

Week End Angling Conditions Vary; Willamette Valley Streams Fair; Deschutes Reported Good

PORTLAND, May 24—(P)—Most Oregon waters this week-end should produce from fair to excellent results for anglers, the state game commission's bulletin reported today. There are a few doubtful spots and a few definitely labeled as poor.

The report by districts:

Northwest:

In Mt. Hood area Mud, Still, and Camp creeks and Zigzag river are fair on bait. The Clackamas river is still just fair with some good catches reported below Austin Hot Springs. Most Willamette valley streams are fair and the water is generally clearing and dropping. Single eggs and worms have been best in the smaller streams. North and South Santiam rivers are fair with the best catches on single eggs, McKenzie and upper Willamette trout fishing continues fair with most fish taken on worms and eggs. Coastal stream fishing has been fair with a few limit catches taken on spinner and worms. The week-end fishing should be good if there are no freshets. Chinook angling in Tillamook bay is improving.

Southwest:

On upper Umpqua river all waters are in good condition and should be excellent this week-end. Good catches have been made with wet flies. Salmon angling has been fair to good in most areas. A good salmon run is now passing Winchester dam. Salmon fishing on lower Umpqua has been poor. Trout fishing is improving in the lower river and is good in coastal lakes. Large numbers of striped bass are in both the Umpqua and Smith rivers.

Rogue river trout fishing is good on files in the evening. Salmon fishing is only fair although a good number of salmon are in the river. Trout angling in Curry county streams and lakes continues fair to good. Salmon fishing on the lower Rogue is poor.

Central:

Vikings Bow to Medford 3-2 in State Ball Meet

Grant, O-City, The Dalles Win

ALBANY, May 24—(Special)—Salem high school's Vikings bowed out of the State Prep Baseball tourney Thursday at Albany as they dropped a heartbreakingly close 3-2 verdict to Medford's Peapack-ers in an overtime eight innings. The win showed Medford into the semi-finals Friday night at 7 o'clock opposite Grant of Portland which eliminated Milwaukie, 5-0, in today's first game.

Other semi-finalists are Oregon City and The Dalles. Oregon City moved up tonight with a 4-0 win over Parkrose and The Dalles blanked Albany 9-0. These two teams clash at 9 o'clock Friday eve.

The Salem-Medford mix was a tight hurling duel between the Vik's Elwyn (Sonny) Walker and the Peapackers' Darrel Wooten with the deciding tally coming in the bottom of the eighth when Ned Landers rapped a triple to score Dick Singler who had walked.

Catcher Gene Jones was the big offensive gun for Harold Hawk's Salems. Jones smashed a long triple in the first frame and tallied when an error was made on Elmer Haugen's ground ball. In the fourth Jones accounted for the only other Salem run when he walloped a 340-foot homer over the left field fence.

Medford picked up two runs off Walker in the fourth via a walk, singles by Terry Maddox and Don Danman plus a long fly.

Walker gave four hits, fanned 11 and walked three over the route while Wooten issued six blows, whiffed nine and walked five.

Bill Blodgett of Grant gave only three hits as the Generals blanked Milwaukie, but Oregon City's Don Hopp took mound laurels for the first-round with a one-hit pitching chore against Parkrose. Oregon City got only three blows in winning. Eddie Urness of The Dalles gave two hits to Albany.

Caplanos Snare Ninth Straight

By The Associated Press

The rampaging Vancouver Caplanos added to their lead in the Western International league race Thursday night as they topped Yakima, 5-1 for their ninth consecutive victory. George Nicholas set the Yaks down with five hits. The tilt was broken up in favor of the Caps in the eighth inning when Bill Boomer of Yakima walked in two runs to help a three-run Vancouver rally.

Gables Tosses Two-Hitter Sactos Defeat Beavers 3-1, Fatten Coast Lead

PORTLAND, May 24—(P)—Ken Gables added a game to Sacramento's slim lead in the tight Coast League race tonight by setting the Portland Beavers down on two hits, 3-1. The victory jumped the Sacs' margin to two games over the Bevs.

Joe Marty's two-run homer in the first inning off Ree Lynn gave the Solons all the margin they needed. Lone Portland run came on Eddie Barr's circuit blow in the sixth frame.

The Hollywood Stars mauled the Los Angeles Angels 13-1 with Frankie Kelleher's three homers and Pinky Woods' five-hitter leading the way, Oakland and Bill Bailey blanked San Francisco 12-0 and San Diego topped Seattle 6-3 in the week-end of twin-bills (Second game on page 2).

'Colonial' Led By Ben Hogan

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 24—(P)—Ben Hogan gave the home folks a show today as he rapped out a two-under-par 68 to lead the first round of the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament.

The bastion of the links, who lives in Fort Worth but registers out of Hershey, Pa., did 34-34 over the 7,035-yard Colonial Country club course, playing in a light drizzle of rain much of the way.

Tied for second were Bill Nary of Fairfax View, Ill., Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and Tony Penna, Cincinnati, with 69's.

RECREATION PARK, Wenatchee, May 24—(Special)—Clutch hitting by Bill Beard and Dick Faber tonight brought the Salem Senators a 6-5 victory over Wenatchee.

LET'S GO KIDS!

It's "Third Base Club" night for the kids tonight, and the sponsoring Salem Police department-hopes to see "at least 700" of its teen-aged members present "for free" at the ball game.

atchee in the first game of their Western International league baseball doubleheader, the first win of the series for Salem.

Faber tripled in two runs in the fifth inning to bring Salem from a 4-1 deficit. In the seventh Beard doubled in both Glenn Stetter and Norm Grabar who had walked, giving Salem a 6-4 lead.

Sal DeGeorge, winning pitcher after replacing Johnny Burak, gave up two walks and two singles in the first inning for one run, but then with the bases loaded got Walt Pocekey on a game-ending line fly to Faber in center field.

Salem scored in the first inning on an error and singles by Faber and Stetter. A two-run homer by Larry Neal put Wenatchee ahead in the second 2-1. The Chiefs made it 4-1 over Burak when Will Hafey hit a two-run homer in the fourth. Salem got one run in the sixth on two walks and Beard's single, filling the bases with nobody out, and an error by Pocekey on Richie Myers ground ball. This tied the score.

The win was DeGeorge's third of the season. He was loser of last night's 15-inning clash, incidentally.

Archers Book Sunday Meet

DALLAS, May 24—(Special)—The year-old Beaver Bowmen will hold an informal and open-to-the-public meeting and shoot Sunday in their range near Dallas, starting at 10 a.m. and lasting throughout the afternoon. The range is located three miles to the right of the Falls City road, and road signs giving directions can be located a mile southwest of Dallas. The course is open to anyone interested in archery.

Approximately 40 members are now registered in the club which will hold the Oregon Bow Hunters tourney in July. Some of the members during the seasons killed deer and bear with bow and arrow.

Urzetta, Coe Chapman Advance In British Go; Stranahan Out

By Ben Phlegar

PORTRCAWL, Wales, May 24—(P)—Sammy Urzetta, the "Wonder Kid" from Rochester, N. Y., and two other American Walker Cup stalwarts, Dick Chapman and Charlie Coe, battled their way through two gruelling rounds over the Royal Portcawl course today to reach the quarter-finals of the British Amateur golf championship.

Four of their countrymen, including defending Champion Frank Stranahan from Toledo, finally found the going too rough and bowed out of the classic. Stranahan, seeking his third British crown, was soundly beaten, 5 and 4, in the morning round by Joe Carr of Ireland, a member of the British Walker Cup team.

Ex-Oregon Track Great Succumbs

PORTLAND, May 24—(P)—Chester Anders Fee, 55, once known as the University of Oregon's "one-man track team," died today of cancer.

An author of many books, poems and magazine articles, Fee had been seriously ill since December. He was a brother of Federal Judge James Alger Fee of Portland.

Born in Fendleton, Fee was an outstanding performer in the pole vault, javelin and shotput at Oregon around 1916.

His "Biography of Chief Joseph," a story of the life of the Nez Perce Indian, and "Rhymes of the Round-up" were among his best known works.

Starter's Gun Kills Trackmen

TORONTO, May 24—(P)—The muzzle blast from a blank cartridge accidentally fired in a race starter's revolver Wednesday night killed Paul Vamplew, 17-year-old runner. Dr. W. L. Christie, coroner, said Vamplew died of a hemorrhage when his heart was ruptured by the explosion of the gun at close range.

Chicagoans Top A's; Yanks Rip Tigers; Feller Hurls 2-Hitter

NEW YORK, May 24—(P)—The amazing Chicago White Sox swept through the final stop of their all-winning eastern trip today by knocking off Philadelphia, 5-2, to remain two games behind the fast-sleeping New York Yankees.

The Yanks used homers by Gerry Coleman and Joe DiMaggio to back up Joe Ostrowski in an 11-1 romp over Detroit. The bespectacled lefty, making his first start of the season, gave up 10 hits but coasted home.

Cleveland ripped into Washington for 19 hits in a 16-0 victory behind Bob Feller's two-hit pitching. The win pulled the Indians up even with the 500 mark in a fifth-place tie with the slipping Senators.

The St. Louis at Boston game in the American was rained out. Eddie Robinson's seventh home run led the White Sox' 11-hit barrage on Joe Coleman and Carl Scheib. Although Randy Gumpert also gave up 11 hits he lasted the route.

Bowl Decision Slated Today

Big Ten to Decide On Renewal of Pact

EVANSTON, Ill., May 24—(P)—Big Ten athletic directors today handed their announcement of football officials names next fall in a move that followed closely unfounded charges that a conference basketball official was guilty of irregularities.

This action was taken after the Big Ten delayed until tomorrow its decision on the controversial Rose Bowl renewal pact with the Pacific Coast conference.

Testimony before the Kefauver committee two months ago of Sidney Brodson of Milwaukee touched off a thorough probe by the Big Ten of an unnamed case official.

Brodson's accusations of a "fix" by an official were proven false in the subsequent investigation.

Lefty Bob Cain, who beat the Yanks four times last year when he still was with Chicago, was knocked out in the sixth-run sixth.

Cleveland treated Sid Hudson roughly in his first start of the year. The veteran, sidelined by a back injury since April 1, gave up 11 hits in 2½ innings although he struck out five.

Five runs in the first gave Feller a handy cushion. Another big blast in the third netted six runs, topped by Larry Doby's homer with two on. Bobby Avila led the Tribe with a double and three singles, driving in three runs.

Study Delayed 'Trust' Bills

WASHINGTON, May 24—(P)—A House judiciary subcommittee today postponed for about a month its proposed study of organized baseball's status under the anti-trust laws.

A committee aide said the hearings, long considered, may be started early in July. They had been tentatively scheduled next month. Lack of time was given as the reason for the delay.

Legislation was introduced yesterday in the senate and house to exempt organized sports from anti-trust laws.

The bills carry a provision to legalize baseball's reserve clause—perpetual ownership of a player. That is a question never decided finally by the courts.

YMCA Sports Banquet Slated

Coach Chester Stackhouse of Willamette university will be the speaker at Salem YMCA's annual Sports Award banquet Monday at 6:30 p.m.

Awards will be given in a wide variety of sports, for achievements of the past year, said Fred Cord, physical director, including Church league softball and basketball, boys and girls swimming teams, the "champion 10" contest and the handball tourney, as well as for the Salem team which won the northwest Y junior basketball championship.

About 100 are expected to attend the open banquet, sponsored by the YM Sports council, of which co-chairmen are Larry Rich and Lester Nelson. Dale Bates was program chairman.

Factory expert will be at Miller's all day Sat. to check and oil your present razor.
