Polk County Fair Will Open Gates Thursday at Monmouth

MONMOUTH—The 31st Polk county fair will start here Thursday and plans are shaping up for three big days and nights of entertainment. Entrance is free to everyone at all times.

An exceptionally fine 4-H club exhibit is in the offing, according to Stanley Fancher, who heads the 4-H livestock and crop clubs, and Elsie Marco, home economics head.

Night programs, which were considered a success last year, will be repeated. Thursday night's entertainment will be provided by the county 4-H clubs. Friday night's show will be presented by the Farm Bureau.

The Boy Scouts of Polk county will furnish a program Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night all three groups will furnish talent for the final program.

All county 4-H leaders will assist with entries and arrangements of 4-H home economics and agricultural exhibits, contests and demonstrations.
