Fire Destroys Tygh Valley Planer Shed

TYGH VALLEY, Sept. 19-(P)—The Tygh Valley Lumber company's planer shed was destroyed by fire today. Loss was estimated at $125,000.

Cause of the fire was not determined. More than 100 volunteers fought the flames, which broke out at 6:25 a.m. The planer and sorting equipment and the building were burned, but a new planer shed adjoining was saved.

M. J. Galbraith, head bookkeeper for the firm, who made the loss estimate, said a new planer had been purchased and would soon be set up in the new shed. There will be little layoff for the crews, he added.

Fire fighting equipment from the mill, from Tygh Valley and from Dufur aided the volunteer crews.

Hard of Hearing?

—Bzzzing in Ears?
—Ringing in Head?
—Muffled Sounds?
THEN THE CHANCES ARE THAT YOU HAVE CERUMEN

CERUMEN is the condition brought on by excessive excretion of wax in the ear canal. Cerumen can make you hard-of-hearing in two ways: by clogging the canal and keeping sound from ear drums; by coating the vibration-carrying eardrum lining. This deep-down wax, in addition to making you hard-of-hearing, can cause itching, ringing, and dizziness.

PROVE YOU AREN'T GOING DEAF!
Remove those hardened wax accumulations deep in your ear canal with OURLINE. The compound of soothing oils gently loosens wax and by use of a simple syringe flushes it out; also soothes and helps restore hearing. Use OURLINE once back in 3 days you aren't convinced you are not going deaf. Get OURLINE today.

'Brownouts' Unlikely for This Winter

PORTLAND, Sept. 19-(P)—Likelihood of a power "brownout" in the Pacific northwest this winter is remote, the Bonneville administration said today.

Paul A. Raver, administrator, said there had been some suggestion of a brownout to meet the needs of aluminum production. Before such steps were taken, Raver said civilian use of aluminum likely would be restricted.

With average stream flow to generators, plus the use of all steam plants, sufficient power should be available this winter to meet the needs of aluminum and other producers.

He added that it would be necessary for public and private utilities to speed power production

McNary Dam Halts Barging

PORTLAND, Sept. 19-(P)—Upper Columbia river barge traffic has been halted by the McNary dam, probably for three years.

Construction of cofferdams has made the river impassable at the dam, near Umatilla, Ore. When the dam is finished, navigation locks will permit resumption of this traffic.

Tugs and barges taken from this run are plying the lower river and the Pacific ocean. One company is barging logs from Bandon to Longview. The same company has an oil tank farm under construction at Crescent City, Calif., and will enter coastwise oil service as a common carrier.

through a cooperative program that has been developed.

Arizona Storm Toll Checked

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 19-(P)—Losses are still being counted today in the wake of a vicious wind, rain and hailstorm which struck Phoenix.

Estimates of damage from yesterday's wind and hurricane force were over the $1,000,000 mark. About one-fourth of that was at Sky Harbor municipal airport where light and medium planes were tossed into heaps of wreckage.

Twenty-two were destroyed. Another 22 may be repairable.

The one-hour storm was believed the worst in 22 years.

Five of the 21 persons injured remained hospitalized today. A bricklayer reported near death last night after a wall collapsed and pinned him, was improved. He apparently was the most seriously hurt.

Hailstones three inches in diameter were reported and Louis B. Jurwitz, weatherman here, confirmed the size.

Dry Weather Delays Seeding

PORTLAND, Sept. 19-(P)—Dry condition of top soil in most sections of the state has delayed seeding of crops in Oregon.

The department of agriculture reported in its weekly survey that wheat growers in eastern Oregon and small grain and grass seed producers in western counties have been waiting for more rainfall.

Potato harvest in central Oregon is being postponed until a killing frost. An unusual amount of new growth in the Klamath basin has delayed combine operations there.
