There's Wide Variety in Fish for Valley Homemakers to Use in Menus

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Woman's Editor

If you haven't looked at the merchant's list of fresh fish lately you've missed a good bet on menu ideas. There's a lot of variety in the fish fare right now.

Looking at the list offered by one dealer in Salem, we see that he has fresh rainbow trout, spring Chinook salmon, fresh halibut and fillet of red snapper.

Then there are the smoked fish, which are excellent for summertime meals. Finnan haddock, kippered and smoked salmon, salted herring and pickled herring are listed in the ad.

Then among the shellfish we find oysters, razor clams, fresh crabs, crab meat, shrimp meat and fresh prawns.

Pretty imposing we'll say. Let's look at a few recipes for using them: One of our cookbooks, the one devoted entirely to fish, suggests lot of ways to cook trout, among which are some very fancy recipes and also the simpler way of preparing them by merely rolling lightly in flour and sauteing in butter or other fat until a golden brown. If the trout's of good size, you can bake him whole to a crisp browned, after garnishing with parsley and lemon wedges, serve him up with tartar sauce.

Chinook salmon just simply can't be beat. Salmon and peas are said to be a traditional dish to serve on the Fourth of July, almost, but not quite, as proper as turkey on Thanksgiving. So here is the recipe for

4th OF JULY SALMON

Broil slices of salmon for 10 to 15 minutes, cover with melted butter or margarine, squeeze some lemon on them, dress up with parsley and cucumber and serve with new peas, also dressed with butter.

Here's a recipe using fresh halibut steaks:

BAKED HALIBUT A LA JUNEAU

2 pound slice halibut 1 bay leaf
4 thin slices salt pork 1/2 cup bread crumbs
2 slices onion
Put slices of pork in the bottom of a baking pan and add onion and bay leaf. On this lay the halibut slices. Cover with crumbs and put in a hot oven for 30 minutes or so. Remove fish to platter and serve with garnish of parsley and lemon.
Most of the other fresh fish listed are good either baked or broiled.

Prawns, clams and oysters all take well to dipping in batter and frying in deep fat. Crabs of course find their place on a platter as cracked crab or on the salad plate as Crab Louie.

Westeners, lucky in the variety of fish they can purchase fresh, should include fish several times a week on the menu.

Pi Phi Picnic at Keech Home

The Pi Beta Phi alumnae were entertained at a picnic supper at the Morningside home of Mrs. Edwin Keech Thursday night. Thirty-two attended the affair and tables were arranged on the patio and in the garden. Assisting Mrs. Keech on the committee were Mrs. Sidney Hoffman, Mrs. Joseph M. Devers, Jr., Mrs. Charles Coleman, Miss Barbara Causey and Miss Lois Mulcahy.

Miss Suzanne Huggins, who graduated from the University of Oregon this month, was welcomed as a new member. Two guests were Miss Joan Marie Miller and Miss Margaret Brown from the active chapter at Oregon. Mrs. Cornelius Bateson presided at a short business meeting. Regular meetings will be resumed in October.

War Mothers Hold Picnic

American War Mothers held their annual picnic on Tuesday at the West Nob Hill home of Mrs. Ben Randall. Special guests were Mrs. Grace Parson, McMinnville, state president of the American War Mothers, and Mrs. Eva Bennett, Albany, state hospitalization chairman, who gave short talks.

Mrs. Glenn Prather presided at the business meeting. Plans were made by the mothers to place markers on graves of three former members of City View Cemetery on June 27 at 7:30 o'clock. A large group of the mothers attended the state picnic at Champoope last Sunday.

Camp Fire Girls Leave for Camp

Woodburn — Six Camp Fire girls and Blue Birds will leave Saturday for Camp Kilowan, located near Falls City, for one-week and two-week sessions at the camp. Camp Fire girls are Shirley Marks, Nancy Cornwell, and Charlotte Seely of the Red Roses group led by Mrs. Arthur Burt; and Judy Reed of the Wa-can-ki-ya group led by Mrs. Jim Chapelle.

The two Blue Birds are Judy Cornwell of the Twelve Little Blue Birds led by Mrs. Frank Doerfler and Harriet Van Arsdale of the Winsome Blue Birds whose leader is Mrs. Harry Van Arsdale. The girls will board a special bus in Salem which will go direct to the camp. The Blue Birds go only for one week and will stay in the new Blue Bird lodge while the Camp Fire girls stay two weeks and live in various cabins. The two groups are sponsored in Woodburn by the Junior Woman's club.

Betty Diercks A June Bride

Jefferson — The Marion Calvary Lutheran church was the scene of a wedding Sunday afternoon, June 10, when Miss Betty Jean Diercks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Diercks of Jefferson, and Willis C. Sink of Salem exchanged vows before the Rev. E. H. Becker of Salem.

The bride wore a Victorian style wedding gown fashioned by her mother. The skirt was made of heavy slipper satin ending in a full train, with bodice of imported lace. The full length veil was edged in lace caught by a crown worn by the bride's grandmother 50 years ago. She carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid.

Miss Marjorie Krenz, of Marion, maid of honor, wore a taffeta and net gown and carried a white Testament topped with pastel flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Becker of Salem, Miss Dorothy Malloy of Jackson, Mich., cousin of the bride, and Miss Yvonne Rosenau of Turner. They wore dresses of pink, yellow and aqua, respectively, each tied with a deep matching sash. They carried white Testaments topped with pastel flowers. Twila Kregler, in an ice-blue dress was flower girl. Billy Krebs of Salem was ring bearer.

Attending the bridegroom was the bride's brother, Peter Diercks, who served as best man, and Robert Parrent of Salem and A. Wesley Krenz of Marion were ushers.

Ralph Diercks, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Edwin Swartz, played the wedding music. Miss Patricia Parks sang.

At the reception at the Salem Woman's club house, Mrs. William Krebs cut the bride's cake, Mrs. Karl Steiwer poured and Mrs. Ecker and Mrs. Brown served the punch. Ellen Mae Reis assisted about the rooms.

After a wedding trip to San Francisco, the couple will be at home at 450 W. Browning in Salem.

Board Program

At the League of Women Voters board meeting on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Nora Thompson the program for the ensuing year was planned and adopted. Mrs. John Goldsmith gave an outline of the league's local project, a study of the 101 railroad crossings in the city and the accidents which have occurred at the various crossings in the past ten years.

Centralia Temple, Pythian Sisters held their last meeting of the season Wednesday night at the KP hall. Meetings will be resumed in September. Mrs. Wayne Stanton was elected a grand representative and Mrs. Axel Jacobsen, the alternate, to the Grand Temple to be held in Corvallis in the fall.
