

Eugene Board 'Sympathizes' With Negroes

EUGENE (AP)—The Eugene Realty Board "sympathizes with the plight" of Negroes whose housing is inadequate, a former board president said Saturday.

His comment was on a charge by Edwin C. Berry, executive secretary of the Portland Urban League, that housing conditions for Negroes in Eugene were "disgraceful and horrible."

Berry was quoted as telling the state Fair Employment Practices Committee that Eugene realtors had made a "deal" to move several Negro families from houses they were occupying to a swamp-land area outside the city where they had sold lots.

But M. S. Christianson, board president in 1949 when the families were moved, said the group had no party to a "deal."

The county ordered the Negroes to move from the Ferry Street bridge district to make way for a construction project.

Berry said the area where Negroes now are living in "one and two-room shacks" have no sanitary facilities and water must be carried half a mile.

Director Michael V. DiSalle Saturday night signed an order rolling back ceiling prices on raw wool an average of slightly more than 20 per cent.

It was learned that the rollbacks are not due to take effect until some future date, probably within 60 to 90 days.

Office of Price Stabilization officials declined to give details of order, scheduled to be made public next Wednesday. A companion order will cut back wool futures ceilings.

OPS officials, wool growers and processors and woolen textile manufacturers all have emphasized that the reduction of ceilings will have no effect on consumer prices for clothing and other articles made from wool.

The ceiling reduction will apply to all types of wool, alpaca, mohair and similar products.

Wool prices rose sharply after the outbreak of the Korean fighting, reflecting a heavy demand. Prices reached in the first week of April, 1951, were 210 per cent higher than those in June, 1950.

Insanity Pleas Law Due for Court Test

PORTLAND (AP)—The Oregon State law governing pleas for insanity will be tested before the U. S. Supreme Court the week of Jan. 28.

Thomas H. Ryan, court appointed attorney for a convicted slayer, said Saturday he will argue that the law is unconstitutional.

Ryan was appointed attorney for Morris Leland who was convicted of the first degree murder of Thelma Taylor in November, 1949.

Leland was accused of holding the girl overnight in the St. Johns area and then slaying her. He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. Ryan said Oregon law requires that a person who pleads insanity prove that he does not know the reasons between right and wrong.

W. C. Pickens 75, Succumbs To Illness

William C. Pickens, 75, retired Salem grocerman and former employe of Thomas Kay Woolen Mills, died Friday night at a Salem Hospital following illness of about two months.

He came to Salem from Roseburg in 1923. Pickens was born Oct. 25, 1876, at Knoxville, Tenn., and came to Oregon in 1881 with his family, settling near Eugene. He was married Oct. 30, 1901, to Mabel Chesapeake, who survives him at the residence, 625 Thompson Ave.

He was a partner in Pickens and Haynes Grocery, then at 456 Court St., for a number of years after coming to Salem. He then was employed at Kay Woolen Mills, retiring about five years ago.

Pickens was a charter member of Calvary Baptist Church. Surviving besides the widow are a son, Chester Pickens of Salem; daughters, Mrs. Neva Matthews of Myrtle Creek, Mrs. Nell Hatfield of Scio, Mrs. Dorothe Jackson and Mrs. Marjorie Ritchie, both in Salem; brothers, Kanaffe Pickens, of Salem and Ivan Pickens of Roseburg; sisters, J. Dale Taylor of Eugene and Mrs. Robert Travis of McMinnville; 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, Jan. 8, at order, scheduled to be made public next Wednesday. A companion order will cut back wool futures ceilings.

OPS officials, wool growers and processors and woolen textile manufacturers all have emphasized that the reduction of ceilings will have no effect on consumer prices for clothing and other articles made from wool.

Twins Born to Salem Couple

Tiny twins, a girl and a boy, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Kilgore of 1430 Hines St. at Salem General Hospital Saturday.

The twins, each weighing about 3 1/2 pounds, were placed in an incubator and probably will not be weighed for several days, hospital attendants said. Barbara Kaye was born at 1:28 p.m. and William Casey 1:35 p.m. Mother, the former Iola B. Turner, and twins were reported "doing fine."

The pair have a sister, Gayle Bernice, 2. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turner, Salem, and Mrs. E. K. Gore, Scotts Mills. Twins were reported common on the Kilgore side of the family.

Grain Market Rise Continues

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains continued their advance of the previous two sessions on the Board of Trade Saturday, ending up the week with gains after having sold off during the forepart of the week.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 higher, corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 higher, oats 1/2 to 1 cent higher, rye 1/2-1 1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2 to 2 1/2 higher, and lard 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The gains Saturday left cereals higher for the week, which was featured with a sharp reversal of trend after prices had sunk to new lows on the decline which set in after Dec. 10. The trend reversal started Thursday, after wheat was down as much as 15 cents, corn 10 cents, oats 10 cents and soybeans 15 cents from the Dec. 10 peaks.

Stock Market Prices Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Reinvestment demand this week encouraged the best rise in the stock market in the past month.

The market advanced every session this week and ended with Saturday's short session moderately ahead.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 20 cents Saturday at $99.80, a net rise of $1.40 on the week. The average now stands only $1.70 under the 21-year peak reached in the middle of last October.

Today the AP average gained 20 cents at $99.80 with the industrial and utility components each up 20 cents and utilities unchanged.

Volume came to 490,000 shares as compared with 560,000 a week ago. The list encompassed 357 advanced and 221 declined with 16 new highs and 3 new lows.
