Festive but Simple

February Brings Several Holidays for Extra Special Festive Family Meals

By Maxine Buren
 Statesman Woman's Editor

It doesn't take a great deal of extra effort to turn a routine family meal into a festive affair. The month of February is chock full of special days for such special meals. Fortunately for the homemaker, the color which predominates on February holidays, red, is an easy one to use in food. It's not only a color appearing on foods often, but it is an attractive one for artificially colored foods. We can't say as much for the blue, which of course must make its appearance sometimes on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. But we can ignore the latter in foods, using it with red and white for decoration only.

We wouldn't advise the use of blue colored foods, it has an unwell look. Paper Napkins Help Valentine's day of course is easy to decorate for. Shops show lots of favors featuring hearts, and one can buy tablecloths and napkins for that day.

One heart-shaped salad or dessert and a Valentine napkin for each member of the family turns the evening meal into a special party. Fruit salad in strawberry or raspberry gelatine, jellied cranberry ring or jellied beet salad, made in a heart shaped mold or decorated with hearts cut from some red food will serve.

Lincoln and logs go together. To make a salad which would please the youngsters on Lincoln's birthday, arrange asparagus stalks in a square rail-fence fashion. Fill center with mixed raw or cooked vegetable salad.

Cookies Handy Cookies can be made in the form of logs, or a jelly roll can vaguely simulate a log if rolled in chocolate and sent to the table whole, to be served. A larger cardboard axe can be stuck into the jelly roll for atmosphere.

Washington's birthday and cherries of course are synonymous. Cherry salad, pie, pudding or sauce for ice cream give the feeling of Washington's birthday. Flags, hatches, red and white stripes and stars, all lend a festive appearance to the meal and make the family conscious that you've done something special for them.

Engagement Revealed

From Portland comes news of the engagement of Miss Audrey Nan Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erwin Larsen, to John Edward Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn E. Erickson of Salem. No wedding date has been set.

Miss Larsen and her fiancé are students at Oregon State college. The bride-elect is affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority and Mr. Erickson, a Salem high school graduate, is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Meeting Is Cancelled

The regular meeting of the Salem unit, Republican Women's Federation, slated for Monday night has been cancelled for this month. Members are asked to attend the joint session of the senate and house of representatives Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A program has been arranged to commemorate Lincoln's birthday with Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, the speaker.

Miss Clemons Is Married

Miss Myrtle Clemons and Claire Elwood were married at an evening ceremony on January 26 at the First Congregational church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Albert O. Fluit and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ellis E. Elwood.

The Rev. Seth Huntington performed the 8 o'clock rites. Edith Fairham Gunnar was the soloist and Jean Hobson Rich the organist. Lighting the tapers were Miss Kay Stoddard and Miss Shirley Wayt.

For her wedding the bride selected a white satin gown fashioned en train with lace bordering the net yoke on the bodice and the long sleeves. A Juliet cap of net trimmed in seed pearls held in place her fingertip length veil. She carried a white Bible marked with an orchid. Mr. Fluit gave the bride in marriage.

Mrs. Richard O'Connor was the matron of honor and wore a blue taffeta gown and carried a pastel nosegay. Mr. O'Connor served as best man. Virginia Fluit, the bride's young sister, was ring bearer. Ushers were Ronald Stevens and Richard Cunningham.

A reception followed in the fireplace room. Assisting were Mrs. Ronald Stevens, Miss Janice Bevens, Miss Kay Stoddard, Miss Shirley Wayt and Miss Nancy Clemons.

The couple will make their home in Salem at 690 South Commercial street.
