Stop Weimann Stock Feature

Putting an end to the all-vic-torious streak compiled by Burly Bill Weimann on the local track will be the No. 1 item for the stock car racing drivers next Sun-day at Hollywood bowl. Weimann has won the Class A main events In both previous stock car programs here and his No. 31 Ford, a 1949 model, will again be high among the favorites Sunday.

The stock races are to be held Sunday afternoon, a switch from the usual Saturday night features. Time trials will start at 1:30 p.m.

There is a possibility that Her-shel McGriff, noted all over the land as a top stock car racer, will be here for the Sunday meet with his 1950 Oldsmobile "88", the swifty in which he and Ray Elliott won the Mexican cross-country classic last spring. If so, McGriff will be the man to watch in the battle for top payoff laurels. In the last stock race here McGriff well with it.

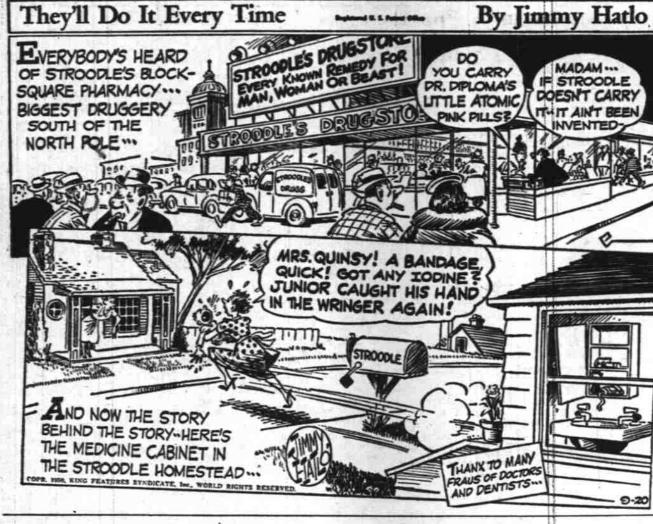

The complete driving lineup and the number of laps for the Sunday races will be announced later in the week, after Valley Sports of-ficials meet with the Northwest Stock Car Racing association

Walton Meet Set Tonight

The September meeting of the Salem Chapter, Izaak Walton League will be held tonight in the chapter's new clubhouse starting at eight o'clock. Presi-dent Rex Sanford has arranged to have Dr. H. J. Rayner, chief of operations of the division of fisheries in the state as the principal speaker.

Rayner will answer a number of questions the chapter has asked of the State Game commission in recent weeks.

A colored moving picture, with sound, of "Hunting in Alaska" is to be shown. Shooting of moose, caribou and bear is shown in the film. Other items of business are to be discussed during the meeting and Sanford urges a full turnout of the membership. One of the main items concerns the information obtained on the stocking of salmon in the Coastal

Other booths are those housing the public address system and the radio broadcasting room. Walls and ceiling of both booths are finished with sounding board.

Newspaper sportswriters will view the game in still another booth which, officials say, can accommodate as many as 12 Hometown Fans news-men. Walls and ceiling in this booth are in masonite pressed wood board; a wire shelf for typewriters and other paraphernalia extend the length of the room. Typewriters will be provided newsmen by the University.

The entire front of the box is completed in glass which slants outward so that action on the playing field can be seen with a minimum of effort. The 12 windows can be opened or closed. Still another press facility is the photographers platform located on top of the press box. (Now if someone will bring on the coffee and sandwiches -Sweetland Field was never like

Another Tough Filt for OCE

OREGON COLLEGE OF EDU-CATION, Monmouth, Sept. 19-(Special) - Their victory string shattered at nine in a row after last Saturday's expected loss to the Lewis & Clark Pioneers, the Oregon College of Education Wolves this week prepare for another football toughie, the Pacific U Badgers, defending Northwest conference champs and again a strong entry in that loop. The game is scheduled for the Pacific field in Forest Grove Saturday

Coach Bill McArthur of the will connect each along with Line Coach John Chamberlain will this week elaborate on sharpening up the OCE squad both offensively as well as defensively.

The Wolves' first home game is booked for September 30 when the Southern Oregon Red Raiders play here in a night game.

To Honor Lien

CANBY, Sept. 19-(R)-Baseball fans here plan to turn out to cheer for their home town product - Al Lien, pitcher for San Francisco -At Portland Friday night. The chamber of commerce has reserved a block of 300 seats. Lien's friends at Toledo also plan to join the fans from here. Lien pitched semi-pro ball at the coast area town before joining the Coast league. Lien is scheduled to pitch for the Seals against the Beavers that

Rumor Stops Sale

DALLAS, Sept. 19-(AP)-Owner Dick Burnett of the Dallas ball club said today he was withdrawing the offer to sell his holdings and would continue to operate the Texas league franchise.

He declared he had decided to do so because of "a malicious rumor" that minor league President George Trautman had suggested that he sell following an incident at the Dallas ball park for which Burnett was fined $500. Trautman denied he had made such a sugges-

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19-(P)- A relentless all-morning rain made

The genial Boston manager whose team has won 27 of its last 32 games to climb from fourth into second place in the swirling American league race, is looking forward to tomorrdw's doubleheader here with relish.

"The boys are pepped up," he said as he watched the raindrops pattering against the windows of the clubhouse. "They are convinced they"re going to win the flag. I agree with them.

"I would have liked to get today's game in," the flat-nosed former Cleveland mentor continued. "It is easier to win them one at a time. But we're hot right now and it doesn't matter whether we play one or two. "The boys have an added incentive. They are out to disprove the fallacy that they're a bad road

On the road the club took 25 of 40. O'Neill laughed off the suggestion that municipal stadium is a jinx park for the Redsox. Boston has won but four of 20 games here in two years. Southpaw Chuck Stobbs (11-6) and Veteran Joe Dobson (15-8) are slated to pitch for Boston tomorrow. They will be opposed by Bob Lemon (20-11) and Early Wynn (16-8). Both Boston hurlers have been rested for a week. Lemon, tied with New York's Vic Raschi as the top twirlers in the circuit, will be making his sixth at-tempt to notch his 21st triumph. In addition to throwing their two best pitchers against the Red Sox, the Indians will present their strongest lineup. "I'm playing no favorites," said Cleveland Pilot Lou Boudreau who got his major league start under O'Neill, "We'll play the Red Sox the same way we played the Yan-kees and the way we'll play the Tigers later on.

Rollin' Along

(Con't. from Prec. Page) young hitter, thinks Portland skipper Bill Sweeney.—and Bill will have a lot of people agreeing with him on that point. . . . Sweeney thinks high school mentors and others too often have the habit of following the book so closely that they carry it to a fault. Bill feels that comfort is the important thing in a batting stance, even though the stance be called unorthodox. . . . Incidentally, it now appears that Sweeney will again be around next year as pilot of the Portlands. That despite "positive" word from the east that Joe Gordon would leave the Clevelands to take the Beaver job. No matter what the developments, there is little likelihood that "Flash" will be with the Tribe in "51. . . . Meagre Fare for Idaho

It is indeed going to be ironic if, as Coach Dixie Howell says, the Idaho Vandals field in the coming campaign one of their best teams in years. For the Vanbest teams in years. For the Vandals' chances to display their wares in Coast conference action this season will be few and far between. Idaho meets only Oregon, Oregon State and WSC. The Cal schools have cut 'em entirely. The movement to muscle the Vandals out of the PCC has been a gradual one—though not an entirely subtle one. Be far better for the relatively small Moscow school when it pulls out and en-ters another fold. . . . Poor Mr. Boubreau

Most embarrassed guy in the majors hands down is Cleve-land's Lou Boudreau. Confident Lou had hardly stated that his Indians would win the American league pennant when the lowly St. Louis Browns knocked over the Tribe in four straight games to crush those pennant hopes.
... Fact is, Lou has done a bangup job of sticking his foot in his mouth. Prior to the disastrous Brownie series he made a beau-tiful verbal boot when he said: "Our key men are tired. We'll give 'em a rest in St. Louis." . . . My, my. . . Whitman Hopes Brighter

Whitman, which in recent years hasn't had an over-supply o fdeluxe football talent will boast one of the Northwest Conference's top backs this season in the person of John Baxter. Baxter is rated near the Woodley Lewis class in his punt-return ability. . . . The Whits, low in grid fortunes for the past decade, think this just might be the year when they can gain a bit of revenge. Mentor Archie Kodros has 29 returning lettermen.
