

SPORTSLIGHTNER

Seems as if all the competition in the Rose Bowl January 1 won't be between the California and Michigan footballers. The respective school bands are to have at it also, and 'tis said the Cal tooters are working like mad so as to be able to match the Michigan marching musicians in their halftime sorties. Last time the Ohio State band far overshadowed that fielded by Cal at Pasadena. And what isn't helping much is that this year's Wolverine corps, featured by a spread in one of the big magazines a short time ago, is said to be twice as good as the Ohio State outfit.

MEL NUNES

First holdout of the 1951 baseball season must be Marv Rickert, the former Wilber out of Tacoma who is now a Chicago White Soxer. Rickert fired back his opening offer, unsigned... Eugene's Dick Strite comes up with this one: Since Gertrude (Gussie) Moran signed to endorse a line of tennis dresses, with the same outfit that made the Hopalong Cassidy clothing famous, they are calling the new pro tennis luminary "Getaalong Gerty"... The Bobby Riggs tennis tour, including Gussie and her partner, is scheduled for Eugene early next month. But we've heard nothing more on the recent plan to have the netters play here... Christmas card from Mel Nunes at his Centerville, Cal., home carries a notation that the onetime "Mighty Mouse" of the Senators' infield is in high hopes that some club in the WIL will buy up his contract so that he can play some third or second base in this league again next season. Last we heard it was Denver of the Western loop that held title to Nunes's services. D. Young & Co. might make a note of that inasmuch as popular Mel was one of the top third sackers in the circuit when he played here a few seasons back...

They Definitely Want Lou Novikoff

The Senators' guiding hands definitely are after Lou (Mad Russian) Novikoff for two reasons. The rally-polly outfielder with the moon face is well liked here on the strength of the wit and wit which he exhibited as opposition last summer. And he can still whack a baseball a fr piece. The directors feel that the addition of someone who can sock a potful of home runs is money in the bank. And since the Waters field left and center field fences are to be moved in considerably (this is now definite), a gent of Novikoff's batting hue can't help but fill his pockets with HR's. Also, should Bob Cherry return next season he's sure to find the transplanted barriers much to his liking.

The fences when moved will be 350 feet down the left field line from home plate, 350 feet in left-center and 370 feet in dead center. The right field wall, now 328 feet distant, isn't to be altered. Present left and center distances are 350 down the line, around 370 in left-center and 380 in center.

Even the huge scoreboard in center field is to be moved a few feet either to the left or right so as to take it from the line now existing between itself and the pitcher, batter and catcher. Batters have long complained that the lighted scoreboard directly behind the

Heaviest Turnover in Years

Eight Major Colleges Shopping for Coaches

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—Eight major colleges are shopping around for new head football coaches after one of the heaviest turnovers in years.

They are Ohio State, Minnesota, Southern California, Boston college, Brown, Duke, Virginia Tech and Richmond.

A ninth institution, Texas, has lost and gained a coach since the season began. Ed Price was named to the top post of the Longhorns to succeed Blair Cherry, who resigned.

Other resignations include: Jeff Cravath, Southern California—quit today after nine years with the Trojans. Plans uncertain. Wes Fesler, Ohio State—resigned to enter the real estate business. Bernie Bierman, Minnesota—resigned post he had held since 1932. Doesn't plan to remain in the coaching business.

Denny Myers, Boston college—head coach at BC since 1941, he resigned with another year to go on his contract. Gus Zitrides, Brown—resigned after team lost eight of nine games. Wallace Wade, Duke—resigned to accept the commissioner's job of the Southern conference, effective Jan. 1.

Badgers Rated Strong Threat For Northwest Circuit Title

FOREST GROVE, Dec. 20 (AP)—If Willamette slips, the northwest conference basketball title may wind up at Pacific university here. In fact Pacific just possibly could grab the crown even if Willamette regains the drive that earned Willamette the championship last year.

Pacific was good enough to down Willamette in two of three meetings last season, and graduation didn't hurt Pacific too much.

The team lost its co-captains, Dick Morgan and Jim McDonnell, but has eight letterman back, headed by big Ed Rooney, the conference scoring champ. Rooney, a 6 foot 5 inch center, averaged 15.4 points a game last year in topping the loop with 231 points.

Another 6 foot 5 player, Dick Young, teams with him in the double post attack that Coach Harold Wolf features.

Three shorter men, all under 6 feet, serve as drivers and ball handlers. They are drawn from Joe Moran, Walt Staniszwski, Frank Buckiewicz, Bob Logsdon and Julian Amaya. Occasionally Wolf mixes in one or two bigger men. He has two 6 foot 6 inchers in Ed Ball, a letterman from two years ago, and Clint Agee, a sophomore.

Pacific wound up in second place last year. Now—with one eye on the possibly slipping Willamette—the team expects to finish at least as high this season. It started out fine, with wins over Oregon Education and Southern Oregon, but dropped its next three games to Pacific Lutheran, Oregon Education and St. Martin's.

Conference play starts Jan. 6, when Lewis and Clark comes here.

TARHEELS LOSE
PIKEVILLE, Ky., Dec. 20 (AP)—Eastern Kentucky knocked the North Carolina Tarheels from the ranks of the undefeated basketball teams tonight, 65 to 62.

Alumni Outcry Forces Cravath To Quit at SC

Resignation Ends Nine-Year Career

By Bob Myers
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20 (AP)—The nine-year-old coaching regime of Jeff Cravath sank at the University of Southern California today, torpedoed by powerful "win or else" alumni sharpshooters. Cravath abandoned the stricken ship, effective Jan. 1, climaxing an anti-Cravath, old grad offensive that mounted with intensity as the Trojan grid fortunes walloped and pitched during the past season.

Cravath, senior coach in point of service in the Pacific Coast conference, stepped down with nothing but good words for the university, athletic officials and his players.

As salvage, he will be paid an estimated $30,000 which the wealthy alumni agreed to dig up to buy off the two years remaining on his contract.

Cravath, 47, made no direct mention of the pressure brought against him by the alumni, but it is no secret that a series of secret sessions ended with one last night in which it was agreed to demand the coach's resignation and buy up his contract.

Athletic Director Willis O. Hunter, obviously surprised at the swiftness of the final out-the-coach crusade, said no thought has been given to a successor.

Cravath, one of the greatest linemen in Trojan history and the only alum ever to occupy the head coaching position, took over at USC in 1942.

Guided USC to four Pacific Coast conference championships and into four Rose bowl games. He won the first two but lost the last pair, to Alabama and Michigan.

The 1950 campaign was the most disastrous. The Trojans lost five games, tied two and won two.

Disappointing losses were to Navy, California and UCLA. The final game, a victory, 9-7 over traditional rival Notre Dame, and many felt the win might squelch the Wolves' howls.

Michigan has only 11 practice sessions remaining under the joint, regulated training program for the rival teams, and Oosterbaan said he was anxious to have his players "bang their heads together" without further delay.

The Bears put in three and a half hour drill under Waldorf's critical eye and an 85-degree sun this afternoon at San Bernardino.

Illini Swamp Cougars 71-48

CAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 20 (AP)—Leading only six points at halftime, the University of Illinois basketball team swarmed to the backboard in the second half tonight to overwhelm Washington State college, 71-48. The score at the half was 28-22.

It was the Illini's fourth win against one loss, Washington State now has lost five while winning three.

Newsman Grab 4th Straight

The high-flying Salem News Agency team romped to its fourth straight victory in the City Basketball league's National division last night at Leslie, cuffing the Salem Sophs, 64-28. The Wolgamott's Service Statists five captured a 45-14 win over Post Office and Capital Business College stopped the Naval Reserves, 27-14. Wolgamott's and the Business College crew each have two triumphs in three starts.

Al Chamberlain sparked the News Agency win with 22 points and Reg Waters was the big man for Wolgamott's with a whopping 26 markers.

Beavers Face Panthers Next

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Dec. 20 (Special)—Smarting beneath their seventh straight loss, a 58-53 decision to the Portland U Pilots Tuesday in Portland, the Oregon State Beavers are now looking forward to their next basketball outings Friday and Saturday nights in Gill Coliseum with the University of Pittsburgh Panthers.

The Panthers, coached by the veteran Dr. H. C. Carlson and annually one of the better teams in the East, played the University of Washington Huskies in Seattle on Tuesday and Wednesday nights this week. Following the two games here Pitt goes to California for a game with the

Road Junket Next for Cats

Willamette university's basketball Beacrats take things easy until after the Christmas holiday, but then swing into action via a three-game road trip to the south. On Wednesday, December 27, the Beacrats will be at Ashland for a tilt with the Southern Oregon Red Raiders, a team that administered a 66-57 setback to the Cats during a visit here December 9.

From Ashland the Methodists go to Chico, Cal., for two games with Chico State December 28-29. After that the WU's rest again until Northwest conference opener January 5-6 with Whitman at Walla Walla.

The Beacrats have thus far dropped five of their six games, but Coach Johnny Lewis is hopeful that the current rest for his team will be just the tonic it needs to uncork a lengthy win streak.

Parker Named To Lions Post

DETROIT, Dec. 20 (AP)—Raymond (Buddy) Parker, who started his national football league career as a player with the Detroit Lions in 1935, was named today as head coach of the Detroit team.

The 37-year-old Texan was elevated from his backfield coach's job with the Lions to succeed Alvin "Bo" McMillin, who resigned Tuesday as head coach and general manager.

Salary terms were not disclosed, but a usually reliable source said that Parker signed for considerably less than the $30,000-a-year McMillin was getting. Parker came to the Lions as backfield coach last season after 13 years service with the Chicago Cardinals—first as a player and then as head coach.

McLarin Voted Canada's Best

TORONTO, Dec. 20 (AP)—Jimmy (Babyface) McLarin, the one-time Vancouver, B. C., newsboy who became welterweight champion of the world, has been named Canada's outstanding boxer of the half century.

He was an almost unanimous choice of Canada's sports writers and sportscasters. He received 32 of 43 votes. Other votes went to Tommy Burns, Sam Langford, Larry Gains, Lionel Conacher and Arthur King, the current British empire lightweight champion.

Preps, Molalla Have to Do It All Over

MOLALLA, Dec. 20 (Special)—Tuesday night's Molalla-Mt. Angel Willamette Valley league game at Mt. Angel won in a double overtime by the Angels, 49-39, won't count.

Seems the scoreboard clock stopped 39 seconds before the end of regular playing time and in the excitement of the thrilling tilt, no one bothered to start it again.

The time-keepers' watch was operating during the two overtimes but the big clock's "freeze" gave rise to a technicality which brings about a replay of the tilt.

Date of the replay will be either Feb. 26th or March 5th at Mt. Angel, announce officials.

Westrum Stands Out

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—National league players broke or tied nine fielding records during the 1950 season.

The honor of turning in the most remarkable defensive display went without argument to Wes Westrum of the New York Giants who, catching his first season as a regular, committed only one error in 139 games to set a new league fielding mark of .999.

In breaking the old mark of .998 set by Earl Grace of the 1932 Pittsburgh Pirates, Westrum handled a total of 680 chances, participated in 21 double plays and was credited with 21 assists. Both the latter two feats were high among the league's backstops.

Gil Hodie of Brooklyn set a new double play mark for first baseman by participating in 159, and his teammate, Jackie Robinson, did the same for second baseman with 133. Hank Thompson, the Giants' freshman third baseman, set a new standard for that position by figuring in 43 twin killings.

Red Schoendienst of St. Louis established two new marks for second basemen when he played through 57 straight games and handled 320 chances without an error. He held the previous records of 44 games and 285 chances.

Third Baseman Willie Jones and Shortstop Gran Hamner of the Phils each tied the previous record by playing in 157 games. Tommy Giaviano, Card third baseman, tied another mark on the unhappy afternoon he committed three errors in one inning against Brooklyn.

Hodges topped all first basemen with his glittering fielding average of .994. Robinson led the second basemen with .986, and still another Dodger, Billy Cox, was high among third basemen with .957. As might be expected from that, Brooklyn led in team fielding with an official .978.

The 34-year-old Marty Marion, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, led the league's shortstops with a .978 average in 100 games. Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh posted the top figure the outfielders when he made only three errors in 336 chances for a .991 average.

Carl Furillo of Brooklyn was credited with more assists than any other outfielder, with 18, and his teammate, Roy Campanella, was the hardest working catcher in the league with 848 chances and 693 putouts.

SEATTLE, Dec. 20 (AP)—Stanley Sayres, owner of the world's fastest speedboat, said today he has received two offers for his record-breaking Sio-mo-shun IV but will not sell unless he can have a new hydroplane ready for the Gold Cup and Harmsworth trophy races here next August.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Duck hunters and other nimrods lost a chance today to get some free ammunition from the government.

The house defeated by voice vote an amendment to the civil defense bill offered by Rep. Edwin A. Hall (R-NY) to mobilize hunters and gun-toting sportsmen into a stand-by army.

"This would simply utilize hunters and sportsmen beyond military age to repel an attacking enemy," Hall explained. "They're all pretty good shots."

But Rep. Durham (D-NC) thought the array of volunteer riflemen might be chaotic, and the house apparently agreed.

Forming Club Is Under Way

Others to Be Inked By Salems Soon

The first official playing member of the Salem Senators baseball club for 1951 exists today with the announcement that John Hack outfielder-third baseman with Victoria last season, has been purchased. A six-foot, 180-pounder who was classed as one of the better players on the Athletics club, Hack hit .296 in 82 games during the last season. He was formerly in the New York Yankees chain and was secured from Twin Falls of the Pioneer league by the Vics midway through the 1950 campaign.

Dewey Soriano, acting as adviser for the Senators, made the deal with Reg Patterson, Victoria general manager. The purchase price was not announced. Although Hack's exact age is not known, he is believed to be around 25 years old.

It was also announced yesterday that negotiations are under way with Lou Novikoff, colorful outfield slugger who played with both Yakima and Victoria last season and wound up with a .226 batting mark, 16th highest in the circuit. Soriano is dickering with Novikoff, now a free agent, whose home is in Los Angeles.

"We will have more announcements concerning players shortly," Soriano added, as the move to fill the Senators roster for 1951 definitely.

Huskies Whip Pitts, 74-55

SEATTLE, Dec. 20 (AP)—The Pittsburgh "figure eight" held no terrors tonight for the Huskies of the University of Washington, who rolled over the underdog Panthers, 74-55, in an inter-sectional basketball argument.

Swearing the two-game series to run their victory string to six straight, Washington's highboys piled up a 29-16 halftime margin.

Frank Guinness, Washington forward, led the scoring with 19 points, hitting 14 of the second half. Bob Yurko's 17 topped Pitt.

Washington was given three free throws on technical fouls called against Dr. H. C. Carlson when the excitable coach jumped from the bench to shout at the referee.

Semi-Pros Delay League Formation

LA GRANDE, Dec. 20 (AP)—Formal organization of a proposed tri-state semi-pro baseball league was postponed here today by three of eight prospective members who wish more time to study the possible effect of the national emergency upon non-pro baseball.

Walla Walla, La Grande and Pendleton, Ore., were represented at the meeting called for the purpose of posting forfeit money, and drafting final agreements. Lewiston, Ida., sent a request to be included. Payette, Ida., sent a withdrawal, Weiser, Ida., was undecided and Nampa, Ida., did not report. Baker, Ore., was not represented.
