

Men's Choral Group Formed

A men's choral group for Salem, the Capital Gleemen sponsored by the local chapter Knights of Pythias, gained impetus Monday night at an organizational meeting, according to Felix C. French, director. Plans were discussed for building a "good singing organization for those who like to sing." Another meeting is scheduled next Monday at his home.

Accompanying the gleemen will be Miss Gladys Edgar, Salem pianist. "But we still need voices in all sections," French said. "We are open to all men who like to sing and want to do something better in music with a permanent organization. We aren't professionals and we have financial backing for materials." The gleemen plan to present varied selections from popular to classical.

French is well known in Salem music circles and is now in his fourth year as director of Santiam Choral club, successful mixed chorus at Stoughton. The sponsors feel the gleemen will fill a similar need they recognize in Salem.

The director invites all interested men to meet at 160 W. Wilson, Monday, February 19 at 8 p.m.; or for further information call him or Don Judson.

Refugee's Wife, Son Set Welcome

PORTLAND, Feb. 15 (AP)—The German refugee wife and son of Max Schnell were preparing today to welcome him to Portland within a few days.

He is aboard an American bound ship which will dock in New York tomorrow.

The family has been separated for two years. His wife, Mrs. Johanna Schnell, and their son, Siegfried, 29, came to Portland in 1948 from China, obtaining visas under the German quota.

Schnell was not permitted to enter at the time because he was declared a Pole.

There are three main kinds of time: sidereal, apparent solar and mean solar.

On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. If the bride-to-be at a shower gives her thanks to each guest personally as she opens her gift, it is also necessary for her to write thank-you notes later to these people?

A. This is not necessary, except to those persons who sent gifts and were unable to be present at the shower.

Q. When a young man wishes to ask a girl for a date, is it all right to lead up to it by asking, "What are you doing Saturday evening?"

A. No; this is a very crude approach. Tell her you would like to take her to dinner or to a show Saturday evening.

Q. Is it permissible for a business or professional woman, who marries, to retain her maiden name for business purposes?

A. Yes; this is often done, when the maiden name has become established and has advertising value.

iz. Mrs. Marie Bosch, Mrs. Orlo Palmer, Mrs. Golda Padley, Mrs. Fae Loomis, Mrs. Erma Tischler, Mrs. Myrtle Davis, Mrs. Dollie Ramp and the hostess.

Night School to Start Spring Classes Soon

Public night school will swing into its spring term at Salem next week.

New courses will be offered in lamp shade making and group dynamics and several "old favorites" will be resumed, according to George D. Porter, director of adult education for Salem public schools.

The group dynamics class will study how to conduct meetings. Group organization and program planning will be dealt with in addition to parliamentary procedure. The ten-week term will be conducted on Monday nights at Salem high school. Tuition is $5.

Courses in tailoring, interior decoration and foods will be offered following a lapse. Tuition for each is $4.50. A short-story writing class also is planned. Folk and square dancing will be repeated on Wednesday nights. The course attracted 103 persons during the winter term, most of whom are expected to re-enroll.

A course in plane surveying will be offered at the request of state highway department officials, primarily for employes of that department.

Registration for each of the 29 courses listed for the spring term will be conducted the first night the class meets. Nearly all are scheduled for Monday or Wednesday nights. A list of courses may be secured at the school administration building, 460 N. High st.
