

Englewood EUB 50th Year Programs Slated Sunday

Two special services Sunday will celebrate the 50th anniversary of Englewood Evangelical United Brethren church, according to plans announced by the Rev. Lloyd Uecker, pastor.

The 11 a.m. worship service will include an address by the Rev. Walter Hines of Portland, superintendent of the church's Oregon conference; history of the church presented by James Byers; tribute by the Rev. R. C. Mann, former pastor; "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" sung by Mrs. Robert Howe, and the anthem, "How Majestic Are Thy Works" by the choir.

The morning program also will honor five "near charter members" who joined the church in 1906—Mrs. Carrie Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowe and Mrs. Hannah Yarnell, all of Salem, and Mrs. J. F. Mollenkop of Portland.

The anniversary service will be at 3 p.m., featuring an address by Bishop Ira D. Warner of Puento, Calif., who in 1931 laid the cornerstone of the present church building at 17th and Nebraska streets. Other speakers will include the Rev. Wilmer Brown, pastor of Salem First EUB church; Dr. Brooks Moore, president of Salem Ministerial association, and Mayor Alfred W. Loucks.

Afternoon music will be the congregation's theme hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," by the choir; "O Lord Most Holy" sung by Clifford Vorn of Portland.

A reception in the church parlor will follow the service. All the programs are open to the public. The church had its beginning Nov. 26, 1901, in tent meetings on Marion street.

Forty-five years of Englewood Evangelical United Brethren church's half century have included four of these people as members. They joined the congregation in 1906. They are, from left, seated, Mrs. J. H. Yarnell, 1215 N. 16th st., and Mrs. Carrie Lindsay, 592 N. Sumner st.; standing, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowe, 940 D st., with Pastor Lloyd Uecker between them. Kingwood Sets Missionaries At 3 Services

The Rev. John A. Dyck, missionary to Colombia, will be the special speaker at the Thanksgiving missionary festival services Sunday at Kingwood Bible church, the Rev. Alex H. Sauerwein, pastor, announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyck and their three children are home on furlough from missionary work. They will tell of their experiences at the services at 10:45 a.m. and 2 and 7 p.m. The young people's groups will meet with the evening service to see pictures shown by Dyck of the missionary work.

All members and friends attending the services on Sunday are invited to the church festival dinner at 12:30, being prepared by a committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Goertzen, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Loewen and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loewen. Missionary offerings will be received at all services.

Result of 'Work' Night Surprising At Sweet Home

SWEET HOME, Nov. 23—The work night announced for Tuesday night at the Church of Christ by the Rev. Ross B. Evans, pastor, turned out to be a surprise birthday party for him.

As camouflage men came in overalls and jackets and women came in kitchen working apparel. The no-host dinner to be served by the workers turned out to be a birthday dinner with a huge birthday cake. More than 90 men, women and children appeared to honor the pastor.

Miss Thelma Moss was master of ceremonies. The program included a phony radio program, Mrs. Lou Reed's solo, Mrs. Ruth Lang's reading, Mrs. Charlotte Robertson's parody, Mrs. Daisy McMasters' reading and Mrs. Eileen Bostwick's piano concerto.

After five empty gift boxes one yielded an electric corn popper. Following the gifts Allan Blankenship led a devotional service.

Moore Returns From Journey; Members Feted

Return of the pastor, plans for reception of new members Sunday and for a dinner honoring more than 100 new members next Friday, were announced by First Methodist church.

Dr. Brooks H. Moore, pastor, will preach Sunday morning after a month's absence. First he was at Dallas, Tex., for a meeting of Methodist workers with college students — campus pastors and Wesley Foundation directors — to plan for strengthening the church program with students.

Then came a week end at Gibsland, La., near Shreveport, where he attended a family reunion and preached at the Gibsland Methodist church, where his mother was raised. He also was at the home of Dr. George Pomeroy, who recently left the Salem church as a medical missionary to India.

For the two weeks ending last Sunday, Dr. Moore was guest minister at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Arcadia, Calif., as Methodists of the Los Angeles area conducted a United Evangelistic advance with guest leaders from over the country.

He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Moore and by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gan L. Thompson of Buhl, Idaho.

Sunday morning will see reception of some 15 members. Friday at 6:30 p.m. will be an all-church covered — dish dinner honoring more than 100 persons who have joined the church in the past six months. Dr. Waldo C. Zeller, lay leader, will be toastmaster, and Gloria Nandie of Wilamette university is arranging musical numbers. Both staff and the new members will be introduced. The Women's society is in charge of the kitchen, and Roy Lockenour of the dining room.

The sun's brightness in candlepower is about four billion billion (or four followed by 27 zeros).

Building Plan, Radio Work on Calvary Slate

Calvary Baptist church has authorized a building committee to plan for an education unit and will conduct a radio program beginning next month, the Rev. Omar N. Barth, pastor, announced Friday.

The building committee was approved Wednesday night on recommendation of the planning commission and trustees. The present facilities have been taxed by increased attendance at the Bible school, especially in the younger departments.

Sunday morning the church will conduct its second annual walk-around thank offering, to be devoted to the building program. The pastor will complete an exposition of the book of I Peter. At the evening service will complete a series on the person and ministry of the Holy Spirit.

The radio program is to comprise the church's morning service at 11 a.m. each Sunday over Salem's new station, KGAE. Many of the church's young people are attending the annual convocation of the Oregon Baptist Youth fellowship this week end at Linfield college.
