Morrow Back To Help Bevos

But Waldorf Power Appears Too Potent

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 20 —(AP) California's undefeated Bears go after their Coast conference win here tomorrow against a three-time football loser, Oregon State.

Lynn Waldorf's Bears will line up prohibitive 24 point favorites over Kip Taylor's OSC Beavers.

Oregon State, however, is expected to show to better advantage than in its last two games. Quarterback Gene Morrow laid up with an eye injury for two weeks, should bolster the visitors' attack if he is able to play as expected.

California will be at practically top strength.

As an offset for the bruising power of the Bears, the Orangemen's main hopes lay in the passing arm of Morrow and the running of such backs as Gene Taft, Dick Carr and Sam Baker.

The big question is how the Beaver line will fare against the terrific California running game.

Probable lineups:

Oregon State	Pos.	California
Skiles	E	Ward
Niemi	T	Karpe
Karosinski	G	Laster
Palmer	C	Harris
Mackson	G	Docich
J. Clark	T	Krueger
Thomas	E	Cummings
Schneider	Q	Marinos
Taft	H	Schabarum
Carr	H	Monachino
Baker	F	Olszewski

Aikens Given Victory Chance

EUGENE, Oct. 20 —(AP)— A pair of apparently impotent Pacific coast college football teams, St. Mary's of California and the University of Oregon, meet in the tenth renewal of the "Governor's Trophy" series here on Hayward field tomorrow. A crowd of about 10,000 is expected. Game time will be 1:30 p.m.

St. Mary's Gaels, who have only three losses and a tie with Georgia this season, arrived here today by plane and worked out briefly. John Henry Johnson, sophomore fullback, is expected to be St. Mary's biggest threat.

Coach Jim Aiken of Oregon expects to start an all-sophomore backfield quartet in an effort to gain a second victory of the season. Oregon has lost three games and defeated only Montana this season.

St. Mary's has won six of the nine previous meetings, but Oregon has won the last two, including a 24-7 victory in San Francisco last year.

Probable starting lineups:

St. Mary's	Pos.	Oregon
McGeehan	E	Williams
Waltner	T	Knickrehm
Loa	G	McCauley
Doherty	C	Gibson
Summers	G	Lung
Mayrhofer	T	Anderson
Jacobs	E	Brethauer
Atkinson	Q	Dunham
Bombaini	H	Lyman
Cassara	H	Sloan
Johnson	F	Ervin

Probable offensive starters for OCE will be Lyle Hay and Tom Hill at ends, Bud Marshall and Len Staudinger at tackles, Archie Padberg and Vince McGinley at guards, Dale Sparks at center, Roger Dasch at quarter, Robin Lee and Jim Ortlief at halves and Bill Palmquist at full. The Wolves will be shooting for their third straight victory.

In the big flight—the title bracket—Win Needham can sit back with a finals berth already notched and await the outcome of the semi go between Ralph Mapes and Bob Powell. Needham swooped into the payoff round with a 2-1 victory over Bob Burns Thursday. Mapes and Powell will play Sunday and the title match will be run off next weekend.

In the first flight this weekend's semi-finals action sees Jim Hunt meeting Harold Olinger and Jack Russell colliding with Jim Sheldon.

Blaik's Gridmen Given Challenge

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20—(AP)— The Los Angeles county council of the American Legion leaped into the Earl Blaik-pro football ruckus today with a bid for Army to play a professional team here.

Harry Myers, director of events for the council, challenged Blaik to bring his Army team here to play "the third best team in the National football league" in a game for the benefit of the Legion's veterans rehabilitation fund in December.

"It is unfortunate," Myers said, "that you have interrupted your brilliant coaching career by your statements on pro football and I am sure thousands of people who know professional football to be superior to college football . . . will deeply resent your statements."

SBC's Hear Rival Coaches

Lewis and Clark's Pioneers, pre-season picks to snatch the 1950 Northwest conference grid flag, have yet to play at the top of their capabilities this season, Coach Joe Huston told the Salem Breakfast club Friday morning at a session heralding the big mix between the Pioneers and Willamette today at Portland's Vaughn Street park.

Huston said he considered the Pioneers' schedule and predicted that the winner of today's clash will go through to the conference title.

Coach Chester Stackhouse of Willamette, weighted down by a long string of injuries to his club, said he and his boys hoped for an upset win but doubt if they have the guns to accomplish such.

SBC Prexy Oscar Specht presided at the breakfast meeting.

Pioneers, Cats Collide Today

Baisch, Stan Blair, Bill Bowes and Clarke Anderson and which is abetted by a big and driving forward wall. In marching along unbeaten thus far this season, the Lewis and Calrks have racked point after point by mercilessly shredding opposing lines. That item will be the big worry for Stackhouse today as he views his patched-up lineup.

Joe Bonowtiz and Buzz Oerding or Don Aasen will be the 'Cat starters at the flanks. Dorrance Noteboom, the frosh standout, and Jim Hitchman are due for the tackle slots, at the guards it will tentatively be a pair of watch-charmers, Charlie Nee and little 155-pound Dick Petzholdt. John Markoskie will open at center.

Hard-hitting Bob Hall and Chuck Koni will move into the forward wall on defense.

The Pioneers stand at the top of the conference standings with a pair of wins in two circuit starts. The 'Cats have captured their only loop tilt. The winner today will all but be over the hump toward the conference title.

Tickets for the clash go on sale at Vaughn Street park today at 12:30, at $1.80 per and 90 cents for students.

Probable lineups, weights in parentheses:

Willamette	Pos.	Lewis & Clark

Trojans Liked Over Middies

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20 —(AP)— Southern California's football team invades the east coast for the first time to meet injury-rocked Navy here tomorrow. Academy officials forecast 25,000 fans will look on as each outfit struggles for its first 1950 victory.

The Trojans from Los Angeles, who never left home so far behind to play football, almost jolted mighty California from the Pacific Coast conference lead last Saturday. But on the books the best they can show in three contests is a 20-20 tie with Washington State.

Navy has dropped all three previous games.
