

Government Waste Rebuked At Rotary Meet

"No country is large or powerful enough to waste in the manner we are," Milton Kahn of Portland asserted Wednesday in telling of progress toward carrying out the Hoover report on federal organization.

Kahn, state chairman of the citizens committee for the report, told Salem Rotary club that the aim of the Hoover commission recommendations is to end the growth of the national debt.

Kahn outlined the huge growth of government in employees, expenditures and debt during the past 20 years, as found by the commission's task forces, and stressed the lack of lines of authority and responsibility in federal agencies.

By last December 31 one-half of the recommendations had become law, but nothing has been done since, although 15 bills to cover the rest of the report are in committee. These, said Kahn, are for the agriculture, interior, medical and veterans' functions of government.

The speaker said the present confusion and waste in government is not due principally to malfeasance in office or to any single administration but to rapid growth without planning. Competition between agencies for funds, he added, contributes to the cost.

The speaker was introduced by Mark Hatfield, Marion county chairman of the committee.

Picket Replies To Communists

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19—(AP)—didn't picket Tuesday's session of the house subcommittee on un-American activities, as they did yesterday.

But there was a lone picket—of another variety.

A tall, husky, well-dressed man marched back and forth in front of the federal building carrying a large banner that read:

"I approve of this hearing. Keep smoking out communists."

He said he represented no group and declined even to give his name. When a reporter asked if he said:

"Just put 'John Doe, American'."

Jersey Sale Scheduled for Ontario Oct. 20

By Lillie L. Madsen
Farm Editor, The Statesman
MT. ANGEL, Sept. 19—The second annual Oregon state Jersey heifer investment sale has been set for October 20 at Ontario, Ore. Rex Ross, Mt. Angel, chairman of the sale committee, said today. Thirty-five animals are now consigned.

The sale, one of the big events in the Oregon Jersey cattle world, was originally set for early September, but because of lack of sufficient animals at that time to make a good sale, it was postponed. Oregon breeders of top producing and show herds have come to the front to offer their heifers for the event.

All animals are donated by the breeders for the furtherance of Jersey work in Oregon. The sale originated in 1950 to raise money for the new Oregon Jersey fieldman program. Scores of breeders from throughout the northwest attended, and early inquiries this year, Ross stated, indicated an equal interest in the event.

As most of the heifers being offered, come from the Willamette valley area, western Oregon members of the committee have made the majority of selections and report the animals are as fine as any in the state. Included are champions in their division at the recent Oregon state fair.

Assisting Ross in the selections were Newton Davis, Woodburn; Lloyd Forester, Tangent; Dennis Saunders, Gaston, and T. R. Hobar, Salem. Breeders of widely known eastern Oregon Jersey herds are assisting from that area.

Ross, prominent member of the Oregon Jersey Cattle club, as well as of the Marion county club, also reports two other sales of the breed which are attracting considerable attention. First of these is the heifer sale at the Gourmery Jersey ranch at Albany, to be held September 26, starting at 1 p.m. after a lunch on the grounds served by the women of the community.

State Employees Asked to Obey Traffic Laws

Strict compliance with traffic regulations, as a means of preventing accidents, was urged upon state employees in a letter Wednesday by Secretary of State Earl T. Newbery.

Newbery referred particularly to traffic congestion in the state capital area.

"A number of state workers have made the task of the police more difficult by failing to cross streets at crosswalks, and in some instances, failing to wait for traffic signals," Newbery's letter read.

Newbery said these practices were dangerous, discourteous and a violation of law.

"Habitual observance of police officers' directions and traffic signals will aid materially in easing the congestion and in forestalling traffic accidents," Newbery said.

Newbery complimented the work of city traffic officers assigned to the capitol area.

Two Charges Dismissed in District Court

Two charges were dismissed Wednesday in Marion county district court, one for lack of a crime and the other for lack of sufficient evidence.

The charge of obtaining money and property by false pretenses against David Earl Jackson, Coollidge, Ariz., was dismissed on motion of Deputy District Attorney Joseph Meier after two state witnesses testified. Their testimony showed that the check involved, though worthless, was issued in payment of bills already incurred at the Monitor market and that no money or goods was received on the basis of the check.

The complaint was against a J. E. Taylor, whose name was on the check. Jackson's contention that he was not Taylor was not pursued, because of the dismissal.

Arden Burris, Monmouth route 2, was discharged from a count of robbery, brought a week ago after the alleged robbery of $32 from L. T. Bowers, Salem taxi driver, in the Ankeny Bottom district.

Before a skunk uses his defensive liquid he is likely to give warning by hissing, clicking his teeth and patting the ground.
