

58½ Per Cent of County Adults Took X-Rays

Only 58½ per cent of Marion county's adults had their chests X-rayed in the current valley-wide program, far short of any goal and below the proportion reached in other counties, X-ray headquarters announced Wednesday.

The survey is continuing this week in Linn and Clackamas counties, with a unit returning to Monmouth for the Polk county fair beginning today.

Because some cannot get to the mobile center at the school administration building on Church street during the daytime, special hours for them have been set up for Monday, August 27, and Friday, August 31, from 7 to 9 p.m. On those days, the center will close in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Marion's total of persons reached is 45,318, including the 519 X-rayed on the final day, Tuesday. Survey officials had hoped to reach at least 80 per cent of the estimated 77,500 adults.

Polk county X-rayed 12,083 persons or 83½ per cent and Yamhill county 16,044 or 84 per cent. Unofficial valley total through Tuesday was 93,121.

Although the survey has closed in the three counties, it is anticipated that some units will return to them to reach more persons—at state fair, school openings and large harvest groups.

Today 1½ units are to be operating in Clackamas county—five in Oregon City, four in Milwaukie and one each in Canby and Willamette.

There will be three units in Albany and one each in Lebanon and Sodaville, all in Linn county, today. That area has X-rayed 18,360 in two weeks. The survey will continue there through September 1.

New Board Of Education Plans Studies

Oregon's new state board of education, at its first meeting Wednesday, went on record authorizing studies of maladjusted children and mentally keen and retarded children.

Board members said during their Salem meeting—they would complete the studies in time to make some definite recommendations to the 1953 legislature.

Much of the session was devoted to a discussion of new laws on education. S. E. Brogitti, Helix, is chairman of the board.

The board was revised and expanded as a part of the program recommended by Dr. T. C. Holy, Ohio State university, who conducted a survey of the state's elementary and secondary school systems.

Board members other than Brogitti are Francis I. Smith, Portland; May Darling, Portland; Mrs. Paul Patterson, Hillsboro; Ronald Jones, Brooks, and Mrs. Lucile M. O'Neill, Klamath Falls.

Oregon Census Put Officially At 1,521,341

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(AP)—The census bureau today reported Oregon's 1950 population at 1,521,341, a gain of 39.6 per cent over the 1940 total.

In revised figures the bureau said that ranks Oregon 32nd among the states, and gives it 29 times more people than when it was first included as a state in the 1860 enumeration.

Of the 36 counties in the state, 32 gained in population. Douglas and Jefferson counties more than doubled. The bureau said some 819,318 people live in urban while 702,023 live in rural areas.

The revised figures listed a range of residents in Marion county voting precincts from 178 in precinct 88, which is Champeog, to 4,924 in precinct 20 in Salem.

The smallest incorporated communities in the state are Westfall and Whitney, with three residents each. Both are in eastern Oregon.

CAR ROLLS INTO DITCH
Donald Haskins, employed in the state forestry research division, rolled a forestry car into a ditch on the Jefferson-Scio road Wednesday afternoon, state police reported. Haskins was not injured and the coupe was slightly damaged, police said. Haskins said he left the road to avoid a collision with another auto.

3 Future Farmers Recommended for National Awards

Three Future Farmers of America members from Oregon have been recommended to receive the organization's highest degree, that of American farmer, at the annual national convention of the organization in Kansas City, Mo., October 8 to 12.

They are Eldon John Barker, Ontario; route 1, Donald Wayne Bassett, Salem route 6, and Duane A. Drushella, Albany route 3.

The information was received by Ralph L. Morgan, state supervisor of agricultural education here, from national Future Farmers headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Multnomah Tax Roll Safe From Ruling

The state tax commission announced Wednesday it had not completed its investigation in connection with the proposed reduction of personal taxes in Multnomah county but made it plain there would be no ruling that would affect the present tax roll there.

Following announcement of the proposed personal property reduction the Multnomah county assessor, along with several members of his staff, appeared at the commission offices and protested that revision of the tax rolls would delay mailing of the tax statements and would cost the county $50,000 which had not been budgeted.

Tax Commissioner Ray Smith said a statement probably would be issued by the commission within a few days.

Mrs. Mercer Arrives for Revival Rally

Mrs. Jim Mercer arrived in Salem Wednesday from Minneapolis, Minn., to be with her husband, conducting an interdenominational evangelistic rally here, for the first time in several years that she has attended one of his campaigns.

She made the trip by train, leaving their six children at home, and will remain for a few days.

The three-week crusade had an attendance of approximately 10,000 persons during its first week, ending Tuesday, with decisions made by 100 persons, crusade leaders reported.

A special event for this week is "family night" on Friday, including a "free lecture on how to make Johnny behave." The meetings are at the "canvas cathedral" on Portland road at 7:45 nightly.

Senators Slash Foreign Aid Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(AP)—Two senate committees followed the lead of the house today and voted to slash President Truman's foreign aid program by $1,001,000,000.

Senator Connally D-Tex reported the cut was agreed upon at a joint meeting of the foreign relations and armed services committees.

Last week a coalition of republicans and southern democrats in the house lopped $1,002,350,000 off the bill, approving a $7,498,750,000 program.
