Selling Forces Hit Radio-TV, Auto Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Automobile and radio-television issues were singled out by selling forces in a generally lower market today.

Pressure against these groups was evidently a sequel to weekend news of the revival of consumer credit curbs. The new rules provide for larger down payments and a shorter period to pay balances on installment purchases, which presumably could affect car and TV sales.

Losses generally ranged to around $2 a share but most were under $1.

Auto shares were in the minus column through the day. TV stocks though, kept their balance until late in the day when the entire market was roughed up.

The afternoon selling was done with before it got well started and closing prices were above the lows of the day in most cases. Earlier demand for rail stocks helped to bolster the balance of the market and some carriers managed to finish in the plus column.

Two flurries of activity, one of the opening and other in late trading, helped to boost sales. Turnover of 1,960,000 shares compared with 1,960,000 Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 3 of one point to 79.2. The industrial group was almost entirely responsible for the setback. Rails were unchanged and utilities up a trifle on average.
