Dinner and Program

Insurance Women's association will be entertained at a Christmas party by the Insurance Agents on Friday night in the Cave room of the Senator hotel at 6:30 o'clock. A social hour will precede the dinner and program. The next regular meeting of the women's association will be January 18.

and windows all garlanded with cedar... one huge silver tree adorned only with fuchsia balls and matching reflectors... A variety of wreaths... of holly, cedar, walnuts, della robbia and ornaments... one that caught our eye... of silver and decorated with violet, mauve and pale green grapes and tied with a green and silver bow... and made by Mrs. Ben Maxwell, the club president.

Decorations... on either side of the huge fireplace, where there was an adorable children's mantel, two doors identically decorated by Miss Edith Schryver... of red cellophane arranged diagonally and centered with a gold star with a cluster of apples, carrots, and sugar cubes tied with gold string... Striking... was Mrs. Philip Allison's and Mrs. William Phillips' Madonna arrangement... a red paisley shawl for the background... in the center was the hand carved limewood Madonna, which Mrs. Allison purchased in Oberammergau last spring... flanked by brass candlesticks holding blue tapers and at the base blue wine glasses with blue candles and on either side two large blue vases filled with greens...

Causing much attraction... the two tables of all types of miniature Christmas trees made by members of the Friendly Neighbors Garden club... To mention a few... a plastic clothes line tree, a cigarette tree, one of white crinoline... a cone, one of popcorn, a paper dollie tree... a Merry-Go-Round tree with reindeer... An adorable Swedish tree... one made of tin cans... also one frame made of a coat hanger... plastic trees... Hundreds attending the two-day show... including a large group from Albany and several dozen down from the Wayside Garden club in Portland...

Auxiliary Plans Holiday Events

A Christmas party combined the business and social meetings for December for Salem Unit 136, American Legion auxiliary Tuesday night at the Salem Woman's club. There was a decorated Christmas tree with gifts for members and guests.

Members of the rehabilitation committee were hostesses with Mrs. Kenneth Taylor and Mrs. Walter Esplin as co-chairmen. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Donald Rasmussen, Mrs. Wayne Keeney, Mrs. Milo Aeschlimann and Mrs. Earl Ahlers. The committee announced that 70 dollars worth of gifts had been sent to the Veterans' hospitals in Roseburg and Portland. Several auxiliary members plan to attend the Portland Veterans' hospital open house party on December 17.

Mrs. Jack Simkins, chairman of the child welfare committee, announced that there are several veterans' families in need in the Salem area and that used toys, children's clothing and food items will be presented to them at Christmas. Members are asked to bring these items to the home of Mrs. Ted Ullakko or Mrs. Clayton Steinke.

Earl O. Bushnell, civil defense director of Salem, gave a talk and told of plans for this area, the type of warfare we may experience in the event of an attack and plans for evacuation and care of the people.

Mrs. Wayne Keeney, chairman of the national security committee, reported that a number of auxiliary members have been working in the civil defense program and shortly there will be a need for more typists and clerical workers.

Post 136 is giving a children's Christmas party at the KC hall on December 18 and unit members are asked to assist.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Mesdames Willard Wilson, Glenn Palmer, Earl Phipps, Kenneth Decatur, Edward Maerz, Clarence Nelson and Dennis Tyler.

Costume Party For Juniors

The Salem Junior Woman's club annual Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Criswell on Kingwood Drive, December 18. Plans were completed for the affair at Monday night's meeting. Mrs. Margaret White is general chairman. There will be an exchange of gifts and members are to come dressed as a title of a book, movie, song or play and prizes will be awarded. The club voted to purchase records for the Blind school and to give gifts to two girls at the Tuberculosis hospital as its Christmas charity work.

At the business session Mrs. Wesley Vorhes was initiated. A committee appointed to take charge of collecting stamps for wounded veterans includes Mrs. Wesley Goodrich, Mrs. William Judson and Mrs. Richard Jennings. The project is being carried out by Junior Woman's clubs throughout the state.

Miss Betty Jean Bergner, dance chairman, reported that the club's benefit Valentine dance has been set for Friday, February 9, at Crystal Gardens with Bill de Souza's orchestra playing. The youth conservation committee with Mrs. O. T. Mansfield as chairman was in charge of the evening's meeting. Mrs. Lena Smithson, superintendent of Hillcrest, was the speaker and Don Barrick showed the movie of Dickens' "Christmas Carol."
