Salems Roll to 60-39 Verdict Over Angels

By Al Lightner
Statesman Sports Editor

The District 11 cage tournament ran true to form last night at the Vik Villa, its second evening of existence, as the Station Eagles and Salem Vikings rolled up victories and joined Silverton and North Marion as quintets that have yet to be defeated in the double elimination conclave.

After Joe Boyle's hustling Eagles downed Johnny Seim's Cascade Cougars, 39-30, the title favored Salem squad went to a 60-39 nod over a Mt. Angel outfit that refused to be awed at any time by the recorded superiority of Mentor Harold Houks's crew.

All four losers to date—Sacred Heart, Woodburn, Cascade and Mt. Angel—go postwar tonight, the first two playing at seven o'clock and the latter pair at 8:30. Winners will remain in the playoffs, but the losers will be eliminated. Station and Salem will clash Saturday night at 8:30, after Silverton plays North Marion at seven.

Too much Stayton height and subsequent backboard work ruined Cascade's bid for the decision in their game last night. Led by 6-foot 8-inch Hal Titus, an All-Marion-Polk leaguer, the Eagles held quarterly advantages of 9-7 and 25-10.

But the scrappy Cougars put forth a determined effort in the third frame, outplayed Stayton and closed the gap to 31-18 at the buzzer. There was no catching up to be done by the Cougars, however, and reserves finished out most of the fourth period.

Titus' 17 points led the victors. For Cascade 14, were Glenn Ling and Mary Schaefer, with 11 and 7 respectively, who kept their team in the ball game.

The vaunted Vikings had no easy time of it to start with in their mix with the weaving, darting and deliberate Preps. After going ahead 4-1 on baskets by Einar Haugen and Bob Hazel, the big Vikings were momentarily stunned as Captain Francis Donley, a whopper of a high school basketball player for his 5-feet, 9-inches, directed his club to a 5-4 lead.

It didn't last long, however, as Hazel flipped the ball to Einar Haugen and Bob Hazel, the big Vikings were momentarily stunned as Captain Francis Donley, a whopper of a high school basketball player for his 5-feet, 9-inches, directed his club to a 5-4 lead.

But the Viking class and height was too much for Gene Barrett's Hilltoppers, who, under the brilliant floor leader, and Mt. Angel fell behind 25-16 at halftime.

Hazel and Deb Davis, who was in for Larry Chamberlain most of the game, beat a steady tattoo on the Preps' basket in period No. 3 to swell the Salem margin to 40-23 with 2:32 left to play in it. Hazel then inserted his reserves and they finished out the game. Mt. Angel rallied strongly before the third period ended, and scored seven points while Salem failed to tally a one.

Donley fouled out halfway through the final frame and while him went any chance the Preps might have had. He's practically the entire show for Mt. Angel.

Davis finished high man for Salem with 12 points. Hazel had 18, Donley hit for 12, also, and Fiat had 11.

'Get That Ball' Theme of District Tourney

The ball and its possession is a precious item in District 11 cage play at Salem high, as the pictures will attest. At left Ted Reinwald (5) of Sacred Heart and Bob Miller of North Marion tag furiously at it while Ron Barendsen and Jan Liew of the Huskies look on from the rear. No. 11 is Dave Mock of SEA and behind him is Virgil Weber. At right, Woodburn's Len Pavlicek (20) has a swipe at the sphere as

Injury KO's April Louis Bout

Charles' Next Defense May be Against Maxim

By Murray Rose

DETROIT, Mich., March 8—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Esard Charles and Joe Louis probably won't meet again until September. The champ, instead, may make his next title defense against light heavyweight King Joe Maxim in Pittsburgh in late July.

Louis' hopes for an April return with Charles were ruined by an ear injury suffered by the Cincinnati Negro in his successful 15-round bout with old Jersey Joe Walcott here last night.

And plans for a June outdoor scrap in Chicago were cancelled for other reasons, chiefly money.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing club, said Louis had increased his demands for a June outdoor fight and that there was "wide disagreement" between the principals.

"If Charles hadn't suffered that injury to his left ear which will keep him out a month or two the fight very likely would have gone off in Chicago in April," said Norris.

"Now Louis feels he should get better terms for an outdoor fight," added Norris. "He seems to feel that because of the delay he is in a better bargaining position."

As a result it appears very likely that the 29-year-old Charles will make his eighth title defense against Maxim in Pittsburgh's (Continued on Next Page.)

Spivey, Kansas Whizz Top AP All-Amerk Vote

By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, March 8—(AP)—Bill Spivey, Kentucky; Clyde Lovellette, Kansas; Gene Melchiorre, Bradley; Sam Ranzino, North Carolina State; and Bill Mlkvy, Temple, were named today to the 1951 Associated Press All-American collegiate basketball team.

This team of top players from the Southeastern conference, the Big Seven, the Missouri Valley, the Southern conference and an eastern independent was chosen by a vote of 227 sports writers and broadcast.

Sherman White of Long Island U. was selected on a majority of the ballots, but his name was withdrawn when he became involved in the current basketball scandal of fixed games.

Seven-foot Spivey, of Kentucky's No. one team in the Associated Press poll, improved to such an extent over his playing of a year ago that he drew the most votes.

On the basis of five points for each first team vote and two points for a second team, Spivey received 823 votes on 148 ballots and 41 seconds. Lovellette got 602 points, Melchiorre 552, Ranzino 525 and Mlkvy 524.

Dick Groat, Duke's high scorer; Bob Zawoluk, St. Johns, Brooklyn; Bill Garrett, Indiana; Gale McArthur, Oklahoma A & M; and Ernie Barrett, Kansas State, were named to a second team. Mel Hutchins, Brigham Young; Whitey Skoog, Minnesota; John Azary, Columbia; Mark Workman, West Virginia; and Frank Ramsey, Kentucky, composed a third team.

State B Hoop Tourney Near

Plans for the State B basketball tournament, to be held March 15 to 17 at Willamette university, were virtually completed, according to Pat Campbell, president of the sponsoring Exchange club.

Only two clubs have won starting berths in the championship tourney to date, but district play will be completed this week to fill the other six spots. Phoenix in district 5, and Moro in district 6, have already clinched championships in their districts.

Season tickets for the tournament are on sale at Wickland's Sporting Goods, at $3.50 per seat for the entire tournament. Student tickets are $2.40.

Warrior Club Upsets Valsetz

Gates, F-City, Jeff Lose; Semis Tonight

MONMOUTH, Mar. 8—(Special)—Gervais, Amity, Sublimity and Corbett, plunged into the semi-finals and Gates, Falls City, Valsetz and Jefferson saw their hopes killed as the single elimination District B-2 tourney opened on the OCE floor tonight.

At least one of today's opening round tilts proved an A-1 upset as Amity's Warriors of the Yawama League surprised the Valsetz Loggers, kings of the Polk County B loop, by a 48-41 count. Sublimity's Saints, titlists of the Marion County B league and rated along with Valsetz as one of the teams to beat, got by their initial hurdles as they whipped Falls City, 45-33.

The Gervais Cougars advanced to the semis with a 46-36 victory over Gates in the first afternoon game and Corbett made the rounds of-four by decisioning Jefferson's Lions, 44-35 in the second game of the night program.

Friday night's semi-finals action puts Gervais against Amity at 7:30 and Sublimity opposite Corbett at approximately 9 o'clock.

The Valsetz-Amity fray was close until the Warriors pulled away in the final minutes. Valsetz had an 8-7 first-quarter lead, Amity moved in front 24-23 at the half but the Loggers managed to get back into the fore at 31-30 when the third-quarter gun sounded. Norm Neumann and Jack Williams then sparked the Amity surge which iced the contest. Neumann tossed in 21 points and Williams had 11. Marc Head led Valsetz with 16 and Jim Burcheil had 13.

It was Sublimity all the way against Falls City. The Saints led at the end of the first heat, 17-9, had a 28-17 halftime margin and enjoyed a 38-29 advantage at the windup of the third quarter. Clem Lulay and Ron Meier sparked Sublimity with 12 and 11 points respectively but Bud Nairn of Falls City was high for the game with 18.

Gervais moved to a 23-17 intermission lead over Gates and never was behind after that. John McCall hit 15 and Earl Belleque 12 for the Cougars. Marlin Cole and Jim Carey paced Gates with 11 and 10.

Jefferson trailed almost all the way against Corbett. The team from along the Columbia river was in front 9-5, 19-15 and 33-20 at the guns. Tom Pomante was the top Corbett scoring man with 16 and Neil Brown and Bill Marlatt led Jeff with eight apiece.

Coast Conference Playoff Opens

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, March 8—(Special)—The University of Washington Huskies, celebrating their first Northern Division championship under Coach Tippy Dye, and the UCLA Bruins, champions of the Southern Division for the third consecutive year, open the Pacific Coast conference basketball playoffs in Edmondson pavilion here Friday night. The second game is scheduled for Saturday night and the third, if necessary, for Monday.

Local Anglers Win Awards

Chas. F. Fearing, 830, N. 20th St. and Don Harger, Outdoor Editor for the Statesman were notified on Thursday by the Field & Stream Outdoor magazine that they had won first prizes in the annual Field & Stream Fishing Contest in the Special Spinning Division.

Fearing's prize winning fish was a 44 lb. chinook taken from the Nestucca river last November on light spinning tackle, and Harger's winning fish was a 13 lb. Silver Salmon taken on light spinning tackle also from the Nestucca river last October.

Harger's fish also placed 5th in the Field & Stream Open Division which allows fish caught by any angling method. Fearing's prize money amounted to $25.00 while Harger's fish was worth $35.00. (A good price for salmon ... eh-what?)
