Stocks Back Away from 4-Year High

NEW YORK, Sept. 19—(P)—The stock market backed away from a four-year peak today, the first decline in the last six sessions.

A slow rally took shape in the afternoon but it could not work up enough steam to fully recover earlier losses. Final prices, through, were above the lows for the day in most cases.

Changes either way were limited mostly to 50 cents a share or less. Losses outnumbered gains by a comfortable margin.

Today's setback broke a winning streak that had carried the market to its best level since May 1946 and just under a 19-year peak.

Neither buyers or sellers were in any rush to do business and trading dropped to the lowest mark in nearly two weeks. Sales of 1,590,000 compared with 2,040,000 Monday.

Volume topped the 2,000,000-share point in the preceding four trading days.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 3 of one point to 81.6. Utilities were unchanged on average but the industrial and rail divisions showed moderate losses.

A total of 1,175 individual issues changed hands, of which 554 declined and 326 advanced.

New highs for 1950 or longer were established by around 35 stocks while only two touched bottom for the year. Four of the fifteen most active issues emerged with losses.

ANSWER: Yes, protection of that kind is afforded by what we call a "Fur Floater" which covers many kinds of damage to a fur coat.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.
