

New Kitchen Decor Can Be Varied to Any Taste in Color and Equipment

By Sue Gardner

The kitchen can be the most exciting room in a house if it is planned carefully. Practically every shade of the rainbow is seen in today's kitchens. Time saving devices and step saving arrangements are musts in a modern kitchen. Whether you must work within a small space, your equipment in a small circle about you, or can move freely with a dinette or dining room in easy reach, your kitchen should be a cheerful, functional part of your home.

Sometimes you cannot help yourself in having to use old equipment and cabinets that came with the house or apartment. However, many times you can add or or two items and make the kitchen far more convenient than you found it. I think one of the most tiring problems of food preparation and dish care is cabinets built out of reach. I have watched a housewife stretch and bend for too high or too low storage space, doing a days work in energy expended for just one meal.

Often it is just a question of moving a few cabinets down a bit on the wall. However, if you are lucky enough to be in the market for new cabinets, there are some with doors that swing upward and wall cabinets with shelves designed all within reach of the average housewife. For the lower cabinets, the doors swing downward. Corner cabinets with lazy susan shelves also reduce the bending and stooping to see what you want. The triple tier cart is an excellent aid in moving about the kitchen. It fits under your counter or work table when not in use. Small base cabinets on wheels will make flexible arrangements possible when working at the stove or refrigerator.

Movable Broiler Handy

I think one of the handiest innovations in ranges is the moving of the broiler up to a height just below the gas jets or electric plates in the stove. The broiler is used as much, if not more, than the oven in most homes, yet it is usually out of the way below the oven. Well cookers, while not new, are more plentiful in new ranges and a great convenience to the housewife. One new home owner told me her well cooker was in use every day this summer when she went to the beach. She would start the cooking of a stew for instance, then shut off the fire, and enough heat was retained in the cooker to finish the meat by the time she returned.

There is also trend to increase the size of the oven. A change in insulation in some models allows for wider ovens, and in others the bottom element is beneath the oven floor, which aids in cleaning the stove.

Other new arrangements in stoves include built in rotary roasters, barbecuing attachments, griddle sections in the middle or to one side, glass shields over broiler units and many types of clock controls to simplify cooking.

Refrigerator Innovations

If you are in the market for a new refrigerator, you have some pleasant innovations waiting for you. The automatic defroster is more prevalent in several lines. There is more space inside many models, even the smaller ones, thanks to research work on materials used for the walls of the boxes. There is a new mold inhibiting light, a plate to control moisture and such new accessories as water coolers, bottle openers, sandwich boxes, snack trays, butter conditioners, and much, much more room in the ice cube and deep freeze sections.

Those homemakers lucky enough to afford a dishwasher have quite a variety from which to choose. There are two main types, air or heat drying. The washers are available as part of a sink to make for efficiency in most installations. Some washers allow you to stop the action and add a dish in the middle. You can have vinyl covered racks, a front load model and flexible loading in separately hung upper and lower racks. There are some portable, free standing, counter or rollaway types and a few manually controlled washers on the market.

There are a few new housewares, some redesigned, and a good selection of electric mixers, grinders, knife sharpeners, toasters and other kitchen equipment.

Plastic Wall Coverings

You can plan a great deal in kitchen decor these days. There are easily washed plastic coated wall coverings in all colors and many patterns. Washable paints are plentiful. There are some for painting stoves, others for refrigerators, if you want color throughout the kitchen. Linoleum for the floor can be solid, patterned, marbled, like brick or flagstone, or with gay confetti patterns. Counter tops to resist almost any kind of wear and tear are also available in many colors and finishes. You can put down your own asphalt tile or linoleum type wall coverings. If you prefer clay tile, it, too, comes in many colors for a permanent easy-to-care-for surface. Kitchen curtains and towels, gay shades and wall decorations that range from framed pictures to wall plates, and artful shelves can also be obtained.

PLACE MATS HAVE SPECIAL PLACE

Inexpensive, easy-to-care-for place mats are usually styled for casual dishes—they're pretty with the pottery but wrong with anything else. And china hides away on the top shelf because dainty mats are so often expensive and a laundering chore. There's a place in most homes for place mats like these—they're sheer and real linen that's easily washed, and you can make them yourself for very small sums indeed. Ask in the drapery fabric department for the attractive, or linen skrim. This new-again filmy linen comes in fascinating colors that are easy to match to decorating schemes because the fabric is made for window treatments, in dark shades as well as medium and light. Sometimes two colors combine, one as warp and one as wool, in a changeable effect. Cut the mats to allow two-inch hems. Baste the hems, pull threads for wide hemstitching and hemstitch by hand. The mats take and hold shape after starching, which gives the thin fabric firmness and a finish that stays remarkably fresh.

Bearishness Drops Stock Market Prices

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—An overwhelming weight of bearishness crushed the stock market down this week in the second biggest decline of the year.

Selling reached climatic proportions in the final hour of trading Friday, and today prices continued their fall but without the severe pressure exhibited yesterday.

The loss this week was second only to that experienced in the final week of June 30 when cease-fire negotiations in Korea were first taking shape and cast a shadow of uncertainty over the immediate economic future of the country.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks 'lost 80 cents today at $98.30. That brought the loss for the week to $3.10, topped only by the $3.40 decline four months ago.

There was no single factor, assigned by Wall Street as the cause of this week's fall. In fact there are so many possibilities that leading analysts failed to agree immediately on the relative importance of the individual items.

Today the selling continued but it was much abated and orderly. With the AP average off 80 cents at $98.30, the industrial component was off $1.20, rails 70 cents, and utilities 20 cents. Volume came to 1,020,000 shares as compared with last week's 750,000 shares.

Volume this week came to 9,364,000 shares as compared with last week's 7,445,000 shares for five trading days.

Weakness in the stock market also brought some selling.

Wheat closed 3/4 lower to 1/4 higher, corn 3/4 down to 1/2 up, oats off 1/2 to 1/4, soybeans 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents lower, and lard 10 to 23 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Grain Prices Dip Sharply

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Grain futures ran into persistent selling today and dipped moderately, although there was a rally near the close. Soybeans were down around 3 cents a bushel at times but recovered part of the losses.

There were several reasons for the slip. For one thing, there were profit taking sales on the advances of the week. There also was some liquidation by Longs who apparently didn't want to hold their contracts over the week-end in case peace should come in Korea.
