State Highway Aid Sought For South 12th
The Oregon state highway commission will be petitioned to widen the South 12th street hill and to take over all of South 12th street from Hoyt street to the Pacific highway.

This was revealed Friday in a meeting of the 12th street Civic Improvement club, which is initiating the move. President Alvin Whitlaw said the highway commission would be petitioned soon for a hearing on the matter.

The club is assured of the backing of Marion county court, whose three members attended the meeting Friday noon at the Tic Tok cafe. President Whitlaw outlined the need for a third lane on the hill for slow-moving truck traffic.

The county court told club members that the county now owns that section of road but that the county does not have the funds to improve it. Whitlaw said he would enlist the aid of other groups in Salem in the project.

Salem Soldiers Given Korean Combat Badges

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION IN KOREA, May 4 - Five men from the Salem, Ore., area have been awarded the Combat Infantryman's badge while serving with the U.S. First cavalry division in Korea.

Those who earned it are Sgt. 1/c Alfred Johnson, 7th regiment, husband of Mrs. Mary E. Johnson, 2260 Broadway st., Salem; PFC J. C. Weston, 5th regiment, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Weston, Dallas route 2; PFC Richard M. Moen, 5th regiment, son of Mrs. Phyllis F. Moen, Albany route 4; PFC Max E. Corbett, 5th regiment, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley E. Corbett, 1284 Blaine st., Woodburn; Pvt. Roy W. Hedrick, 7th regiment, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Hedrick, Independence.

This badge, which is awarded only to frontline combat infantrymen, distinguishes the actual fighting man from the rear area and service troops in a combat zone. A soldier must be a member of an infantry regiment to be eligible. The badge itself consists of a miniature replica of a revolutionary flint lock rifle on a rectangular blue background superimposed over a wreath. It is worn by the soldier over his left breast pocket above his campaign ribbons.

Dairymen See Improved Accommodations For Cows on Tour of Marion County Farms

By Lillie L. Madsen
Farm Editor, The Statesman
MT. ANGEL, May 4 - Cows lying on electrically warmed floors, milking parlors as clean as dining rooms and loafing sheds in which cows may rest out of the rain while they chew their cud were only a few of the items viewed today when more than 100 Marion county dairymen made a tour of four farms in this area.

Ben A. Newell, Marion county livestock agent, explained the tour was aimed at being educational. Those attending admitted they learned that running a dairy farm today is a far cry from what it was in the good old days.

While modern methods, including milking machines and automatic silage feeders, should save much time, restrictions are so rigid that time saved by modern equipment is more than consumed in maintaining modern cleanliness requirements, Newell pointed out.

Two of the big attractions of today's tour were a new glass-glazed silo and the heated floors, both found at the Clem Berning Holstein farm. An electric soil cable running beneath the stalls keeps the cement floor warm while the cows are in the milking parlor.

"Lying with udders on cold floors has been found to be one of the contributing factors in mastitis," Berning explained, adding that "if we save two or three cows from mastitis we more than pay for the equipment."

The tour today was arranged jointly by the Marion County Dairy Herd Improvement association and the Marion County Dairy Breeders' association. Newell conducted the tour as well as led the caravan of some 30 cars.

The 150-ton capacity silo, recently erected at the Berning farm is an attractive deep blue steel, encased, both outside and within, with glass glazing.

First stop of the afternoon was at the August Minke Guernsey ranch north of Mt. Angel. Minke moved here two years ago from Shedd and now have 34 head of cattle, 14 of which are being milked at the present. High producers on non-irrigated pastures were the feature of the farm. One five-year old cow had already produced 680 pounds butterfat in 301 days.

Newell pointed out that 690 in a year was their record production and that this Guernsey would be kept on test until the year was up, making her a record cow. Two special features of the Minke farm were the calf barn of unusual and most convenient style and the new milking parlor just completed.

Two other stops today were at the George Kruse and Ben Vandecovering ranches, both south of Mt. Angel. In both instances milking parlors and loafing sheds were the chief interests outside of the Holstein herds.

The dairy tour will be continued Saturday, with the start set for 10 a. m. at the Walter Drehs farm four miles out of Newberg on the St. Paul highway. Farms to be visited include the Jim Daugherty farms at Woodburn, the Newt Davis farm at West Woodburn and the Freeburg and Frank Gravingher herds both near Gervais.

Those attending the tour are asked to bring a sack lunch for noon which will be spent at the Davis farm. Coffee is being furnished there.

State vs. Bob Morrow: Charge of obtaining money by false pretenses dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence, on motion of district attorney.

J. A. and Albert McCormick vs. Ralph E. Williams, jr., doing business as Williams and Hart: Jury grants plaintiffs judgment of $3,477.70 as requested.

Jonas F. Taylor vs. Janice Marie Taylor: Complaint for divorce alleging cruel and inhuman treatment seeks ownership of auto, award of furniture to defendant and division of savings. Married Sept. 6, 1947, at Portland, Ore.

Charles O. Samain vs. Eleanor MacLean Samain: Divorce decree to plaintiff restores defendant's former name of Eleanor MacLean, and confirms property settlement agreement.

Army Service Bids Eighteen County Youths

Robert Charles Kirkpatrick has been transferred to Los Angeles and William David Strobbe to Des Moines, Iowa, for induction.

Results of TB Seal Sale Told

Marion county folk purchased $18,653 worth of TB seals during the 1950 drive, members of the county TB and Health association were told here by Mrs. Mem Pearce, seal chairman.

Twenty-three new cases of tuberculosis were diagnosed in Marion county during 1950, reported Mrs. Earl Andresen of the x-ray committee. County deaths from the disease last year totaled nine, and the county now has 44 patients at the state tuberculosis hospital.

The following new directors were elected: Mrs. Earl Wipper, Turner; Kenneth Brown, Silverton; Mrs. Joe Devers, jr., Stayton; and the Rev. Oral Clemens, Salem.

Everit B. Terhune, vice president of the Chilton Co., New York publishers of trade magazines, studied abroad to be a concert violinist before going into the publishing business.

Guard Units Set Week End Drill Program

All of Salem's national guard companies will be in extra training this week end, in preparation for the summer encampment. Between 150 and 200 are expected to participate.

Infantry Companies B and G will leave the armory at 7 a.m. to spend both today and Sunday at Camp Adair on the firing range. They will bivouac tonight at the camp. Firing will include some pistols and mostly .30 calibre M-1 rifles. All men must qualify before going to camp in order to make better use of training time there.

The Adair session also will include Company A of McMinnville and Company C of Eugene, which with Company B are in the first battalion of the 162nd infantry, 41st division. Company G is in second battalion.

Battery D, 722nd anti-aircraft artillery battalion, will train this afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock and Sunday morning from 8 to 1 o'clock at the quonset huts at 25th and Lee streets. They will be broken up into sections by assignments for special instruction in various subjects.

The new battery this week received a large amount of new equipment ranging from buckets and uniforms to additional guns and a new three-quarter ton amphibious fording vehicle. Uniforms and guns have arrived for all men currently with the unit.

and William David Strobbe to Des Moines, Iowa, for induction.

Judgment Granted In Hop Damage Suit

Judgment for the full $3,477 they had sought was granted J. A. and Albert McCormick by a Marion county circuit court jury Friday, in a hop contract damage suit.

The McCormicks had sued Ralph E. Williams and Hart, alleging that the latter firm had inspected and accepted for purchase 31 bales of hops in 1947, then repudiated the agreement on grounds that the hops did not meet quality requirements.

Demonstration Of Gardening Slated Today

Demonstration of garden planting, postponed a week, will be given at 2 p.m. today in the Salem Men's Garden club plot in Busb's Pasture park, "rain or shine."

Mark Taylor of the club called the postponement a good demonstration of the fact that it's not too late yet to start a garden. He said planting could be done for another 30 days with this kind of weather, and added that about 70 per cent of the vegetables grown in home gardens can be planted as late as July 1.

Starting with the hardier vegetables, plantings will be made each Saturday for the next four or five weeks.

MUSIC WEEK PROCLAIMED
Observance of National Music Week, starting Monday, was urged by Governor Douglas McKay here Friday. Gov. McKay said music is an essential part of a well-rounded life.
