

British Decrees Seek to Topple Iran Regime

LONDON, Sept. 10—(AP)—Britain today ordered a drastic revision of her economic relations with Iran in a clear bid to force the already wobbly government of aged Mohammed Mossadegh out of office.

This latest move in the months-old oil dispute came as a Tehran government spokesman broadcast a claim that some communist nations are entering the British-Iranian feud with bids to buy, fetch and carry Iran's nationalized oil.

British officials professed little concern over the news. They were inclined to see it as an Iranian attempt to involve the specter of communism and so to influence the United States to act on Iran's behalf.

Mossadegh already has announced he will send an ultimatum to Britain tomorrow through W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's diplomatic trouble shooter, giving the British two weeks to resume the disrupted oil talks or withdraw the 300 British technicians from Abadan.

The British treasury announced Britain will take these measures which "can be revoked whenever the Persian (Iranian) government make possible a solution to the oil question":

1. Cut off Iran's dollar supplies.
2. Stop Iran's sterling oil transactions and control all other sterling transactions.
3. End Iran's right freely to transfer and convert her sterling—including her $14,000,000 ($39,200,000) balance in London which backs the nation's internal currency.
4. Halt the export of scarce goods—including sugar, iron and steel, semi-manufactures, non-ferrous metals, alloys and oil—to Iran.

Violation of Agreement
In Tehran, Deputy Premier Hussein Fatimi declared the British treasury order restricting Iran's use of sterling was a violation of the British-Iranian currency agreement, which still has two months to run.

But a hard core of 14 opposition deputies defied extremist national front threats of assassination with an open denunciation of Mossadegh's oil nationalization policies. They accused him of alienating the friendship of Britain and the United States.

One said 30 deputies in the mallis (lower house) are prepared to vote against Mossadegh in a showdown.

Greek Leader Fails to Control Parliament Vote

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 10—(AP)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos' headquarters conceded tonight that a late split in the election tally for Sophocles Venizelos' third-place Liberal party probably would dash Papagos' chances of getting a clear majority in the new Greek parliament.

It appeared likely that Venizelos' party would gain 40 seats from the latest returns in yesterday's election.

Papagos' party needs 130 seats for a majority. The Liberal gains have cut Papagos' total so far to between 110 and 117 seats.

The ministry of interior said tonight that no further results would be announced until Tuesday morning. It was understood the weary counters asked for time-out.

New Highway Section Opens Near Klamath

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 10—Klamath Falls and its tributary territory celebrated the wedding of another major link in highway 97 at noon today with appropriate ceremonies. The occasion was completion of the $1 million construction project (part of which is shown in the photo above) from Algoma to Barkley Springs, 7.5 miles, opening up the bottleneck into and through Klamath Falls, and completing the southern end of the late Sam Hill's dream of a through north-south highway through Washington, Oregon, and California. The Oregon Section of highway 97 is known as the Dalles-California highway. Oregon was officially represented at today's ceremonies by Gov. Douglas McKay and other state officials.

'Voice' Radio Station Due At Aberdeen

ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 10—(AP)—A $5,000,000 Voice of America radio station will be built close to this city on the shores of the Pacific.

Announcing plans for the station today, Rep. Russell V. Mack (R-Wash.) said it will be one of two largest and most powerful in the world. The other will be a sister station to be built in North Carolina.

The huge station will beam Voice of America programs over the top of the world to Asia.

Electronic engineers have been testing various areas of the west coast for three months. They said this is one of two areas that meet all requirements of the station.

Negligent Homicide Charge Filed After Oakridge Crash

EUGENE, Sept. 10—(AP)—Nels Edward Pearson, 24, Eugene, was charged with negligent homicide today after two Dexter men were killed in an auto crash.

Police said Pearson was driver of a car that plunged off a highway into the Willamette river four miles west of Oakridge, killing Robert M. Pirker, 26, and Melvin Frank Keating, 23. Pearson was not seriously hurt.

The car skidded 120 feet along highway 58, sheared off a post, grazed one tree and knocked down another before landing in the river in 4½ feet of water, police said.

WASHINGTON DIVES Deeper into Debt

OLYMPIA, Sept. 10—(AP)—The state's basic general fund plunged another $3,000,000 into the red last month, State Treasurer Tom Martin reported today.

As a result, he said the fund was $42,767,113 in the hole at the end of August.

It will drop to $49,859,749 in the red as soon as a transfer of $7,092,036 is made from the general fund to schools and colleges, Martin reported.

Shell Expands Oil Terminal On Willamette

PORTLAND, Sept. 10—The Shell Oil company announced today the completion of a multi-million dollar expansion program at its Willamette terminal on the Willamette river in northwest Portland.

The terminal, which is the second largest operated by Shell in the entire country, serves as the distributing center for petroleum products delivered to the major portions of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Portland division manager is George V. Birkinshaw. The multi-million dollar expansion program was necessary to keep pace with the growing market in this region, according to Birkinshaw.

Willamette was first opened in the early 1910's. Today it employs more than 175 men with an annual payroll of approximately $1,000,000. More than 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline and other petroleum products leave the terminal daily.

Firing Squad Ends Life of Utah Slayer

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 10—(AP)—Four rifle bullets today blasted the life out of Eliseo J. Mares, Jr., expiating the murder of a former Ohio sailor.

Mares, 23-year-old son of a former Antonio, Colo., sheriff, met death with a prayer on his lips and a crucifix in his right hand.

He was outwardly calm as he walked unaided to the chair. He sat rigid and breathed heavily the few seconds between the time Sheriff George Fisher signaled all was ready and the roar of the executioners' guns.

All four bullets struck the target pinned over the condemned man's heart although the rifles were not fired in unison. Two of the five riflemen were "slow on the trigger," as westerners say. One of the guns was loaded with a blank. But nobody knew which squadman fired it.

Mares was convicted of the 1946 shooting of Jack D. Stallings, 21, a former sailor from Corning, Ohio, who was slain while enroute to San Jose, Calif., to be married.

Stallings picked up hitch hiking Mares. A fight followed. Stallings' body was found in a canal near Coalville. Mares was arrested in Ogden, Utah, a month later after selling Stallings' car.

Fair Sets All-Time High For Admission Revenue

Banners signifying all-time records in admissions, pari-mutuel betting and endurance were hoisted Monday for the Oregon state fair which ended Sunday.

Leo Spitzbart, fair manager, said completed tallies show that paid admissions for the eight-day fair (longest in history) came to $176,514—exactly $313 above the previous record gate pulled in 1948.

Paid admissions this year are $9,391 above last year's seven-day fair. Total attendance for the 1951 event stands at 282,523 compared with 281,924 for the 1948 record seven-day run. The 1950 total was 234,429, Spitzbart said.

A record $561,433 poured into the pari-mutuel betting windows at the horse races this year, exceeding by $75,350 a previous high set last year.

Figures released Monday by Spitzbart revise upward early tallies which gave this year's fair second-highest admission total. The later corrected numbers were arrived at when all admission tickets were counted by fair officials.

Fire-Destroyed Resort to Rebuild

MEDFORD, Sept. 10—(AP)—The Lake O' The Woods resort lodge in the Rogue River National Forest, destroyed by fire Saturday night, will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

So said Tom Neely, a partner in the venture, who placed the damage at $45,000 to $50,000. He said patrons who visit the camp between now and October 1 when it will close should bring their own groceries.

Rogue River park men kept the flames from spreading to other buildings and to the woods.

Nationalists Say Guerrillas Hold Russians

TAIPEH, Formosa, Sept. 10—(AP)—The nationalist defense ministry claimed today that two Soviet Russian "advisers" of the Chinese communists were captured by nationalist guerrillas the night of September 1 in the suburbs of Swatow.

That seaport, on the mainland of China, lies across the 100-mile Formosa strait from this island stronghold of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's.

The "advisers" not further identified, were said to be part of a group of 50 which arrived recently from Canton.

The ministry's information service said the Chinese Reds rounded up more than 3,000 persons in the Swatow area to find the missing man but failed. It said the captives were being held in a mountain hideout.

FRANK G. SMITH DIES
PORTLAND, Sept. 10—(AP)—Frank G. Smith, 70, Portland attorney and former president of the Oregon prison association, died at his home here today. He had been active in civil and fraternal affairs.

Morse Asks Foreign Lobby Investigation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—(AP)—Senator Morse (R-Ore) pressed the Senate today for a full investigation of lobbying by Chinese Nationalists and other foreign interests in the United States.

He said the senate's foreign relations committee had a "clear duty" to carry out such an inquiry, even if it meant staying at work after the proposed adjournment of congress next month.

Morse reminded the senate that he and Senator McMahon (D-Conn) introduced a resolution more than two months ago calling for a study of foreign government lobbying here and its effect on American foreign policy. The resolution was shelved in committee.

"The senate of the United States, if it is going to serve the American people, cannot delay longer an investigation of these alleged foreign lobbies," the Oregon republican stated.
