif., Mrs. Evelyn M. Hewitt, Salem, and Mrs. Dorothy Hamre, Albany; sons, Paul A. and Basil E. Snyder, both of Salinas, and Ralph B. Snyder, Nampa, Calif.; and eight grandchildren.

Tungate Faces Theft Charge

Richard Tungate, 1785 S. 13th st., was being held in the Marion county jail in lieu of $2,000 bail Monday night following his arrest by sheriff's deputies on a charge of larceny of a car.

He was arrested after a deputy on highway patrol Saturday night reported he recognized the driver of a stolen car to which he gave chase as Tungate. The deputy was unable to halt the stolen car.

Tungate is scheduled to appear in district court Wednesday for hearing.

The automobile, a 1936 Ford, was registered to William R. Allen, 2360 Broadway st.

Salem Police Radio Operator Called to Duty

Return of Herman Doney to active duty with the marines has necessitated two changes in the radio department of the Salem police force, it was announced Monday.

Night Operator Julius Pincus has been moved to Doney's post on the radio room's day staff and Patrolman Edwin G. Burke is the new night operator. Burke had been drawing relief shifts on the radio staff for the past several weeks.

State Veterans Loans Show Drop

Loans processed by the state veterans affairs department during July aggregated $615,250 as against $1,005,950 in June. There were 138 loans processed during July.

The July decrease, compared with the June figures, was due to catching up in the backlog of applications, department officials said.

Gunman Flees In Face of Mop
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7-(AP)—A middle-aged woman with spunk and a mop put a holdup man to flight here today.

Mrs. Stella McDowell, manager of dry cleaning shop, told police a man entered the shop, pulled a gun and said, "this is a holdup."

Mrs. McDowell gave him $5 but balked when he ordered her into a back room. She seized a mop and knocked the gun out of his hand.

The man retrieved the gun, scooped $25 out of a drawer, but fled before a renewed mopping up action.
