By Roberta Lee

Q. Do you consider it good manners for one to keep opening and closing his mouth while chewing his food?

A. No. It is most certainly is not difficult to keep the lips closed while chewing food, provided the bites taken are of normal size. It reveals considerable ill-breeding when one persists in taking huge mouthfuls of food at a time.

Q. How soon after visit should a house guest write a "bread and butter" letter?

A. Immediately upon arriving home, the same day if possible. Under no circumstances should such a letter be delayed for a week or more.

Q. In what way should a divorced woman distinguish herself from the second Mrs. James Gray?

A. By prefixing her maiden name to her former husband's surname, as, "Mrs. Helen Smith Gray."
