Hi-Y Groups Prepare for New Members

Programs for addition of new members to Salem's Hi-Y and Junior Hi-Y clubs are occupying the school boys' groups as they begin activities for the fall at the YMCA, according to Roth Holtz, boys' work secretary.

New members will be taken in about two weeks from now, following information assemblies at the schools. The five Hi-Y clubs will add about 50 boys to their present 75. The nine Junior Hi-Y chapters will increase their 90 to about 200.

At last week's meetings of the older clubs, Douglas Chambers, boys' work chairman, discussed standards for the groups. Next Wednesday evening committees are to report on a new procedure for election of officers.

Holtz reported that the boys' regular "try" and swim" session after school each day has begun, with good participation.

Saturday more than 50 boys, mostly from the grade schools, took part in a football school at McCulloch stadium, conducted by Willamette Coach Chester Stackhouse.

Youth Sent to Boys School

Hearings were being continued by city juvenile officers for three youths charged with the burglary of seven cases of beer from a boxcar near the fairgrounds. A fourth youth involved in the case, James Cain, 453 Tryon ave., has already been sent to the state boys school at Woodburn, juvenile officers said.

Two of the youths will have hearings September 21, while the third is still awaiting a hearing date.

Police Cast Doubt On Reports of Dog Poisoning

Poison has been discounted as the cause of death of several Salem dogs in the last few months, city police said Saturday.

Investigations on two dogs by the state laboratory, police said, showed no evidences of poison. Police are attempting to earn what is causing the death of dogs, especially in the Abrams avenue district, where two deaths were reported Saturday.

Quail Hunter Fined $50 in District Court

Earl H. Hammett, Portland salesman, was fined $50 in Marion county district court Saturday on a charge of unlawful possession of a valley quail.

Hammett also was fined $25 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting a shotgun upon a highway. He was arrested near St. Louis by state police September 1 after a farmer complained someone was "road hunting" in that area.

District Judge Val Sloper also acquitted Carl R. Spencer, Pratum, charged with larceny. Following a trial, Sloper judged Spencer innocent of the complaint that he took a radio belonging to Hazel B. King last month.

Ed George Ramey, Brooks route 1, was continued to Monday for arraignment on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Ramey was arrested Friday by a Marion county sheriff's deputy just north of Keizer school. He is held in Marion county jail in lieu of $350 bail.

Decline in Mint Oil Predicted

PORTLAND, Sept. 15—(P)—A 16 per cent drop in Oregon's peppermint oil production was forecast today. But the department of agriculture said that was still well above the ten-year average.

The September 1 estimate was for 551,000 pounds of oil. The ten-year average was 329,000 pounds. Poor growing weather was expected to cut the yield from last year's 45 pounds to the acre to 38 this year.
