New Honors Achieved by Tom Bartlett

Tom Bartlett, former Willamette university student and Rhodes scholarship winner, hit the "big time" in radio this week after being chosen one of the country's outstanding students in the field of international relations.

Bartlett, a senior at Stanford university and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bartlett of Salem, appeared on talent programs (Arthur Godfrey's) Wednesday and Thursday in a forum discussion of international and national affairs.

The students were selected after a nation-wide search to bring to radio and television the outstanding scholars of political science still attending colleges or universities.

Bartlett, who will be graduated from Stanford June 17, attended Willamette in 1948 and 1949, achieving national recognition as a debater and forensic speaker. He was one of two Willamette students chosen to attend the national forensic speaking contest at West Point, N.Y., in 1949.

In 1949, he entered Stanford to major in political science. In late 1950, he was awarded the Rhodes scholarship, the highest scholastic recognition that can be earned by a college student.

This year, Bartlett has served as president of the Stanford chapters of the Institute of International Relations and the Student World Affairs council.

Bartlett earned another special award recently, being selected to spend the summer at the United Nations assembly. After his internship at the UN, he will leave New York for Oxford university in England to study two years under the Rhodes scholarship.

A Salem high school graduate, Bartlett served as student body president there during his senior year. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

During his two years at Willamette Bartlett achieved a 3.9 grade average—just one-tenth of a point from a perfect mark. He attended Willamette on a Rotary club scholarship.

Death Takes S. Husselman At Rest Home

Samuel Monroe Husselman, 90, long-time resident of Salem, died Wednesday at a rest home in Monmouth after an illness of several months. He is survived by the widow, Minnie Elizabeth Husselman.

They had lived in Salem more than 20 years, where he worked as a painter and paperhanger.

The residence in Salem was at 3865 Monroe ave. until about two years ago when the house burned down. Monroe avenue was said to be named after him. They later lived at 180 Elma ave. in Salem until his illness a few months ago. The couple was married in Indiana in 1889 and on March 16 celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary.

The only survivor is the widow who resides at 275 N. Broad st., Monmouth.

Funeral services will be held at the Walter L. Smith mortuary in Independence at 2 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Brooks Moore officiating. Concluding services will be in the Monmouth cemetery.

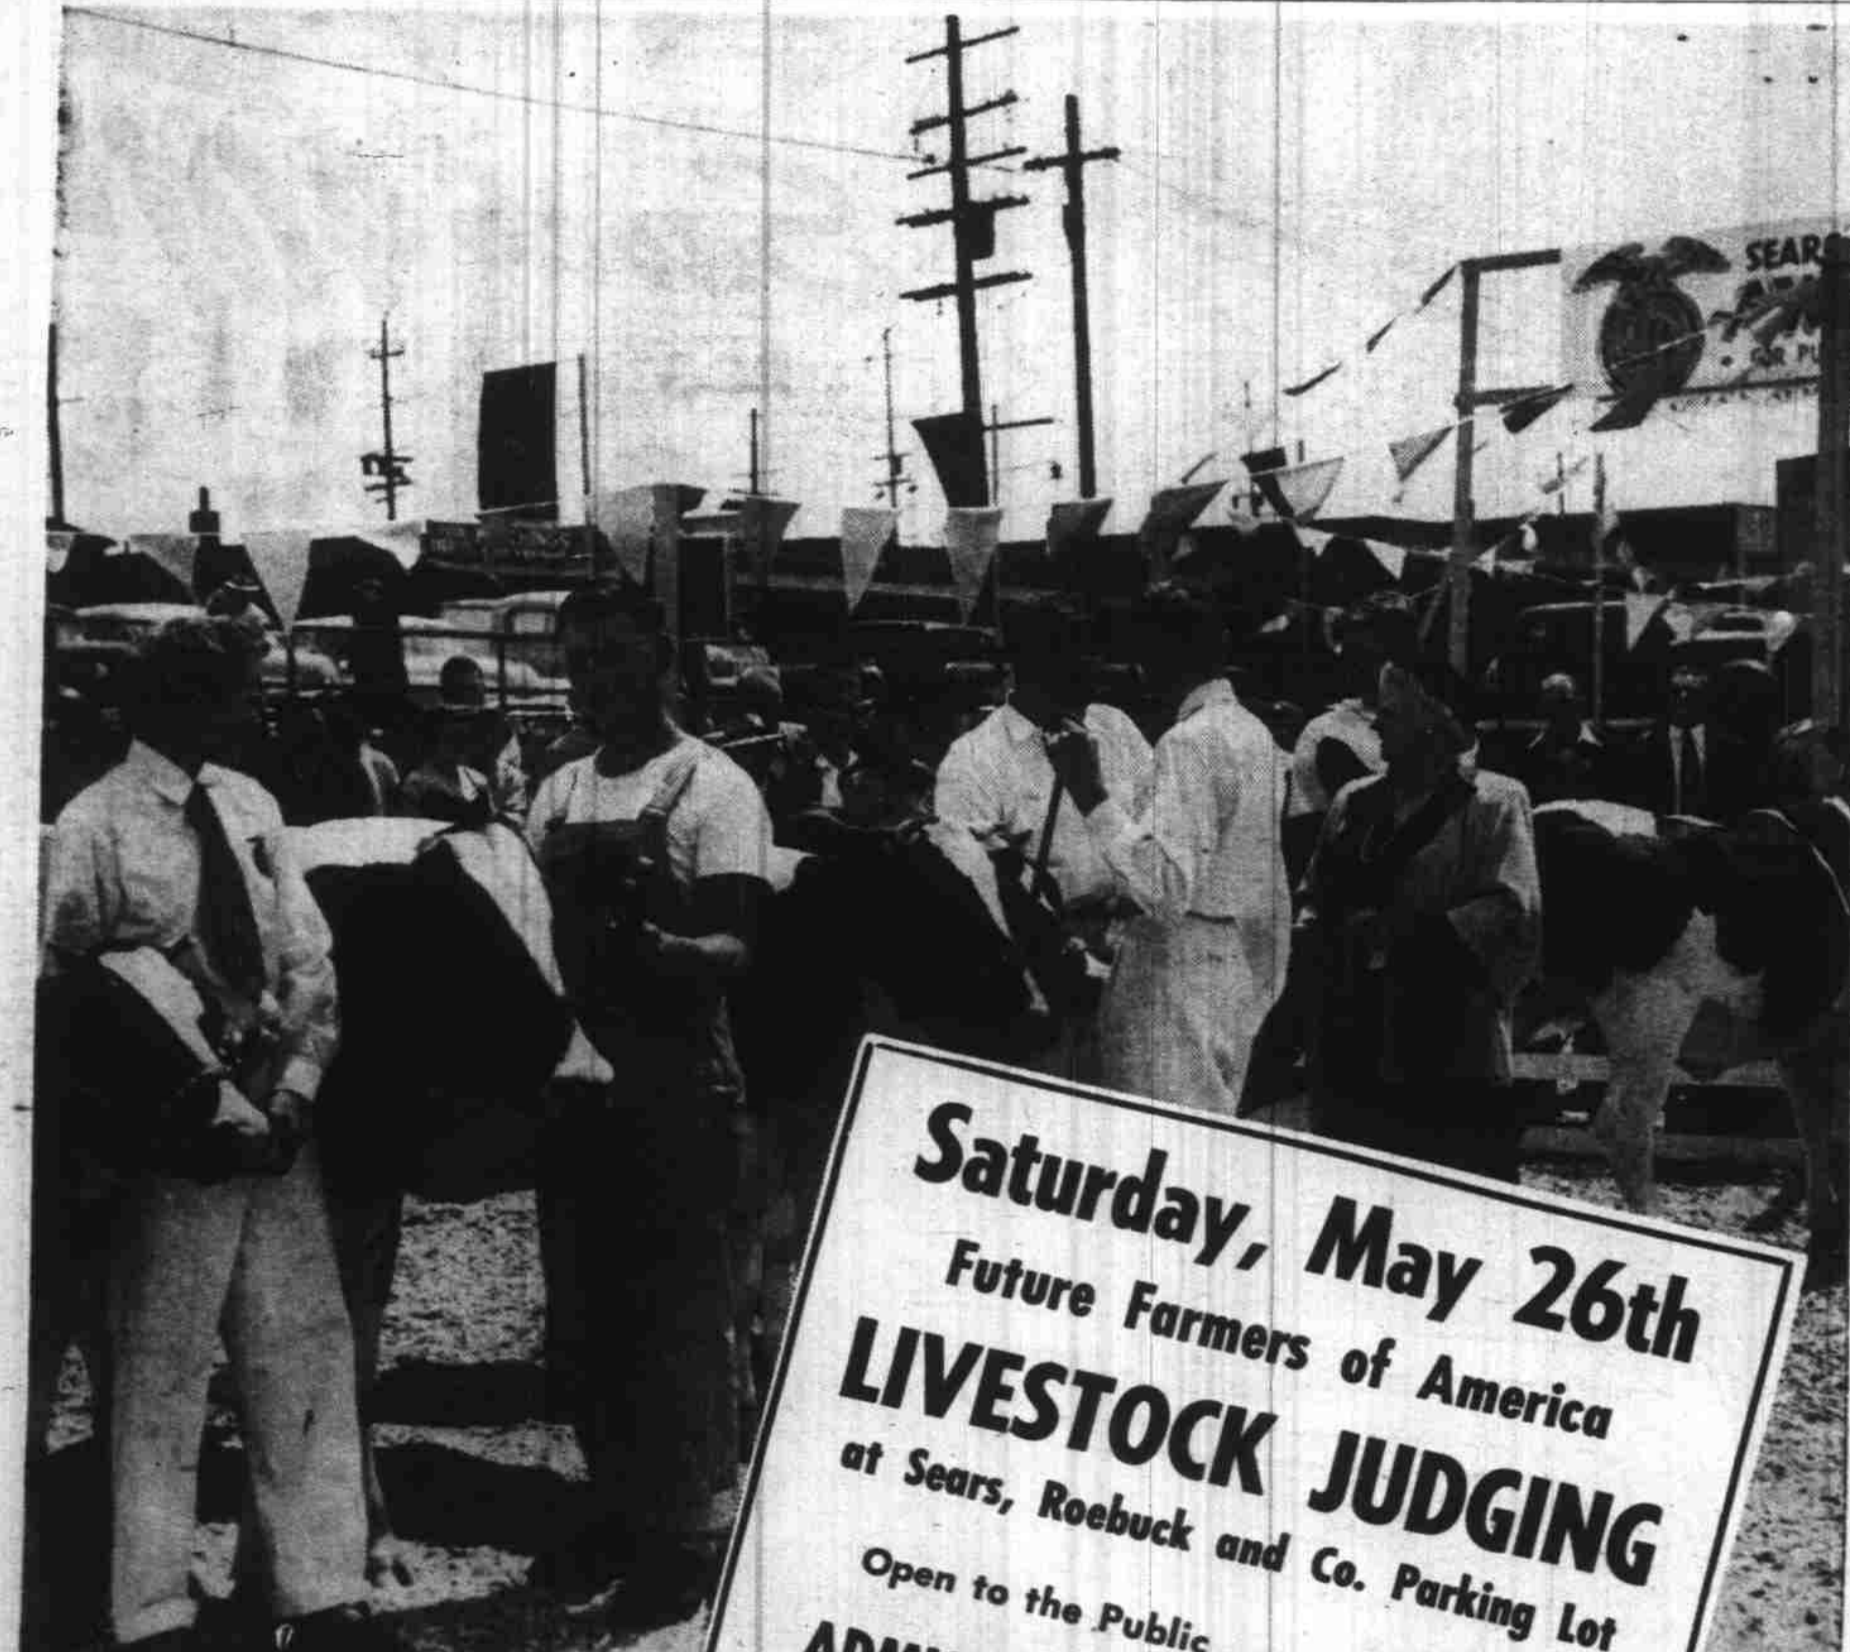

One of the 32 atolls in the Marshall Islands is named "New Year."

Willamette Professor's Doctor's Thesis Accepted

Acceptance of his doctorate thesis by Harvard university was learned Thursday by Prof. Kenneth Lottick, associate professor of education at Willamette university.

The subject is "A History of the Development of Education in the Western Reserve in Its Philosophical and National Setting." Lottick said the three-year study describes a region similar in many respects to the Willamette valley.
