'Starliner' Sets Pace for New Studebakers

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Pace-setter for Studebaker's new 1952 models is the "Starliner," a five-passenger, hardtop convertible. It is offered in both the Champion and Commander lines, and is available in eleven different two-tone color combinations. Upholstery trim includes two different nylon options as standard, and two leather options as extra-cost choices.

Showing Set To Be Early In January

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The "Starliner," a five-passenger, hardtop convertible, is the pace car for Studebaker's 1952 models announced today.

The "Starliner" is declared to typify, both outside and inside, the striking design and appointments of the company's entire series of new models.

Dealers are scheduled to begin their local showings of the new cars early in January, according to K. B. Elliott, executive vice president.

Externally, the '52 Studebakers reveal entirely new front-end treatment and substantial restyling in the rear. Hoods are longer and lower, with new emblems and ornaments.

Surer, yet softer and easier brake action is declared to have been achieved by changes in the brake pedal linkage, the adoption of floating rear shoes in all brakes, and brake linings with greater resistance to "fading."

Other innovations include instrument panel push button starting on all models equipped with automatic drive, a new type of starter for the Commander which is held in positive engagement until the engine is fully operating, moisture-proof ignition system, and a boost in the generator output to 45 amperes on both the Champion and Commander.

Studebaker's V-8 power plant remains essentially unchanged, the 6-cylinder engine which powers the Champion series likewise reflects no basic changes.

Heat-resisting, glare-reducing glass for windshields, side and rear windows is optional on all '52 models.

Detectives said the woman's husband, H. G. Thompson, told them his wife shot herself while he was in the bathroom a short time after he had spanked her because she wouldn't go to bed.
