

Deschutes, Rogue, Northeast Offer Best Angling Prospects

PORTLAND, Aug. 15—(P)—The State Game commission's weekly fishing bulletin:

Northwest: Fishing in the McKenzie, Santiam, Clackamas, and upper Willamette rivers is slow. Bait is best during the day. Caddis flies are a good lure in the evening. Mountain lakes are best for evening fly fishing. Water is very low and warm in the coastal streams and trout fishing is generally poor with some fair catches in the Willamette and Nestucca rivers. Blueback and Silver Salmon catches in the lower reaches of the coast streams are slow. Salmon fishing at Astoria is good.

Southwest: Rogue river trout fishing is only fair with the best catches reported from headwaters, tributaries, and lakes. The water is very low and clear. Steelhead fishing on single eggs in the upper Rogue has produced very good catches. Good catches of rainbow and cutthroat are being made on troll in Florence lake. Salmon fishing is poor at Winchester bay. Bass fishing in the coastal lakes is good. Blueback fishing is fair in the Sluslaw and lower Umpqua rivers. Steelhead angling is fair at Steamboat and Winchester. All angling is poor on the south Umpqua.

Central: Little Deschutes river has been fairly good in the Crescent area. Big Deschutes river has been generally good on trolling with flashers and worms. Some good steelhead catches have been picked up on the Big Deschutes in the Maupin area and the lower Deschutes is reported good for trout on spinners and grasshoppers. Angling in the central Oregon lakes has been poor to fair. Elk and Mud lakes have been poor. Waldo lake is fair to good. North and South Twin lakes are both slow. Good catches are reported at Little Cultus lake. Big Cultus has been only fair with mostly small fish caught. Big Lava lake is slow. Davis lake is poor. Wickiup reservoir is providing some success with trolled flat fish or worms with flashers.

Northeast: Excellent catches of Eastern Brook have been made with dry flies at Unit, Horseshoe, Razz, Green, Cheval, Long, and Steamboat lakes. High lake anglers are urged to use catch record cards on all high lake trips.

Southeast: Blitzen river is providing good catches on bait and fair evening fly fishing. Emigrant creek is fair for small rainbow on bait. Good evening fly fishing continues at Fish lake.

Tilt Set for Soldier Field

Awesome Browns Liked Over Collegians Tonight

CHICAGO, Aug. 16—(P)—The awesome Cleveland Browns, champions of professional football, tonight were installed as 14 point favorites to defeat the college all-stars of 1950 in the 18th annual game.

The contest, inaugurating the 1951 gridiron season, will be witnessed by upwards of 90,000 spectators in flood-lighted Soldier Field, with millions viewing the battle on television sets or listening to radios.

A total of 528 stations, a record for the event, will carry description of the contest coast-to-coast. Television will be presented by 46 stations.

The kickoff is scheduled for 6:15 p.m., PDT.

The Browns, defeated only six times in five years of championship competition, will enter the contest with tremendous confidence. The all-stars will be a particular target for the professionals since the collegians triumphed over the Philadelphia Eagles, 17-7, a year ago.

Egyptian Wins Channel Race

DOVER, Eng., Aug. 16—(P)—A husky Egyptian raced across the English Channel in 12 hours and 12 minutes today to win the £1,000 ($2,800) first prize in the London Daily Mail's annual channel swim.

Hassan Hammad, 34, of Cairo, clambered ashore at the foot of Shakespeare Cliff tonight. He was one minute ahead of Roger Le Morvan of France.

Le Morvan gets £500 ($1,400) for second place.

Brenda Fisher, 23-year-old English girl, won the £1,000 first prize for women and apparently set a new women's channel record on her first try at it. The judges gave her time, subject to a re-check as 12 hours and 43 minutes. The previous best time for a woman swimmer of the channel was 15 hours, 23 minutes, by Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Calif., last year.

The race was won last year also by an Egyptian, Hassan Abd El Rehim, in a record 10 hours and 49 minutes.

BASEBALL MOST DANGEROUS

CHICAGO, Aug. 16—(P)—Baseball—not boxing or football—has been the most dangerous sport in New York City for the last 32 years. Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales of the New York chief medical examiner's office said baseball injuries brought death to 43 players from 1918 to 1950—as many as football and boxing deaths combined.

Bowl Driving Roster Set

Stock Racers In Local Meet

Promoter Mike Carly last night announced the driving lineup for the stock car racing meet Saturday night at Hollywood boulevard, listing 19 pilots and their mounts. From two to six additional entries are expected before eight o'clock Saturday night, when the time trials are scheduled to get under way.

Leading the lineup for the bowl program is Burly Bill Weimann and the No. 3 Ford, a 1949 model. Weimann and his battered but swift white Ford have been a rugged combination to beat for the rest of the stock car drivers. Herschel McGriff downed Weimann in the 50-lap main event the last time the stocks were here, but McGriff is now in the east and won't be able to show Saturday night.

Such other stock driving vets as Jimmie Wilkerson, Ray Elliott, Bill Amick, Bud Emra, Gordy Haines and Armond Millen are included in the lineup, however, and all will be aiming for the round favorite.

Drivers and their cars now registered by Carly: 1 (1948 Plymouth) Wilkerson. 2 (1950 Ford) Haines. 3 (1949 Ford) Weimann. 5 (1948 Ford) Elliott. 6 (1949 Olds) Amick. 8 (1950 Mercury) Wally Gervais. 9 (1949 Olds) Bud Emra. 10 (1949 Ford) Keith Olsen. 12 (1949 Chevrolet) Jimmy Watta. 14 (1951 Nash) Len Sutton. 15 (1949 Ford) Max Humm. 16 (1949 Plymouth) Chick LaLond. 20 (1949 Plymouth) driver to be named. 22 (1948 Ford) Jeff Bell. 44 (1949 Chevrolet) Millen. 76 (1949 Olds) Don McEllish. 88 (1949 Olds) Ford Trimble. 85 (1950 Ford) Stan Anderson.

Gorky Returns To Mat Wars

Bearded Soldat Gorky, one of the nastiest of the nasties in local wrestling circles, and one who has not been in these parts in many weeks, makes a return appearance at the armory next Tuesday night. Matchmaker Elton Owen announces that the "Siberian Wolf Man" will tangle with Frenchy Roy in the main mix on the Tuesday card.

"I've been trying to get Soldat and his brother Ivan back in the Northwest for weeks," Owen included with his announcement, "and have finally succeeded. Ivan isn't here yet but will be along later on."

Although upset this week by Kenny Mayne in a prelim shot here, Roy was given the mainer with Soldat on the strength of the popular Frenchman's long series of excellent matches in the local bleep bin. That and the fact that Owen wants to toss Gorky against a top gladiator.

Prelims for the card will be announced later by Owen.

Ruth's Voice Enshrined

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(P)—Babe Ruth's voice is now part of the home run king's shrine in baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y.

A golden record of Ruth's "thank you" to the fans, a broken-voiced, earnest expression of gratitude to those honoring him on his day, April 27, 1947, at Yankee Stadium, was presented to the hall of fame today by President Frank White of the Mutual Broadcasting system. The record thus joins other Ruth mementos such as one of the Babe's uniforms, his spikes, bat, etc.

The presentation was part of the network's broadcast tribute to Ruth on the third anniversary of his death. Ruth died Aug. 16, 1945.

As an added feature of the meet eight 2-man motorcycle riding teams are to engage in a balloon-busting contest. Two riders will be on each cycle, one driving and the other trying to break balloons clinging to the opposing riders. Paper bats, with broom-sticks enclosed, are used in the contest. The balloon-busting spree has proved a big hit with Portland fans this season. There is a good possibility that Racing Referee Pat Vidan, an expert on a motorcycle, may enter the contest.

Tongays Far Too Tiny, So Judged the Limeys

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(P)—They wanted to swim the channel so briny, but officials said no, you're much too tiny.

So the kids came back on a plane today, with their parents, Elizabeth and Russell Tongay.

The sister and brother who were to have made the big dive are four-year-old Kathy, and "Bubba," just five.

The father said they'd soon go west, on a movie-making quest.

Then they boarded an afternoon flight; they get home to Miami, Fla., tonight.
