

If Brownout Arrives, Night Shopping, Night Games Go

Salem Dishwasher Awarded $150,579 Damage Suit Claim

By Charles Ireland
Valley Editor, The Statesman

DALLAS, Sept. 18.—A Polk county jury tonight awarded a $150,579 judgment to John Snyder, 40-year-old Salem dishwasher, plaintiff in an assault and battery suit that stemmed from a shooting four years ago at a hotel in Salem.

IT SEEMS TO ME

By Charles A. Sprague

PART II

Assuming the Treaty of San Francisco is ratified, what is the future for Japan?

As far as its political organization is concerned, I think we must expect no duplication of American democracy but rather an adaptation. Such is the respect for authority that power in fact if not in form will probably drift back into the hands of a few leaders. They, however, have been chastened by the experience of the late war and will make no early attempt to establish a "co-prosperity sphere" in Asia for Japan's benefit.

There are two factors, however, which must be weighed. One is Japan's geographical position, with its islands targets almost for hand grenades from Soviet Asia and Red China. Its government is immediately confronted with the problem of settling its war with Russia and with Communist China. What will be the terms and conditions of those treaties? Will they offer Japan a "better deal" than did the United States, Britain, et al? Then there is national China on Formosa: Will Japan be forced to choose between the two Chinese governments?

The second factor involves Japan's political position between the United States and Russia. General Wedemeyer points to a rearmament of Japan as a bulwark against Russian communism, but Asia and Australia fear a rearmament Japan. Any extension of the Korean war. (Continued on editorial page 4.)

Professor Fired For Belonging To Nudist Cult

MCKENZIE, Tenn., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Dr. John E. Bauman, a teacher in church schools for 33 years, has been fired from his zoology professorship at Bethel college because he belonged to a nudist group.

The 39-year-old professor said today that his contract was not renewed at the end of the summer term after word got out that he was a member of the American Sunbathing association.

"That's right," said Roy N. Baker, president of the Cumberland Presbyterian school. "The policy of that organization does not fit in with our church program. We don't fool with that kind of business."

Baker said the church board of education upheld him and that, on Bauman's appeal, the church general assembly's committee on education heard the professor. This committee confirmed the board's action last June.

"They brought up that old question about why did God make a fig leaf for Eve if God wanted man to be in the nude," Bauman told a newsman. "And that is not even historically true."

He said he had been affiliated with the association for 10 years and had learned "there is less temptation in a group like that than there is in outside civilization."

Denmark Stalls NATO Session

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The North Atlantic council hit the first snag at its current session today. Opposition by Denmark delayed action on the American proposal to bring Turkey and Greece into the 12-nation Atlantic alliance.

Debate on the Greek-Turkish question was suspended until tomorrow to give Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft time to get instructions from his government.

Information from inside the closed-door session indicated that both Kraft and Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange said they would prefer to see Greece and Turkey in a new Mediterranean pact, instead of in the North Atlantic pact.

Animal Crackers

By WARREN COODRICH

What do you mean, they're all alike?

Rescheduling Of Games Due if Power Reduced

Night shopping, brightly-lit streets, and night athletic events may come to a temporary end if a power "brownout" is imposed on the Northwest.

City police said that the "brownout," designed to conserve power, would first affect neon signs and extra-lighting, and would probably mean no lights in downtown areas other than street lights.

Friday night shopping (and Monday night in the Capitol Shopping center) would be the first to feel the effect of such situation, Clay Cochran, manager of the chamber of commerce, said.

"Salem is at its brightest on those two nights," he said. "Nearby all neon signs and store windows are lit up. Any attempt to conserve power would curtail that."

Officials at both Willamette university and Salem high school said they would comply with a "brownout" by rescheduling their games for afternoons. Willamette university plays two night games on McCulloch field, while all Salem high school games are set for the arc lights.

Whether or not a mandatory curtailment of lighting would be imposed by the city was not known.

Officials said they had as yet no word from any source that the "brownout" is to come.

British King's Lung Ailment Said Serious

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—King George's doctors disclosed tonight that "structural changes have developed" in one of his lungs, indicating a serious ailment. Queen Elizabeth rushed back from Scotland with him.

A medical bulletin, issued unexpectedly from Buckingham Palace, gave no explanation of the condition.

A London lung specialist said the wording "suggests that the doctors who signed it are still not sure what is the whole trouble." He said it is certain that "structural changes" mean disease, but "there are so many diseases of the lung that it can mean anything."

Portland Man Found After 47 Days in Wilds

VERNONA, Ore., Sept. 18.—(AP)—A Portland man who disappeared 47 days ago was found alive today in the rugged, forest area of northwestern Oregon today.

He is Marvin A. Dunn, 42, who was discovered today by a woman canoe-pusher.

State Patrolman Claude Shaw said the man seemed "fairly rational" but could give no explanation for his disappearance. Shaw said Dunn told him he had eaten nothing but berries and hidden in the brush whenever people came into the wooded area. He apparently had been without fire.

Dunn was still wearing the damp, wrinkled tweed business suit and felt that he wore when last seen.

Dunn, a bachelor, vanished from his Portland home August 3. A few days later his abandoned car was discovered near here. State police undertook a futile search.

He was found by Mrs. Edgar Rea, Rainier.

Shaw said Dunn was an accountant and in 1950 had been manager of the lodge at Crater lake.

Grants Pass Cavemen Known to Russ as Symbol of Barbaric U.S.

GRANTS PASS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Grants Pass cavemen are peasants, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is "a known anti-religious leader." In Russia, that is.

These disclosures came to the Chamber of Commerce here in a letter from a diplomatic courier, Carl L. Gilbert, who formerly lived at Coquille.

Gilbert wrote that he saw in Leningrad a large photograph of Dewey surrounded by cavemen, waving jaw-bones. The cavemen, who dress in animal skins, greet all visiting dignitaries in such a fashion in an effort to get publicity for this area. Such a photograph was taken when Dewey was here in the 1948 presidential campaign.

Gilbert wrote that the Russian caption accompanying the picture was translated for him as:

"In the U. S., the power of the church is synonymous with the power of Wall Street, the down-podden masses are forced to sustain the wealthy priests and hierarchy in kingly splendor while they themselves are forced to scrape the garbage pails behind the churches for something to eat. Resentment has been growing in the U. S. towards this religious feudalism. Recently a group of peasants have formed a new organization to return to the old pre-church days. They say that return to the prehistoric era is better than the present conditions, hence the attire worn by these Americans. This is a picture of this organization protesting against the cruel and vicious Wall-street backed church. Pictured with them is T. E. Dewey, a known anti-religious leader and one candidate for president of the U. S. He is defeated by the Wall street industrialists."

"This cavemen organization is making him an honorary member of their group. Part of the initiation is performed by drinking blood and eating raw meat. While the group's anti-religious campaign is noteworthy, their appearance can only bear out the savage and barbaric character of the American as a whole."

First Class in Air Force ROTC Starts at WU

First classes in geo-political science started Tuesday at Willamette university under the new air force ROTC program. Distributing books above are, from left, Maj. C. H. Charters, adjutant and assistant professor of world political geography; M. Sgt. Robert C. Hartman, technical instructor; and freshmen students Erwin Weber, 1610 Court St.; Gene Bartlett, 996 S. 15th St.; Don Drake, Portland; Robert Lowery, Salem route 2; and Norm Battaglia, Portland. (Statesman photo.) (Photo also on page 3.)

Bookie Halts Testimony In Middle of Graft Trial

By Bob Farrington and Art Everett

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Harry Gross, the moody bookie kingpin, halted in the midst of testimony today and refused point-blank to go along with Brooklyn's mass graft trial of 18 policemen.

"Mr. Helfand, I refuse to answer any more questions—now or later," Gross told Brooklyn's assistant district attorney, Julius Helfand.

His sudden, dramatic about-face threatened once again to upset the trial of the cops who are accused of protecting his $20,000,000 a year gambling ring.

Later, Gross said the reason he quit cold was that he didn't feel well. Helfand said he has a faulty gall bladder and added:

"I feel sure with proper rest this afternoon . . . he will be well enough to return and testify tomorrow."

Just a week ago, Gross endangered the trial by a runaway trip to the races in Atlantic City, N. J. He was brought back a day later. Gross is the state's star witness against the 18 defendants who allegedly took $1,000,000 a year in bribes from him. Without the case is slim.

The dapper, 35-year-old Gross had started his life's story from the witness stand and seemed to be going along all right in short, jerky sentences. Suddenly, without warning, he made his announcement.

Then the pudgy bookie bigshot coolly stepped down from the witness stand.

The blank, breathless moment of shock that followed was broken by Judge Samuel Leibowitz. He ordered an immediate recess.

Gross himself is awaiting sentence on gambling and conspiracy charges that could land him in prison for 65 years. It was expected that he would testify for all he was worth to win leniency in his sentence.

Top State Officials Plan Trips East

Gov. Douglas McKay planned Tuesday to leave September 26 for Gatlinburg, Ky., where he will attend the annual governor's conference. He will be accompanied by Mrs. McKay.

Both State Treasurer Walter J. Pearson and Secretary of State Earl T. Newbery are planning trips to New York City at about the same time.

Secretary of State Earl T. Newbery is expected to leave for New York City at about the same time.

A-Weapons Said Key to Mammoth Defense Savings

McMahon Asks Faster Production

By Roger D. Greene

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) today urged a vast speed-up in the production of U. S. atomic weapons—ranging from A-bombs to "uranium bullets"—to strengthen America's defenses at a saving of billions.

In a dramatic senate speech, McMahon spoke of cheap new atomic weapons which he said can be produced "at a cost of $20 or $30" the same explosive force delivered by conventional weapons costing thousands of dollars.

The chairman of the senate-house atomic energy committee also mentioned—though he did not say they exist now—such lethal innovations as ship-based atomic artillery, atomic guided missiles, atomic mines, and torpedoes with atomic warheads.

Calling for a revolutionary shift in the arms program, McMahon said that with atomic weapons as the backbone of U. S. armament, the saving to American taxpayers would be $30,000,000,000 to $40,000,000,000 a year.

And with such an atomic arsenal in this country, he said, an aggressor who dares to attack the United States would have "no place to hide."

The Connecticut senator proposed that the nation spend $6,000,000,000 a year for all-out mass production to equip a fully atomic army, navy and air force, and he told the senate:

"For every dollar spent on atomic defense, we can save five dollars on conventional defense."

"By cutting back upon the costly weapons of yesterday and forging ahead with the far cheaper atomic weapons of today and tomorrow, I believe we can fabricate very real and very practical uranium bullets that will make our country invincible in full-scale war and exempt from the cold-war threat of bankruptcy."

Atomic Artillery
McMahon did not elaborate on his comment about "uranium bullets." There has been wide-open speculation for some months, never officially denied, that atomic artillery shells have already been developed and tested.

Uranium-235 is the fissionable or explosive heart of the A-bomb. McMahon told the senate that with mass production in high gear, it would actually cost less to produce an A-bomb than a tank, and he declared:

"I say that the sky is the limit on the number and variety of atomic weapons which the United States can produce . . ."

At another point in his speech, McMahon said his program could be carried out "while still saving 30 to 40 billions of the 60 to 80 billions per year that otherwise threaten to become the price of survival."

Asked where the basic ingredients could be found to mass produce A-bombs, McMahon said:

"It is apparent now to all of us that there is a supply of raw material coming into being with which we can fabricate atom bombs by the thousands."

Laboratories Find Cure for Dandruff

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Abbott laboratories announced today it is producing a drug for dandruff which has helped control the condition, in more than 90 per cent of cases tested clinically.

Its base is the same rare metal, selenium, which causes electric eyes to open doors and has many other non-medical uses. It is available only on a physician's prescription, because it is toxic if taken internally, Abbott said.

Control Board Hands Legislature Problem of Transferring Offices from Portland to Salem

What state functions, assigned to the new state office building in Portland, eventually will be transferred to Salem, is a problem for the state legislature to consider, the state board of control decided at a meeting here Tuesday.

All of these activities are now located in the Portland area and include branches of a number of state offices located here. Largest of the state functions assigned to the office building are the state board of health, state retirement commission, and state public welfare commission. No mention was made by the board of the state liquor commission. It recently discovered that the Knox liquor control law provides headquarters of this department shall be at the state capitol.

State Treasurer Walter J. Pearson said that while it was apparent that some state activities were violating the state constitution by maintaining offices in Portland it had been impossible to transfer these offices to Salem because of a shortage of housing facilities here. There are 21 state offices, including branches in Portland at the present time.

"We couldn't possibly house all state activities now located in Portland in Salem," Governor Douglas McKay said.

Roy Mills, board of control secretary, suggested that the next legislature be requested to provide more office space in Salem which might solve the housing problem. Board of control members agreed with this suggestion.

Secretary of State Earl T. Newbery said the new state office building in Portland could be sold at a profit of $1,000,000.

Discussion of the housing situation for state offices was based on a proposal that the board of control reconsider its allocation of state functions to the new state office building in Portland.

The board accepted, with appreciation, a gift of $800 from ex-State Senator A. G. Beals, Tillamook, to be used in promoting a vocational guidance program at the state training school for boys near Woodburn. Beals previously contributed $1800 for construction of a swimming pool there.

Low bids for two construction projects were approved.

One involved a new dining room addition at the state school for the deaf at a cost of $19,000, including architects fees. The contract went to Robert D. Morrow, Salem, on a bid of $38,231. The other involved addition to a cow barn at Fairview home. The low bid of $12,833 on this project was submitted by the H. G. Carl Construction company here.

Salem Couple Missing, Yacht Springs Leak

EUREKA, Calif., Sept. 18.—(AP)—A Salem, Ore., couple who started a four-year round the world trip five days ago on their small yacht, the Marie Carpet, were sought in Humboldt bay along the California coast line today.

Mr. and Mrs. Luis A. Martinez-Lally, both attorneys, radioed for help shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday saying their ship had sprung a leak.

The coast guard cutter Yonca left Crescent City to hunt for the yacht. Haze and fog interfered with the search.

The Yonca said it had picked up weak signals from the yacht still asking for assistance.

Until recently, Mrs. Martinez-Lally was private secretary to the Oregon state treasurer.

U.N. Confers With Reds to Hear Charges

MUNSAN, Korea, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(AP)—An allied 10-man investigation team spent an hour and 55 minutes today conferring with Reds in and near Kaesong, whipping up speculation whether the suspended truce talks may be resumed.

There was no immediate announcement when the party returned the 23 miles in jeeps from Kaesong to Munsan.

Obviously, the allied team went to Kaesong to check a new Red charge that four allied military personnel violated the zone by entering it Tuesday. But the Red charge was the mildest of 12 filed since the talks were cut off by the communists more than three weeks ago.

It was believed probable that the Reds actually wished to speak to allied liaison officers about a possible resumption of the talks.

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Allied forces seized a key mountain peak on "Heart-break ridge" in a bitter battle last night and hurled back two heavy red counter-attacks early today.

The eighth army reported earlier that three major hills were taken in the eastern Korean sector yesterday.

DISALLE DUE IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Michael V. Disalle, chief of the office of price stabilization, will speak in Portland Thursday night on "Price Stabilization and the Defense Effort."

AFL POLITICAL FUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The AFL decided today to raise $1 million for the political activities in the 1952 elections.

Huge Military Construction Program Voted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Congress completed action today on the largest military construction program ever proposed in peacetime—a $5,887,669,178 authorization for installations over half the world.

The multi-billion dollar measure in addition to the $60,000,000,000 money bill congress is considering for direct financing of the armed services.

The construction authorization went to President Truman for his signature after the house voted approval of a compromise agreement on differences between senate and house versions.

The biggest share of the money would go to the air force, with implications that much of it will be used to finance defensive bases around the perimeter of Russia and the communist-dominated half of the world.

Blood-for-Korea Drive Tomorrow

An emergency demand for blood in Korea will be answered in Salem on Thursday afternoon, Red Cross officials announced.

Through the cooperation of management and labor, the Oregon Pulp and Paper company will be host to the bloodmobile from 1 to 5 p.m. tomorrow. Volunteers from elsewhere in the city also will be welcomed at the mobile unit's special visitation, Chairman Mrs. Ralph Moody declared.

WINS SILVER STAR

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(AP)—AP War Correspondent John Randolph was decorated with the silver star today for gallantry on the Korean battlefield. He helped carry wounded infantrymen to safety during the heavy Chinese offensive April 23.

Your Community Chest Cultural Quality Of Chest Cited

Robert C. Paulus, President, Paulus Bros.

The personality of a community is expressed not only by external evidences of material progress, but even more by the manifestation of spiritual, cultural and ethical qualities stimulated in its citizens by institutions which it maintains through its Community Chest.

Goal $126,000; Drive Oct. 2-16.

THE WEATHER

	Max.	Min.	Precip.
Salem	79	50	.00
Portland	77	54	.00
San Francisco	67	55	.00
Chicago	76	51	.00
New York	76	61	.00

Willamette River - 3.8 feet.

FORECAST (from U. S. weather bureau, McNary field, Salem): Fair today and tonight, except for some morning cloudiness. Continued mild, with highest temperature today near 80 and lowest tonight near 50.

SALMON PRECIPITATION Since start of Weather Year, Sept. 1

This Year	Last Year	Normal
34	Trace	.80

Control Board Hands Legislature Problem of Transferring Offices from Portland to Salem

What state functions, assigned to the new state office building in Portland, eventually will be transferred to Salem, is a problem for the state legislature to consider, the state board of control decided at a meeting here Tuesday.

All of these activities are now located in the Portland area and include branches of a number of state offices located here. Largest of the state functions assigned to the office building are the state board of health, state retirement commission, and state public welfare commission. No mention was made by the board of the state liquor commission. It recently discovered that the Knox liquor control law provides headquarters of this department shall be at the state capitol.

State Treasurer Walter J. Pearson said that while it was apparent that some state activities were violating the state constitution by maintaining offices in Portland it had been impossible to transfer these offices to Salem because of a shortage of housing facilities here. There are 21 state offices, including branches in Portland at the present time.

"We couldn't possibly house all state activities now located in Portland in Salem," Governor Douglas McKay said.

Roy Mills, board of control secretary, suggested that the next legislature be requested to provide more office space in Salem which might solve the housing problem. Board of control members agreed with this suggestion.

Secretary of State Earl T. Newbery said the new state office building in Portland could be sold at a profit of $1,000,000.

Discussion of the housing situation for state offices was based on a proposal that the board of