

'Star' Pattern

As worn by ANNE BAXTER in "All About Eve"

No. 6

DESIGN BY CHARLES LEMAIRE

The success of this suit version lies in versatility for Anne Baxter in Twentieth Century-Fox's "All About Eve." The cuffed jacket is the new kind of box style that also acts as an extra little coat—only one good reason why it will take a leading role in any wardrobe! Big news, too, is a two-color STAR LABEL transfer included in this pattern. It's proof-positive that you are wearing an original Hollywood design!

No. 6 is cut in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 skirt requires 1 3/4 yards, 54-inch fabric; jacket, 2 3/4 yards 54-inch. Or, skirt and jacket, 3 3/4 yards 54-inch.

Send 50c for "STAR" PATTERN with Name, Address, Style number and Size desired to Star Pattern Department, The Oregon Statesman, Rincon Box 3032, San Francisco 19, Calif.

Don't Look Now...

but... Our little city is again being invaded by sober looking legislators, gathering to make laws for our great state of Oregon. Pretty soon some of them won't even look sober.

For old folks... Arturo Toscanini is to return to NBC after an interval of several months "recovering from a knee injury" but was reported to be miffed because he had to play second fiddle to television. Anyway the opening concert, a benefit for aged musicians in Milan, Italy, may be seen for a mere $20 per seat. Or if you are too poor (ugh) to pay that, you can sit in the upper stratosphere for a mere $5 plus tax. If planning to attend, call Sacramento 2-1377 New York City.

And speaking of... New York, you just can't imagine the advantages to this job of ours. We received a telegram inviting us to suite 1096 Waldorf Astoria to see the preview of 1951 hosiery. Only thing was, they didn't send money for the fare.

Lasting impression... We were discussing that new accessory, the pocketbook ashtray for those who feel undressed without a cigaret in hand. The ashtray, it seems, is for when you go to someone's home and can't find a place for your cigaret. You just get your little silent butler out and use it. The friend with whom we were talking suggested that this tray should not be necessary. "Almost everyone" he said has a piano or a polished walnut desk to lay the cigaret on.

About the weather... Two years ago today we greeted legislators with a temperature of 17 degrees, the opening day of legislation it was 13 degrees. The visitors will think our Salem's a cocoon place to live. Maxine Buren

More for Your Money

New 1951 Line of Major Appliances Features Frost-Free Refrigerators

By Sue Gardner
New styling in frost-free refrigerators and kitchen ranges distinguishes a 1951 collection of major appliances soon available in your local stores.

New features in the refrigerators also include full-width freeze chests, removable egg keepers and convenient shelves on the doors.

The defrosting system which goes on when needed in the refrigerators will appear in three models for 1951. Actually this automatic service has been refined down to go into action every 60th opening of the refrigerator door. Introduced first in the 1950 models, this feature is one of the most popular in current refrigerators since "defrosting" has been a chore for every homemaker.

One of the most attractive models in the new line has a full-width freeze chest which will quick-freeze and store 41 pounds of foods and ice. The self-closing insulated plastic door for the freeze chest serves as a loading shelf when opened. A 28-cube and two 14-tube ice trays in anodized aluminum have lever cube releases.

Butter Keeper
The butter keeper, maintaining butter at spreading consistency, has a covered, clear plastic dish for table use. The meat keeper, in anodized aluminum, holds 16 pounds of meat at the proper temperature and has a sliding cover on plastic glides. The meat rests on a chrome trivet which permits proper air circulation. Fruits and vegetables can be stored in two drawers with three-quarter bushel capacity. The egg keepers are kept in the inner door panel.

Among the other advantages is storage space for a dozen quarts of milk in the main compartment, ample room for tall bottles, and both a drop-down shelf for more storage space and a removable half shelf for large bulky food storage.

A new upright home freezer will also be offered with a freezing and storage capacity of 213 pounds of food. This new model has a full-width quick-freezing compartment and self-closing, self-latching doors for all inner compartments.

New Ranges
The new electric ranges have several innovations including a two-level speed cooker, which simplifies such operations as
