

Donna Whitely, Mr. Combs Married

Spring colors, yellow and green, were used in the decorations and the bows of the attendants for the beautiful wedding on Saturday afternoon when Miss Donna Muriel Whitely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Chambers, became the bride of Franklin Marcus Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Combs.

It was at 4 o'clock that Dr. Seth Huntington performed the rites before a large gathering of relatives and friends of the couple. Corydon Blodgett was the soloist and Mrs. W. H. East was the organist. The altar was banked with bouquets of daffodils, calla lilies, stock and yellow snapdragons. The aisle was marked with white tapers tied with clusters of daffodils and greens.

Of white satin was the bridal gown enhanced with a handmade imported lace yoke edged with a satin-cuff and a full skirt which terminated in a court train. Her full length tulle veil was edged in the imported lace and cascaded from a satin Juliet cap adorned with her mother's orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. Mr. Chambers gave the bride in marriage.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Miss Patricia Zosel, the honor maid, Mrs. Richard Whitely, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Beverly Gustafson, the bridesmaids. Their frocks were of marquisette over taffeta-fashioned with full skirts and crinoline at the hipline. The fitted bodices were sleeveless. Miss Zosel wore pastel green and the bridesmaids were in pale yellow. They wore matching Juliet caps with shoulder length veils and carried colonial bouquets of daffodils, snapdragons and stock centered with violets.

Walking immediately before the bride was Rebecca Purvine, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Purvine, whose floor length frock was of yellow organza made with puffed sleeves, Peter Pan collar and tied with a sash. She wore a matching Juliet cap of satin.

Attend the Groom
Jack Larson stood with the groom as best man and seating the guests were Virgil Schuetz and Marvin Simpson.
For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Chambers chose a rose crepe gown with gold accessories. Mrs. Combs attended her son's marriage in an aqua crepe gown. Their corsages were of orchids.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the fireplace room. Mrs. Ralph E. Purvine and Mrs. Lloyd Riches, aunt of the bride, poured. Mrs. George Jackson of Portland, assisted by Mrs. Donald McNeil, cut the cake. Assisting were the Misses Merle Rhoten, Frances Baum, Shirley Webber and Marilyn Burris. Billy Purvine passed the guest book.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Canada the new Mrs. Combs changed to a red and black check suit with fitted black coat and black accessories. On their return they will be at home at 1880 North Commercial street.
