Newsmen Plead Innocent to Defamation

LAKE CHARLES, La., Nov. 12—(AP)—Five Lake Charles American Press newsmen denied in district court today charges of defaming 16 public officials and three admitted gamblers in a newspaper crusade against wide open gambling.

The five defendants pleaded innocent at their arraignment. After pleadings, Defense Attorney Clement Moss filed two motions asking for more information about two of the indictments. Judge J. Bernard Cooke deferred setting a trial date until after the court disposes of the motions.

Judge Cooke, of New Orleans, sitting for Judge Mark Pickrel, who is ill, set next Monday, November 13, for hearings on the motions.

The goal is at least 30 drivers to take volunteer driving duty one day each month. The training program will include the orientation, instruction in atomic injury, basic mechanics and traffic safety. All driving assignment will be daytime for the women. Night driving will be handled by men.

Oregon Holly Growers Plan Annual Show

By Lillie L. Madson
Garden Editor, The Statesman
PORTLAND, Nov. 12—Christmas certainly gave the impression of being right around the corner today as the members of the Oregon Holly Growers association were preparing for their annual holly show, November 13 and 14. The show will open Tuesday at 10 a.m. at The Oregonian Hostess House here and will remain open until 5 p.m. The same hours will prevail Wednesday. Primary purpose of the show is to call attention of the home gardeners the great variety and decorative possibilities of the various kinds of holly grown successfully in the Willamette valley area.

While the most desirable holly for general use is the various strains of the English holly with its bright red berries and shiny, prickly leaves, other varieties, now being used commercially also, will be displayed. There will be the golden and silver variegated types, the yellow berried holly, not very common as yet, and the Dutch holly with its smooth leaves and abundant bright scarlet berries. This latter holly is minus the spines and is in much demand for wreaths, the growers say.

Christmas gift ideas, featuring holly, proper packing for shipping, and treatment will be on display. Commercial holly, reports Ray Leach, president of the Oregon Holly Growers association, is all treated with hormone chemicals to prevent premature dropping of leaves and berries. The chemicals, under various trade names, may be bought at moderate cost in the seed stores. The material may be sprayed on or the branches of holly may be dipped into it. At all events it should cover all foliage, stems and berries when used.

Being arranged today for tomorrow's opening of the show, were also decorative holly sprays and arrangements of holly alone and in combination with other greens for holiday table, mantel and general use about the home at Christmas time.

Also featured at the Portland show will be the small potted holly trees which are as yet a novelty but which Oregon holly growers have been developing in recent years. Members of the Oregon Holly Growers association are in charge of the display, which they are also furnishing. Too, members of the association will be present both days to answer questions of those who wish to learn more about holly growing in the home garden.

Salem's Newest Safeway Store To Open for Preview Tonight

Twenty-thousand five-hundred square feet of merchandising area featuring newest food display techniques in an ultra-modern building will be opened to the public tonight in a special preview of Salem's new Safeway store at 12th and Center streets.

From 5 to 9 p.m. the public is invited by Safeway, Inc., to visit the big red brick and aluminum trim structure on the site of the old Washington school at 1265 Center st.

T. M. (Ted) Medford, retail operations manager, and C. M. (Chet) Heltzel, Salem district manager, will join with Store Manager Carlos Lagerfeld in hosting the special pre-opening preview.

With the opening of the new store, Heltzel announced the closing of Safeway's store at 14th and State street, serving Salem's east-side since 1941. Lagerfeld and other personnel of the State street store have been moved to the store to form a nucleus of the enlarged staff required in the big market at 12th and Center.

Store visitors will find parking space for 188 cars on the full-block site. Convenient entrances and exits to and from the four surrounding streets are provided.

Inside the store they will find 13,000 square feet of sales space for display of the firm's 2,300 sales items. There are 18 island displays in addition to wall shelves. The produce section is equipped with 72 feet of modern refrigerated produce display cases. Another 76 feet of open-top refrigerated space contains dairy products with additional space for ice cream and frozen foods.

The meats, prepared in a modern cutting and packaging room will be displayed in self-service refrigerated cases taking up 72 feet of space. Stock rooms and work areas fill 7,500 square feet and include refrigerated lockers for dairy products, produce, meats and frozen foods.

Distributes Light
Fluorescent lighting inside the store is designed to distribute light evenly throughout the building. Sixteen giant compressors provide air conditioning and refrigeration. Patrons will shop in a musical atmosphere provided from records. The music is piped into the store from an FM radio station.

Ten streamlined check-out stands will add to the rapid shopping provided by the modern facilities of the new store.

In addition to the many food and allied items provided in the new store, Safeway is including a magazine and book department for the convenience of its customers.

MAN NEARLY DROWNS

GRANTS PASS, Nov. 12—(AP)—A jeep plunged from the Redwood highway into a rain-filled ditch last night, nearly drowning William Dale Mallory, 36, Eureka, Calif. Pinned under water by the vehicle, he was freed by passing motorists and hospitalized here.

Foster Buys Camera Shop

Andy Foster, former Portland and Eugene camera store manager, has purchased Burke's Camera shop at 174 N. Commercial st. Now operating under the name of Andy Foster's Camera's, the business plans to offer numerous new photo services, said Foster, including photography instruction on an informal basis to interested groups. A movie film exchange has been added.

Noble Bashor remains as assistant in the local shop. The retiring proprietor has purchased an acreage north of Salem.

Foster is a partner of Lyman Coburn who operates a large Eugene camera shop.

Gas & Coke Plan Meets No Objection

PORTLAND, Nov. 12—(AP)—No objections were heard in federal court today on a proposed recapitalization plan for the Portland Gas & Coke company.

Federal Judge Claude McCulloch announced as a result that he will approve the new plan at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The plan then is expected to go into effect around January 1.

The plan, already approved by the securities and exchange commission, call for present stock to be replaced by 547,627 shares of common stock with 90 per cent to go to the present preferred stockholders and 10 per cent to American Power & Light Co., the present holder of all outstanding common stock.

YM Centennial Week Proclaimed

This week, November 11-18, has been proclaimed YMCA week by Gov. Douglas McKay and Mayor Alfred Loucks in honor of the 100th anniversary of the YM in the United States and Canada. The Salem YMCA is celebrating its 60th anniversary.

"In the hundred years just ended the YMCA has been serving the youth of our nation, leaving its humanitarian, democratic imprint on our country's progress," Governor McKay said in saluting the organization.

Mayor Loucks asked all Salem citizens to join with him in paying honor and respect to the YM for their programs of building strong bodies, alert minds and active Christian service.

Willamette Debate Squad Offers to Present Programs

The Willamette university forensic squad again this year is offering its services in debates, discussions, symposia and lectures to community organizations, according to Dr. Howard W. Runkel, coach of the squad.

The squad is composed of 20 students who have been working on a number of current topics for this year. The debate topic is "Resolved that the federal government should adopt a permanent program of price and wage stabilization." This year's discussion question is "How can we as a nation improve our ethical and moral conduct?"

Speakers include students who have won high honors in speech events throughout the Pacific northwest.

Mrs. McKeown's Book Published

Publication of "Alaska Silver," the third and concluding story of Uncle Mont Hawthorne's experiences in the Pacific Northwest, by Martha Ferguson McKeown, has been announced by the MacMillan company.

Mrs. McKeown, descendant of covered wagon pioneers, is a graduate of Willamette university with a bachelor of arts degree in Oregon history. The northwest in the days when "Cap Hanks" sailed the mail clean up around Cape Flattery to Clallam Bay and back to Grays Harbor" furnishes the setting for the book.

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

Eva Gabor says

"I don't worry about my throat since I changed to Camels!"

"I had to be sure my cigarette agreed with my throat. So I tried most of the leading brands. I chose Camels for their day-in, day-out mildness and flavor!"

BEAUTIFUL EVA GABOR, star of television, screen and stage, must always be in good voice. The cigarette she smokes must agree with her throat. By trying Camels as her steady smoke, she found that with mild, flavorful Camels she enjoys smoking without worrying about her throat.

Make the sensible cigarette test—make your own 30-day Camel mildness test. Smoke only Camels for 30 days... enjoy the rich, full flavor—and see how mild Camels are, pack after pack... see how well Camels agree with your throat. Then you'll know why, after all the mildness tests...

CAMEL LEADS ALL OTHER BRANDS — BY BILLIONS!

RALPH BELLAMY has smoked Camels for many years. Carrots after carrots, season after season, he finds that Camels are milder and more flavorful than any other cigarette he's ever smoked!

MARGUERITE PIAZZA, TV and opera star, made the 30-day Camel test under the supervision of a noted throat specialist. He found no throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

YOUR PROVING GROUND for a cigarette is your "T-Zone"—T for Throat, T for Taste. Test Camels in your "T-Zone" for 30 days. See why Camels is America's most popular cigarette!
