Eight Naval Reserves Get Duty Orders

Orders or indications of orders for active duty for eight Salem naval reservists were disclosed Friday.
Lt. Lawrence H. Rich, supply officer with organized surface division 13-28, took his physical examination Friday and is to report February 11 to the naval supply center at Oakland, Calif. for three-weeks refresher course and assignment Underwriter for Guaranty Mutual Life Insurance company, Rich resides at 725 McGillchrist st., where his wife and four children plan to remain.
It may be starting where he left off for Rich, who left his ship at Inchon, Korea, in February, 1946, to return home for release. He served in the Pacific theatre aboard a repair ship as well as in Texas and as assistant to the disbursing officer at Great Lakes, Ill. He had 34 months' active service and joined the reserve here in September, 1948.
The reserve headquarters received orders for three inactive reservists to report for physical examinations and active duty — Chief Machinist Joseph M. Riggs, 375 Market st., on February 12; Seaman Edgar R. Carlisle, 1205 S. 19th st., and Seaman Glen W. Wharton, 655 N. Cottage st., on April 6.
The surface division also was notified to forward to 13th naval district headquarters the records of four division members, who will be called for examinations and active duty. Lt. Comdr. George T. Bunn, inspector - instructor, said this would be the procedure for active reservists in the future.
The men affected, all seamen apprentices, are Jack Jay Harris, 860 N. Cottage st.; Carl Paul Martin, Brooks route 1, box 78F; Donald Vandellier Young, 1815 Fairmount ave., and Ronald G. Hammack, Woodburn.

Dedication Set Today for New Parking Area

Shoppers' Car park, new downtown off-street parking business, will dedicate its 250-car facility with a fanfare today.
Between noon and 4 p.m. 150 balloons will be freed from the building, each carrying a $1 bill for some lucky finder. At the parking garage proper customers will be treated with orchids and other favors.
Dedication proper, at 12:30 p.m., will feature appearances of Mayor Alfred W. Loucks and Police Chief Clyde Warren.
The ramp type building designed to serve shoppers by bolstering downtown parking facilities occupies a quarter block at the southeast corner of High and Ferry streets. It was designed by Pietro Belluschi.
Shoppers' Car park is one of three such parking facilities being developed in the downtown area by Union Security Co. Construction of one is underway at Ferry and Commercial streets and another is being planned at Liberty and Ferry streets where an old frame garage now stands.
Thomas A. Roberts, Jr., manager, said Friday that Shoppers' Car park is emphasizing fast service in handling cars and the availability of parking space for casual or regular use. Space is available by the hour, day, week or month.

Four Store Fronts To Get Face-Lifting
New store fronts will be added to four business shops in the Market building, 400 block North Commercial street, owner Lee Eyerly said Friday. Eyerly obtained a $12,800 city building permit to cover the alterations.
Property involved is occupied by a market, drug store, coffee shop and barber shop. Eyerly purchased the Market building last month.
Tot Lauded for Alertness Which Averted Tragedy
A Salem youngster who nearly drowned Thursday was doing all-right Friday, and neighbors were praising the alertness of his friend, Arty Waldorf, age 4, in prompting his rescue.
When H. D. Palmer rescued his 3-year-old son from Mill creek near South 23rd street, it was on the speedy warning brought him by the Waldorf boy who had seen the tot tumble into the stream.
Young Arthur is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldorf, 2155 Ferry street.

Campus Group Hits Grading On Volunteers

Objecting to the decision of Willamette university to give F for Failure marks on boys who leave school to enter the armed services, the student paper, the Collegian, in its issue of Friday urged that that "harsh policy" be abandoned and that students simply be permitted to withdraw with an entry of "no credits."
The administration policy is stated in a letter to the Collegian by Dean Robert Gregg.
To bring the matter again to the attention of the university administration, a committee has been organized to circulate a petition among the students which would indicate student disapproval of the policy of giving "failing grades to all students who volunteer for duty with the armed forces" and their belief that individuals should be free to volunteer without having "such serious punishment imposed."
Members of the committee are Paul Dalley, Gilbert Davies and Stephen Nicks.
The university policy is said to be that adopted by the association of colleges. While students are safe from the draft until the end of the college year, some want to enlist either to anticipate the draft or because of opportunity to enter special branches of military service.

States to Get Share Of Forestry Income
Counties in Oregon and Washington will receive approximately $3,500,000 as their share of national forest receipts for the fiscal year 1950-51, the state forestry department reported Friday.
This amount represents 25 per cent of the total receipts received from the national forests in the two states for timber sales, livestock grazing, special use permits and other business.
Such payments are made in lieu of taxes each year by the federal government to counties having national forests within their boundaries.

Mrs. Rostel Takes Public Relations Post

Mrs. Ernest Rostel, ex-Salem resident and former newspaperwoman, has become public relations director for the American Hearing Society in Washington, D. C.
She is to begin her work later this month after moving to the national capital from Denver, Colo. The society represents 34 state groups working in behalf of the deaf.
Following the death of her husband last June in Salem, Mrs. Rostel went to Rocky Mountain National Park, Colo., where she was the guest of Superintendent and Mrs. David H. Canfield. From October to the end of December she was on the staff of the Estes Park Trail, weekly newspaper published in the famous mountain tourist village. She previously had worked for the Trail when the late Mr. Rostel was publicity man for the national park from 1938 to 1942.

Tax Message Gives Grains Uneasy Tone

CHICAGO, Jan. 12—(P)—Traders in grains spent a confusing session today and final prices showed it. A bizarre scramble of gains and losses which made little sense.
Chief item of interest, and outweighing the routine grain news, was President Truman's Economic message to Congress. Grains sank when financial news tickers started carrying this message, but they recovered smartly in later dealings.
Wheat closed 1-7/8 lower, corn was 1/4 lower to 3/8 higher, oats were 3/8 lower to 1/4 higher, rye was 1-1/4 lower, soybeans were 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher and lard was 5 cents lower to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher.
