Businessmen Move to Boost Salem Trade

A move to enhance Salem's attraction as a trading center for the mid-Willamette valley was organized Thursday night by a group of merchants and other Salem Chamber of Commerce leaders. To further this objective a 15-member committee will be formed, representing the chamber board, Retail Trade Bureau, Capitol Shopping center and the business and civic interests centering in each of the south Salem, north Salem, State street and westside areas. Discussion among the businessmen at last night's informal session at the Marion hotel pointed toward a probable increased retail emphasis within the chamber of commerce. Among possible developments suggested for the committee study were a merchants' division secretary functioning along with the chamber, larger quarters for any such combined offices than the present chamber headquarters in Senator hotel and aggressive planning to boost the economy of the city at large as well as the important retail business segment. Leaders said the committee would be brought together within a few days to start a thorough study of the various proposals and to survey the present membership and activities of the Salem chamber.

The board said 12 new polio cases were reported for the week ending Nov. 25, a 40 per cent drop from the week before.

Portland School Board Asks More Time for Building

PORTLAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—The Portland school board has decided to ask the state legislature to give it additional time to use the present Lincoln high school building. The building was to be turned over to the state for use as an extension center for higher education by next September 1. But the board said its new building would not be completed by that date. The board voted to ask the legislature to approve a bill permitting a five-year continuing levy to enable the voters to authorize a tax levy for any number of years up to five. It also will ask the legislature for changes in tenure laws.

Salem Ovation Grets Brilliant Performance by Polish Pianist

By Maxine Buren, Statesman Editor. Maryja Jonas, heralded as the finest woman pianist of our day, commanding and brilliant, proved just that at her concert in Salem high school auditorium Thursday night. Powerful yet poetic in style, the artist caught and held the audience's attention with emotional intensity. Her interpretation of the Bach Italian concerto was magnificent and her playing of Schumann's "Carnival" excellent. To her most beautiful number was Schubert's "Impromptu" No. 3 in G minor which she played with poetic beauty. Deviating from her programmed numbers, Miss Jonas included for the Chopin group waltzes in G flat and B minor, two mazurkas and a nocturne.

For encore the pianist chose a "Bolero and Gallop" dedicated to her by the contemporary Italian composer, Cassella. The final number was "Music Box" by Villa-Lobos. The audience, gave the pianist what amounts to an ovation in our city. Had the lighting been more favorable, justice might have been done to Miss Jonas' appearance. She is a handsome woman, though in her face is reflected some of the tragedy of the war years spent in occupied Poland. She proved gracious and warm to those in charge of the concert and to the admirers who went backstage, stage.

Heavy Snow Storm Sweeps Washington

By The Associated Press. The Inland Empire got a taste of things to come last night as a heavy snow storm swept over parts of the region and left a maze of slippery highways. The state patrol at Spokane said visibility was zero at Davenport in eastern Washington. It was snowing hard and the wind was blowing at Sandpoint, Idaho, shortly after dark. Much of the snow melted as it hit the ground but the patrol said driving conditions were hazardous and probably wouldn't improve a great deal today. There was a strange weather quirk at Spokane. The Geiger field weather station, six miles west of the city, reported a heavy snowfall at 8 p. m. But downtown only a few scattered drops of rain fell. The snow was expected later in town. The Spokane area apparently got most of last night's early storm. It wasn't snowing at Yakima, Walla Walla, Ephrata, Moses Lake or Ellensburg in a weather station report at 8 p. m. Central Washington had up to three inches during the day yesterday. The temperature was 34 during the height of the storm at Geiger field but was expected to drop to an overnight low of 25. A high of 35 to 40 is forecast for Spokane today. A Thursday morning snowfall in Spokane was virtually washed away by afternoon rains. Snow which lies two to three inches deep in some parts of Seattle and western Washington will give way to rain Friday, the weather bureau forecast. A light snow Friday night, probably turning to rain, was predicted for the western half of the state. Temperatures will range from a low of 30 to a high of 45 degrees. No snow was forecast for either eastern or western Oregon.

Off-Flooded Glenwood Asks Emergency Status

EUGENE, Nov. 30—(AP)—Citizens of nearby Glenwood have asked Gov. Douglas McKay to declare the town an "emergency flood area." The Glenwood Businessmen's association asked for a study by a state engineer of its proposals to eliminate flood dangers in the area between Springfield and Eugene.

Tiny Victim Of Rare Disease, Dies

ROSEBURG, Nov. 30—(AP)—Two-month-old Patricia Davis, whose rare disease brought offers of treatment from as far away as New York City, died in a hospital here today. The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Davis, Roseburg, was suffering from fibrocystic disease of the pancreas, complicated by a lung infection and pneumonia. A local physician had given the child no chance to survive, but two New York specialists offered their services if the child could be brought there. Such a trip was under consideration when she died.

State's Fair Trades Law Challenged

PORTLAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—Constitutionality of Oregon's fair trades law was challenged in district court here today by attorneys for Grocer William V. Luther, charged with violating the act. The attorneys said in a demurrer that the act violates sections of both the state and federal constitutions. The demurrer also said that Luther was not guilty of a crime in cutting his prices below cost. The fair trades act prohibits sale of commodities at less than cost plus 6 per cent. The charge grew out of a coffee price war in which the price was slashed to 59 cents a pound, 20 cents under the wholesale price. Dr. O. Frederick Nolde of Philadelphia, liaison officer for the World Council of Churches to the United Nations, made the statement in a prepared address to the first general assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States. It came hours after President Truman announced at a news conference in Washington that use of the atom bomb in the present Korean crisis is being considered. Dr. Nolde, who is director of the commission of the churches on international affairs of the world council, said he spoke as an individual but said he had been requested to "attempt an appraisal of the present critical situation."

Portland Seeks Air Raid Shelter

PORTLAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—Some 400 Portland engineers will be asked to make a study to determine whether 83 public buildings here are suitable as air raid shelters. Mayor Dorothy McCullough Lee said the survey is to be made to locate the best shelters in the east and west side business districts in case of an air attack. A similar survey is planned at schools.

McCarran Proposes Senate Security Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—A proposal to give the senate judiciary committee $100,000 to keep a constant watch on communist tactics and enforcement of the new internal security law was laid before the senate today. Six committee members, headed by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.), author of the controversial communist control act, sponsored the resolution.

TOKYO LIKES TRUMAN TALK

TOKYO, Friday, Dec. 1—(AP)—Headquarters sources today were plainly gratified by President Truman's expressed support for General MacArthur. ## Azalea Interest Increasing In Pacific Northwest Area

By Lillie L. Madsen, Garden Editor, The Statesman. Interest in azaleas is going to increase rapidly on the Pacific coast Dr. J. Harold Clarke of Long Beach, Wash., told more than 75 rhododendron and azalea enthusiasts Thursday night at the meeting of the Salem Rhododendron and Camellia Society. The group met at the YMCA with David Cameron, president, presiding. Interest in azaleas, Dr. Clarke continued, has long been stronger on the Atlantic coast and in the southeast than it has here on the west coast, but this is rapidly changing with the many new varieties being introduced, he said. He added that gardeners in the east were learning to select varieties perfectly hardy in their climates and suggested that west coast gardeners learn to study those varieties best suited for their area. In keeping with this, Dr. Clarke and a group of other rhododendron and azalea growers met Thursday afternoon at the Rudolph Henny gardens to work on rating rhododendrons on quality and hardness. The result of their rating will be published, Dr. Clarke said, in an early issue of the American Rhododendron Bulletin. Dr. Clarke, who was introduced by Rex Pfeffer, also showed colored slides of pictures he had taken in England while at the Rhododendron conference held there some months ago. At a brief business meeting nominees for officers were named with election to be held in December. Names submitted were Ernest Iufer and Lewis Judson for president; L. M. Simon and J. A. Pankratiz for vice president; Ellen Quill and Mrs. Wanda Gifford for secretary. Announcement was made of the annual Christmas Greens' show sponsored by the Salem Garden club December 12 and 13 at the Isaac Walton league building. Ernest Iufer was appointed to arrange for the rhododendron society's entry at this show. Announcement was also made that Norvell Gillespie, nationally known garden writer and radio commentator, will speak at Salem on February 15 at the Bush school. He is being brought here under the auspices of the Salem Garden council. Caravans crossing Tibet generally travel only in the morning to avoid cold gales which arise about noon.

Koutney Wins Damage Suit

A judgment of $4,000 was awarded by a Marion county circuit court jury to Lade V. Koutney, 445 Columbia st., plaintiff in an accident damage suit, Thursday night. Koutney brought suit against Loman C. and Cecil Wright, Brooks, driver and owner of a car with which Koutney's motor scooter collided Aug. 16, 1949, at High and Center streets. An original request for $40,000 damages was pared down to a $10,000 request at the trial. Koutney alleged he suffered a fractured skull and a brain injury from the accident. The jury was out approximately 4 1/2 hours in arriving at a verdict.

20 Tickets Given After Concert for Illegal Parking

City police Thursday night continued a clamp-down on motorists parked in restricted zones near Salem high school. Officers said 20 cars were tagged while their owners attended a concert at the school auditorium. They said it was their recent occasion on which a number of parking tickets had been issued in that area. Last night's violators were parked mostly on 14th street. The police desk reported one complaint from a resident in the area who said her husband couldn't move his car away from their house due to the congestion and had to call a taxi.

Ex-Governor Pierce In Salem Hospital

Walter M. Pierce, 89, former congressman and governor of Oregon, is confined at Salem Memorial hospital where his condition Thursday night was reported as "fair." Pierce has lived in the Eola district since 1943 when he quit politics after ten years in Washington, D. C., as democratic representative in congress. He was governor from 1923 to 1927.

Juvenile Home Escape Found At Residence

Betty J. White, 17, listed by state police as an escapee from Louise home, Portland, was apprehended in Salem Thursday. State officers said Miss White and another girl escaped from the Portland institution Sunday by sliding down a sheet from a second-story window. A supervisor suffered facial scratches when the escape occurred, according to state police. Officers reported Miss White had her left foot in a cast as the result of an injury during her escape. They said she was located at a private home here.

Excess Profits Tax Bill Gets Committee Nod

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—The house ways and means committee voted today to increase corporation taxes $3,400,000,000 a year by an excess profits levy reaching back to July 1, 1950. This sum is considerably less than the $4,000,000,000 in new revenue requested by President Truman to help meet vastly increased military costs. The bill may come up for house passage next week. Briefly, it would do this: Corporations earning more than $25,000 a year would be subject to an additional tax of 75 per cent on all over 85 per cent of their "normal" earnings. But all federal income taxes together could not exceed 67 per cent of a firm's profits. Still subject to final committee approval, expected tomorrow, the bill's tax rate and credit base features were said to have been adopted by a strict party line vote with the 15 democrats again over-riding the 10 republican members. Republican sentiment has been for increasing federal revenues through a straight rise in the regular corporation income tax rate.

Hospital, Arrest Follow Accident

Reginald William Busey, 47, of 1351 Saginaw st., was hospitalized and then jailed following an auto accident a mile north of Independence Thursday, according to state police. Busey was treated for a broken finger at a Salem hospital after his car flipped end-over-end, then confined at Polk county jail on a charge of being drunk on a public highway, state police said. No other vehicles were involved in the accident.

Rain Expected Today in Wake Of Wet Month

November, wetter and warmer than usual, blew off the calendar in a rain squall Thursday and the weather bureau predicted December would lead off with more showers today. Gustly winds whipped a half-inch of rain around Thursday morning but they had calmed to the vanishing point at midnight. November's total rainfall of 9.67 inches was more than 50 per cent above normal. And nearly six inches of that total fell in three days at mid-month to make the weather top news in the mid-valley. The temperature hit a high of 64 degrees on November 2 and dropped to freezing on six nights. The low was 27 above on November 13. The month's average mean temperature of 46.8 degrees was 1.3 above normal but nearly 3 degrees below November, 1949. The high readings averaged 54 degrees; the average low was 39.5. November had three clear and three partly cloudy days interspersed with 24 cloudy days.

World Church Leader Raps A-Bomb Talk

By Ken Davis, CLEVELAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—A molder of Protestant opinion on world affairs bluntly declared tonight the atom bomb should not be used until "all other means have been explored and found impossible." Dr. O. Frederick Nolde of Philadelphia, liaison officer for the World Council of Churches to the United Nations, made the statement in a prepared address to the first general assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States. It came hours after President Truman announced at a news conference in Washington that use of the atom bomb in the present Korean crisis is being considered.
