

Cadets, Okies Face Threats

Irish Try Comeback Against Tulane Crew

(Continued from preceding page) Two battles between title contenders head the Big Ten schedule. Ohio State will match the great Vic Janowicz against Indiana's Lou D'Acchillo in an offensive battle. Iowa, on the rebound from its loss to Indiana, meets a dark-horse Wisconsin eleven at Iowa City.

Two ex-Army assistants, Stu Holcomb of Purdue and Andy Gustafson of Miami (Fla.), compare notes at Lafayette, Ind. Holcomb has the better notebook.

Three of the leading offensive men in the country meet at Nashville where Mississippi plays surprising Vanderbilt. Mississippi fullback John Dottley is the 1949 running champion while Vandy's Bill Wade leads the passers and End Bucky Curtis the pass catchers.

The others by sections: East—Princeton with Dick Kasmer is well-favored over hapless Navy. Columbia Quarterback Mitch Price is not considered a match for Yale's Ed Senay. Neither is a weak Colgate team expected to bother sophomore Chuck Maloy, ace Holy Cross passer. Penn State and Syracuse, bruised by Army and Cornell, get together in a tossup.

Midwest—Minnesota attempts to rebound from two upsets at Northwestern. Kansas' Charlie Hoag may spring away for another long touchdown run at Iowa State. William & Mary doesn't expect to do well against a chastened Michigan State. Two Sad Sacks, Missouri and Kansas State try for their first victory.

South—Maryland, conqueror of Michigan State, is favored at Georgetown. Mississippi State travels to underdog Georgia, Wake Forest to North Carolina, and Duke to North Carolina State. Mississippi State and Duke lost in upsets last week. Georgia Tech plays at Louisiana State Saturday night.

Southwest—Texas A & M is favored to rout V.M.L. Arkansas rates over Baylor, Texas Christian over Texas Tech and Tulsa over Villanova.

Berg Shatters Six-Year Jinx

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13 (AP)—Freckled Paty Berg shattered a six-year jinx today with a flinging one up decision over Betty Jameson in a 20-hole semifinal battle in the Women's Texas Open at River Crest Country club. Five times previously the Minnesota pro had bid for the crown, but could never clear the semifinals hurdle.

Defending Champion Beverly Hanson of India, Cal., shot steadily to defeat Betty Rawls of Austin 4-3. Miss Hanson carved out a two under card on the front side to grab a three hole margin, then ended the match with a birdie stroke on 15.

Hanson and Berg meet in the 36-hole championship battle tomorrow.

Kindfather Eyed By Chisox Club

SEATTLE, Oct. 13 (AP)—Earl Sheely, general manager of the Seattle Rainiers, said tonight a deal was in prospect with the Chicago White Sox for Vern Kindfather, rookie hurler who won 12 and lost 9 for the Coast league Rainiers this year.

An earlier report that the deal was completed was, Sheely said, "a bit premature." The arrangements are expected to be made at the December baseball meeting.

Blues Whip Golds, Gain Share Of Junior Lead; Greys Victors

The Leslie Blues, sparked by their touchdown twins — Floyd Trussell and Chuck Puhman, climbed into a top place tie in the Junior high grid chase Friday as they overwhelmed an injury-ridden Leslie Golds crew, 31-0. The win was the Blues' second in two tries and put them up at the head of the pack with the Parrish Cards who drew a bye.

The Parrish Greys broke into the win column at West Salem with a 14-6 victory over the West Salem Giants.

Trussell and Puhman romped with abandon through the Golds who had seven first-stringers on the sidelines with burns sustained in last week's unfortunate scrape with a painful brand of yardstrife line.

The Blues racked up a pair of touchdowns in the first quarter, added two more in the third quarter, one on a 75-yard kickoff return by Puhman, and finished with one in the fourth period.

Trussell got the first on a 10-yard romp and Puhman immediately added another six points with a 54-yard return of an intercepted pass. After Puhman had made his long return of the kickoff in the third quarter Trussell took a punt and raced 50 yards for another score. The Blues' last score came on a tremendous 50-yard pass which LaMone Mapes caught, then raced 20 yards to paydirt. The injury-plagued Golds got no real threats going. Puhman dropkicked the lone Blues' conversion tally.

West Salem took an early lead in its mix with the Greys when Howard Osborn raced over from 10 yards out. The Greys went ahead in the third period as Bud Holmquist punched over from five and Ron Renaud booted the extra point. The Greys final tallies came as Al Pearce intercepted a Giant pass and went 25 yards. Renaud again got the bonus point.

Cats, Hawaii Battle Today

(Continued from preceding page) looked steadily more impressive with each game. At the fledgling slot Rick Bingham, the fine frosh passer, will hold forth. Paul Jewell, the ex-Salem higher and Woodburn Bulldog, has the full-back position sewed down off his great offensive and defensive performances in the past few games. Al Mann and Bill Ewaliko, the Hawaiian speed boys, will be in at the halfback posts.

Keith Sperry, one of the 'Cats better running backs, will see little action because of an ankle sprain received in the Chico game.

Stackhouse will open with Joe Bonawitz and John Skimas at the flanks, Don Hosford and Art Beddoe will fill the tackle spots, Charlie Nee (another native Hawaiian) and Captain Chuck Bows will be at the guards and John Markoskie will do the mopping-back. Kaulikuku's starting forward wall will include Sophomores Dick Carpenter and Ellsworth Bush at the flanks; Ken Nakamura and Bill Bonner, 205 and 210 pounds respectively, at the tackles; Yoshiji Asami and Mansfield Dot on the guard post; and 220-pound Ed Ferreria, a freshman, in the center slot.

Both Stackhouse and Kaulikuku will be entirely happy if the field remains dry. A wet surface would handicap the speedy, aerial-flavored attacks of both teams.

Principal speakers at today's halftime dedication ceremony will be Governor Douglas McKay, Charles E. McCulloch of the Willamette board of trustees and main donor for the new stadium which is named after him, and Dr. G. Herbert Smith, Willamette university president.
