

Kiwanis Told Proposed Hi-Y 'Legislation'

The provisions of and arguments for "legislation" that Salem Hi-Y clubs will introduce in the annual Oregon youth legislature here next month were presented to Salem Kiwanis club Tuesday by the delegates.

They were introduced by Jim Kleen of Salem, president of the senate, who called the legislature "our chance to prove we're not hot-rod happy kids but do care about the future." He noted that some bills introduced by Salem youth in past sessions had later become actual law.

Marion Putman of Arthur Cotton chapter, asking for a reduction of the voting age to 18 years along with eight other clubs, called the modern 18-year-old better versed for the job than the 21-year-old of the days when the age was established, because of education and the newspaper. He added that "we are subject to be shot but not subject to govern." Putman urged that political developments should parallel scientific and cultural advancement.

Cut Traffic Deaths
Lowell Ralph of Claude Kells chapter said the bill to increase drunk driving penalties would cut traffic deaths by 80 per cent. The measure calls for a one-year license suspension for the first offense and permanent revocation for further offenses.

A new intermediate correctional institution for 18-21-year-olds is urged by A. A. Stagg club, represented by Mike Deeney, to keep young offenders from getting advanced ideas from older criminals at the penitentiary.

Licensing of Advisors
The controversial bill to allow high school secret societies was outlined by Whitney Benson of Harrison Elliott chapter. It requires listing of members and officers with the school board, an adult adviser, purely social aims and no school connections, for which the club would gain school recognition.

Cleo Keppinger of Abel Gregg club told of the bill to eliminate taxes on real property transactions due to inflation, when the seller must put the sale price into other property.

Rita-Aly Khan Marriage on Royal Rocks

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—A lawyer today provided the first official inkling that the storybook romance of a prince and a princess—Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth—is headed for a non-fairytale crakup.

The glamorous actress' attorney, Bartley Crum, was asked about long-standing and oft-denied reports that Rita will seek a divorce from the Moslem prince. Said he: "No decision has been reached yet."

The significance of this statement was in the fact that it was the first time anyone able to speak for the actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

When Rita returned here from Europe on April 2, she was asked about the divorce reports and replied:

"There is no truth in that."

Later she notified her Hollywood studio she was available for movie roles. This set off new talk of a rift.

Rita left Aly during an African tour, complaining of the heat. She said she planned to visit Hollywood. Her arrival in this country April 2 fanned the reports of domestic trouble.

Rites in California For John Hardie
Funeral services will be held in Santa Cruz, Calif., today for John D. Hardie, brother of State Sen. Stewart Hardie, Condon, who was killed by communist Huk in the Philippines March 20.

Mrs. Stewart Hardie, James Hardie of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer of Condon will attend the services. Senator Hardie's brother was engaged in the lumber industry in the Philippines at the time of his death.

Auto-Train Crash Damages Denied

Court damages for an auto-train accident were denied Tuesday by a Marion county circuit court jury to Leonard K. Remington.

Remington sought judgment of $11,215 for injuries sustained when his car struck a train of empty log-flats on Lancaster drive just north of Four Corners on Sept. 5, 1948. His wife had sued separately for $17,647.

Defendants were Southern Pacific company, Paul E. Campbell, the conductor and F. A. Bewley, the engineer.

Harry Reed of Seattle Elected By Musicians

Harry L. Reed, Seattle, Wash., was reelected president of the northwest conference of the American Federation of Musicians Tuesday during the final day of the federation's three-day convention here.

Glenn Hoar of local 315, Salem, was elected sergeant-at-arms. Regional vice-presidents elected included Don Mastro, Renton-Auburn, B.C.; Harold A. Sapp, Olympia, Wash.; L. A. Miller, Yakima, Wash.; and William Hamilton, Eugene. Ray W. Walker of Olympia was elected secretary-treasurer.

Executive board members elected include Julian McCaffery, Bellingham, Wash.; Francis Wallace, Tacoma, Wash.; Ted Myrick, Pasco, Wash., and Howard Rich, Portland.

Medford was selected as the site of the 1952 convention. Hoar, secretary-business manager of the Salem local, handled most of the arrangements for the conference here.

R. A. McFarlane Succumbs to Long Illness

Robert A. McFarlane, Salem realtor and lifetime resident of Oregon, died Tuesday at a Salem hospital following a long illness. He was 65 years old.

McFarlane was born at Turner, April 7, 1886 and except for several years spent in Portland, had resided in the Salem area all his life. He was married in 1943 to Clara Krueger who survives. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving besides the widow are two sisters, Mrs. Edna Stalcup, and Mrs. Bertha Plymale, Portland; two brothers, William McFarlane, Salem, and Albert McFarlane, Portland.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, April 26 at 2 p.m. from the Virgil T. Golden chapel with Dr. Chester W. Hamblin officiating. Interment will be Belcrest Memorial park.

Mississippi Dikes Holding

By The Associated Press
The crest of the surging Mississippi hit Iowa river cities Tuesday, but all major dikes held and the danger of extensive new damage eased in that area.

The only dike break reported was at Spring Lake, Ill. An old levee crumbled, flooding 3,000 acres of government owned recreation land below Savanna.

However, the worst of the flood won't reach threatened downstream Illinois, Iowa and Missouri cities until later in the week.

The Mississippi flood already has made 7,400 persons homeless in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

EARNINGS JUMP 12.4%
Average weekly earnings of Oregon's industrial production workers increased 12.4 per cent to $79.09 during the past 12 months, the state unemployment compensation commission reported Tuesday.

Final Phase of School Razing Starts Today

Razing of the shell of the old Washington school building to make way for a new Safeway supermarket will get under way this morning, T. M. Medford, Safeway Stores district manager here, announced Tuesday.

Gaylord Construction company of Portland has been awarded the contract to tear down the frame of the historic building located in the 1200 block on Center street. Andersen-Westfall company, industrial builders, has the contract for erecting the new building.

The new store will measure 120 feet wide and 175 feet long. It will consist of reinforced concrete with brick exterior facing. It will face center street, said Medford, and when the project is completed will include facilities to park 280 autos.

"The entire 320 foot square block will be occupied by the store and parking area," said Medford. "When completed it will be one of the largest Safeway stores on the Pacific coast."

Contract for the structure calls for completion by October 15, he added.

"Arrangements are being made," Medford said, "to preserve and deliver various portions of the architecture of the old school to the Marion County Historical society."

All the trees now on the grounds, he stated, would be saved, except those which will interfere with the parking area, building or driveways.

Scouts Plan Paper Drive Next Sunday

Boy Scouts will conduct a waste-paper drive in Salem Sunday afternoon to raise funds for improvements at Camp Pioneer.

Householders are asked to bundle the papers and magazines separately and place them on the curbing. In the event of rain the bundles may be left on porches.

The canvass will start at 1 p.m. and will include west Salem. Fifteen crews, each with trucks contributed by local business firms, will conduct the pick-up "as speedily as possible," said Robert J. Davidson, who is in charge of the drive.

Residents whose paper is not picked up, may call the scout office Monday morning at 2-4117 and the bundles will be called for. Proceeds from the sale of the paper will be used on needed improvements at the Cascade area council summer camp in the Cascades. They include establishment of a family camp for families of adult unit leaders at summer camp, piping of drinking water to various places in camp and other projects.

Jury Refuses To Indict Men

A Marion county grand jury refused Tuesday to indict Edward V. Jeffries, 417 S. 12th st., and W. E. Stout, 265 N. Commercial st.

Jeffries had been charged with larceny by bailee. He was arrested in February. Stout had faced charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.
