

Mickey Raschko Upsets Russell, Gains Elks; Tourney Semi-Finals

Miller, Brande Wittenberg In 17-Year-Old Edges Handicap Champion

By Tommy Wright
Young Mickey Raschko, undaunted by the title-making record of Jack Russell, slipped in a par on the 20th hole Sunday to move into the semi-finals of the Elks' sponsored Mid-Willamette Valley golf tournament at the Salem Golf course.

Wendell Miller, Jack Brande of Lebanon and Bill Wittenberg also recorded quarter-final victories.

Raschko, 17-year-old Salem linksman, matched Russell's 74 effort over the regulation 18-holes, matched his par 5 on the 19th and then added a par on 20 while Jack was settling for a bogie 5.

The victory for Raschko will bring together a pair of comparative youngsters in semi-final action slated for next Sunday morning at the course. He will tee off against Willamette's ace Bill Wittenberg in one half of a foursome match scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Wittenberg had advanced to the semi-final with an easy 4-3 victory over Harv Quistad earlier in the week.

Meeting in the other half of the Sunday match will be Miller and Brande. Miller fired a 73 to edge Jim Sheldon 2-1 while Brande settled for a 74 in defeating Bob Burrell, 3-1, in his match. Miller's victory came on the 17th when he sank a 12-foot putt to tie Sheldon's par-four effort. Sheldon had a 74 for the complete 18. Burrell was four over at 76 in losing to Brande.

Tea-off time has been set for 9:15 a.m. Sunday for the semi-final foursome plan in the first flight of the tournament. Bob Sederstrom and Roger Putnam match strokes while Walt Cline, Jr. plays young Kent Myers. Sederstrom advanced with a 4-3 triumph over Win Needham; Putnam took the measure of Jim Humphrey, 2-1; Cline edged Bill Schaffer, 1-up; and Myers defeated Dave Moon via the 1-up route.

Other flights, except for the 11th, move into their final round of action this week, with title matches to be completed by Sunday night. Ted Reed already claimed the flight 11 honors with an easy 4-3 victory over J. W. McCallister.

Tuckett Tops Salems Buccola Leads WIL Bat Chase

Lean and lanky Vic Buccola, veteran first sacker for the Tri-City Braves, led the Western International league's batting parade through games of May 13 with a rousing .425 average, according to official figures from the Howe News bureau in Chicago. Buccola replaced Salem's Glenn Stetter, who slumped to a .328 mark after leading the pack the week before. Glenn Tuckett is leading Salem hitter with a .354 mark.

Buccola and Spokane Catcher Ed Nulty led in home runs also, with four each. Ken Richardson, Spokane infielder is second in the batting average department behind Buccola with a .385 mark, leads in doubles with 10 and is tied with two others for the runs lead with 24.

The 32 hits for Dick Sinovic of Vancouver is tops in that department. Sinovic also is out in front with 25 runs batted in. Vancouver's Bob Snyder continued to pace the pitchers with his six straight wins. Averages:

Rollin' Along

(Contd. from Prec. Page) have enjoyed their best season since the palmy days of Cline, Groves and Uiter, collaring the Big Six title Friday and building a fine regular schedule mark of 13 wins and only two losses in competition with some of the better outfits in the state.

Must be a particular source of satisfaction to Bunny, since he himself is a former Viking star. Add all-round stars: Floyd Trussell, the versatile Leslie junior higher. Floyd, rated one of the speediest lads in junior ranks this year, pitched with fair success on the baseball team, has been a main cog on the south-enders' winning cinder squad, was no slouch as a hooper and was always a threat as a grid backfielder last fall...

Biting the Hand— Herb Booth, Stayton high athletic skipper, saw the Eagles lose out to red-hot Cascade in the chase to the Marion-Polk title and leading the Cascades were such lads as Larry Brown and the Wipper boys, Jerry and Lowell. Ironic thing is that Herb mentored all three lads on his Stayton Junior Legion team last season...
