Dates Set by Brides Elect In September

Two young Salem women, who announced their engagements within recent months, have set their wedding days.

Miss Nancy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, will marry James Tallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Siehl of Oceanlake on Thursday, September 7.

The couple will exchange vows at the Court Street Christian church at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Harold Lyman will officiate. The reception will be held in the bungalow adjoining the church.

Attending the bride as matron of honor will be Mrs. Alwyn Warrick, her sister. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Jarvie Miller, Miss Gladys Loewen, both of Salem, and Miss Bonnie Flickinger of Monmouth. Lavern Fetisoff is to be best man and groomsmen will be Don Goertzen, Jarvie Miller and Willie Heinrichs. Ushers will be Bob Funk, John Wood, Robert Unger and Donald Ullman.

Reimann-Ross Date
Saturday, September 9 has been chosen by Miss Cheri Ross as the day for her wedding to Richard L. Reimann. Miss Ross is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stearns Cushing, jr., and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reimann.

The wedding will take place at the Leslie Methodist church and will be performed by Dr. Robert Gatke at 7:30 in the evening. A reception will follow in the church parlors.

The young people who announced their engagement early in the summer, will complete their schooling at Willamette university this fall.

Those attending the outdoor affair were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denham of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Beutler, Mr. and Mrs. James Darby, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rosner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Colgan, Hubbard, Dr. and Mrs. John Ramage, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Post, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Post and the host and hostess.

Designing Woman

SOLID VS. VENEER

Do you know how to compare furniture that is made of solid wood with furniture that is veneered? There are many mistaken, and unfair, notions about both kinds — that a good piece of furniture must be solid, that all antiques are solid, that veneers are shoddy. Actually, both good and bad, — expensive and inexpensive — old and new — furniture is made both ways. Furniture of solid wood may be better than veneered pieces because no inferior woods are hidden by plain thin layers of better woods. On the other hand, skillful veneering is an expensive operation which only a fairly costly piece of furniture can include. Here are two mahogany chests, one, at right, made of the solid wood and the other faced with a beautifully matched crotch veneer. The difference between them is not in their quality or age, but in their appearance. Your choice is a matter of taste. Solid wood makes most of the more conservative pieces of furniture, the smaller pieces, the carved pieces. Veneer appears where the size, shape and style of the furniture permits the application of thin sheets of wood which are cut to show the beautiful pattern and variety of the wood grain.

Regular Meeting Of Auxiliary Held

SILVERTON — Mrs. Leslie Moen, secretary of Delbert Reeves Legion auxiliary, was honored, Monday night at the unit meeting, for her outstanding work in membership during the past year. From the national commander, George N. Craig, she received a recognition pin, and from department headquarters, she received from Samuel M. Bove, commander, an autographed pencil.

Mrs. Wesley Grogan, recently installed president of the Silverton unit, was in charge of the meeting. Final arrangements were discussed for the department convention at Grants Pass, September 6 to 8, to which the local unit is entitled to five delegates.

Mrs. George Towe, rummage chairman, discussed the sale at Legion hall, September 16. On the same date Mrs. A. J. McCannel will supervise a cooked food sale at a downtown store.

Members of the unit will join the post at the Monday, September 11, meeting in a program honoring junior past commander of the post, Wesley Grogan, who has received his final call back into service.

Special Work Taken by YW Staff Member

Miss Norma Wallace, YWCA Teen-age program director, returned to Salem this week from the YWCA training school and a vacation in New York state.

The YWCA school is held each summer at Francis Shimer college in Mount Carroll, Ill., to give staff workers a better understanding of the YWCA program, purpose and administration. New preview of program ideas and techniques are made available to the students. This is possible since the faculty is composed of key national YWCA leaders who are in touch with developments from other agencies and research experiments throughout the country.

Miss Wallace feels that this year's Salem Teen age program, a Community Chest sponsored group, will be much improved due to her experience in the east and the fact that several of the high school girls have attended leadership training courses this summer.

Luncheon to Be Given

Mrs. Gene Vandeneysde will be hostess this noon at a luncheon in the Marion hotel dining room, for Miss Diane Reed, daughter of Ted E. Reed, who leaves soon to attend St. Helens hall.

Those invited are Miss Edna Marie Hill, Miss Patsy Filler, Miss Marjorie Dunnigan, Miss Mary Campbell, Miss Donna Johnson, Miss Marcia Seeber, Miss Beverly Benner, Miss Sonya Nohlgren, Mrs. Ted E. Reed and Mrs. Vandeneysde.

Bridge Champions To Play Here

Plans of the Salem Elks Bridge club for its second annual sectional championships October 28-29 were announced by the committee chairman, W. E. Kinsey and Walter M. Cline, at the weekly duplicate tournament Monday night.

Bridge experts from over the northwest are expected to compete for trophies and honors in men's and women's pair, open pair and mixed pair championships, and four single session events also will be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings. Last year about 150 players attended, but this figure is expected to be exceeded this fall.

This week's winners were William F. Leary and Mrs. W. L. Frasier of Albany and Mrs. Ellen Gabriel and Mrs. Jose Moritz of Corvallis. Others near the top in the 11-table session included Mrs. Harry J. Wiedmer and Mrs. G. B. Benson; Mrs. Dewey Howell and Leonard Kremen; Mrs. Milton D. Parker and Howard Pickett; Mrs. Mabel L. Cannon of Carmel, Cal., and Ellis H. Jones.

Next week's tournament will be held Tuesday because of the Labor Day holiday.

Costume Prizes Given Golfers

Guests at the Salem Women's golf club dress-up day Wednesday were Mrs. Douglas Drager, Miss Sharon Hamilton and Miss Susan Olinger. Judges for costumes were Mrs. Donald Young, Mrs. Arthur Rahn and Mrs. Prince Byrd.

Prizes went to Mrs. Ralph Hamilton for funniest; Mrs. Stuart Thede for funniest; Mrs. Harold Olinger for ugliest; Mrs. Homer Goulet, jr., for most original; Mrs. John Johnson for most clever; Mrs. Edward Roth, most artistic. Mrs. Elmore Hill, Mrs. K. H. Arnot, Mrs. John Helzel and Mrs. Werner Brown were awarded honorable mention.

Riverside club of Portland has been invited for September 19. The Johnson prize last week went to Mrs. Fred Bernardi.

New Clothes Hampers Conveniently Styled for Home, All Streamlined

By Spe Gardner
Clothes hampers have been due for restyling and redesigning for some time. You would think that an article as necessary as this would have been streamlined long ago, but only recently have manufacturers concentrated less on gay designs and more on useful changes in making hampers.

One of the most convenient of the new styles on the market is a roll-away hamper that looks like the traditional upright model. However, instead of the short legs in the rear it has two smooth operating ball-bearing wheels. Hidden behind the hamper is a handle bar which is out of sight when up against the wall. The bar snaps up and the hamper becomes a cart for easy transportation of laundry from bathroom to washing machine or laundrette.

For small bathrooms that provide no wall space, there is a small round hamper that fits under the bathroom sink. It can also be placed in a corner and doubles for a bathroom stool.

A third new style is a hassock chest type which can be used as easily in the bedroom as in the bathroom. It looks like a hassock and will fit into a vanity set, doubling for a bench. You can also use it in a child's room as a toy chest or convert it into a sewing case or record or magazine rack.

A number of the smaller hampers have been designed for attaching to walls or doors and unload from the bottom, so that, if you have large closets, you can provide each member of the family with an individual hamper. New features in this season's hampers include roomier interiors, devoid of boards and posts, and a wide color range.

To Be Feted On Friday

Miss Charlotte Post, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Post, has invited a group of friends of Miss Irene Johnson to attend a bridal shower for her on Friday evening. Miss Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson, will marry Jack W. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, on September 10.

Invited are Mrs. L. V. Carrow, Miss Marjorie Scandling, Miss Patricia Powell, Miss Patricia Long, Miss Patricia Hale, Mrs. Phillip Blankenship, Mrs. Richard Plank, Miss Marcellene Hutchinson, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Charles H. Johnson, jr., and Mrs. Elmer Kleinke and Miss Smith.

Shower Given

Miss Evelyn Forman, bride-elect of Don Hollis Berrynill, was honored by Mrs. Cecil Johnson Tuesday night with a shower at her home.

Feting the bride-to-be were Miss Shirley Hill, Miss Julia Warrington, Miss Carolyn Miller, Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Mrs. Henry Heyden, Mrs. Leland Svarverud, jr., Mrs. William Walters, Mrs. Peter DeMarco, Mrs. Wallace Gutzler, Mrs. Beatrice Keenen, Miss Frances Di-tona and the hostess.

Home Wedding Held

GRAND RONDE — The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rose at Bueil was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Norma Gaye, to Donald Wayne Trowbridge, jr., on August 18. The Rev. Everett Gardner of the Sheridan Methodist church performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Trowbridge attended the couple. Mrs. Trowbridge is a student at the Sheridan high school, where she has been attending for three years. He is employed as a logger near Grand Ronde, and is a graduate of the Scio high school.

Marriage Vows Read in Church

WILLAMINA — Marriage vows were read August 12 at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Sheridan, between Miss Eleanor Katherine Schulz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schulz of Willamina, and Jack C. Woodall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Woodall of Sheridan. Father John Babyak officiated.

The bride wore white satin and carried a white prayer book and white orchid.

Attendants were her sister, Miss Ann Schulz of Molokini, Miss Lillian Schulz of Portland, a sister, and Miss Bonnie Johnson, Sheridan, sister of the bridegroom. Melvin Woodall of Portland was his brother's best man, and William Woodall, Sheridan, Richard Schmidt, Yamhill, and Anton Schulz, Portland, were ushers.

A wedding reception and a dinner were included in the festivities. They are now living in Sheridan.
