

Salem Garden Club Show Is Outstanding

By Lillie L. Madsen
No more beautiful staging for a garden club event has ever been made in Salem than the Christmas Greens show which opened Tuesday at the Isaac Walton League hall at the end of Cottage street. The show will be open Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. No admission is charged but a silver offering is accepted. The show is sponsored by the Salem Garden club of which Mrs. Ben Maxwell is president.

While there is a great variety of ideas for Christmas, as a whole there is a more serious note this year than formerly found in Salem garden shows. And while there is plenty of silver and gold and other colors added, there is also more of the natural green. Show goes, as they enter the hall, face the large brown and green wishing-well of the Salem Garden Council. At the left of the door is the pine and bell arrangement of the Keizer Garden club centering which is an original verse in keeping with the season, written by some of the Garden club members.

To the right of the door is a madonna scene arranged by the Independence Garden club. Man-berin Gardens club and the King-wood Garden club add to the Christmas feeling in the entrance hall.

In the main hall, too, natural greenery predominates. More than 14 garden clubs have arrangements at the show. Among the outstanding arrangements in this group is the colorful setting of the Little Garden club of Salem Heights. "Snow-covered" window-sills added to the setting where warm red coloring was used throughout.

Garden Clubs Exhibit
The entry of the Friendly Neighbors garden club was termed among the "most useful" entries. Here, more than a score of ideas for Christmas decorations, all in the form of Christmas trees, were displayed.

The entire west wall of the hall was arranged by the staging committee of which Miss Edith Schryver was chairman. Garlands of green, door decorations symbolizing the legend of food for all the animals and birds at the manger at the time of the birth of Christ, a child's mantel, depicting the Jolly Jingle family, are found in that section of the hall. Even Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer was brought into the scene when Miss Schryver conceived the idea of lighting the huge elk's head which hangs over the mantel at the hall.

A bazaar where wreaths, materials for wreaths as well as a variety of other Christmas decorations and greens, are offered for sale, proved a busy place throughout Tuesday afternoon. The bazaar will be continued Wednesday.

Giving a special holiday touch to the show is the hot spiced tea

For Filling Purposes

Less Expensive Cookies Make Family Happy, Easy on the Family Cook

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Woman's Editor
We recently published several rich Christmas cookies, suitable for giving as gifts and they were the richer, more expensive sorts that take lots of time. So, to please the housewife who needs more and larger cookies for general eating during the holiday season, we oblige with the following:

MINCEMEAT FILLED BARS
Filling
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 1/2 cups mincemeat
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Crust
1 cup margarine or butter
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 1/2 cups rolled oats
Combine sugar and cornstarch. Add mincemeat and cook slowly until thick and clear. Add lemon juice. Cool. Sift flour and salt together. Add sugar and rolled oats. Cut in margarine, making a crumbly mass. Place half of crumbs in buttered oblong baking pan (9 x 13 x 2-inches). Pat down by hand. Spread with cooled mincemeat mixture. Sprinkle remaining crumbs over top, patting smooth. Bake in a moderate oven (350) approximately 45 minutes. After baking, allow cookies to remain in pan to cool. When cold, cut into bars as needed. Makes 2 dozens.

COCONUT POM-POMS
Yield: 6 dozen cookies
1 cup margarine or butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound pecan halves
Shredded coconut
Cream margarine, sugar and vanilla until fluffy. Sift flour with salt and add to creamed mixture, blending thoroughly. Shape dough around each half pecan to form 1-inch balls. Roll in shredded coconut. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a slow oven (325) about 20 minutes. Cool and store in loosely covered container. Makes 6 dozen.

YULE CRISPIES
1/4 cup margarine or butter
1 cup sugar
4 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons cinnamon
1/4 cup finely chopped pecans
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
Cream margarine, sugar and vanilla add sugar and beat until fluffy. Add egg yolks and vanilla and beat until creamy. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add to mixture. Combine cinnamon and pecans. Mold dough into 1-inch balls and roll in cinnamon-pecan mixture. Place on ungreased baking sheet and flatten with the bottom of a tumbler which has been dipped in sugar. If desired, place candied cherry in center of each cookie. Bake in a moderate oven (375) for 8 to 10 minutes. Store in loosely covered container. Makes 5 dozen.

DARK SECRETS
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
3 cups corn flakes
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine egg whites and salt and beat until foamy. Gradually add sugar. Beat until stiff. Fold in corn flakes, chocolate bits and vanilla. Drop from teaspoon onto buttered cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350) about 15 minutes. Makes 4 dozen.
