Dean Says U.S. 'Counts Heavily' On Intelligence Reports of Red Atomic Weapons Capabilities

NEW YORK (AP)-Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Gordon Dean said Sunday the United States must "count heavily" on Intelligence to find out the atomic capabilities of an enemy.

Dean appeared as "Man of the Week" on a Columbia Broadcasting System television show.

meyer, now a vice president of the AVCO Manufacturing Co. Wedemeyer asked Dean whether an enemy could smuggle bombs either Monday or Wednesday in into this country, plant them at strategic points and then deliver an ultimatum. Dean replied that that "is a method of introducing a weapon into this country" but he could not say how difficult it would be or "how likely." Wedemeyer then asked Dean if, granting such a possibility, the AEC had any preparations for "counter measures . . . to neutral-ize that enemy effort."

"I think in the first place," Dean said, "you have got to count heavily upon your intelligence, to determine whether they are getting them in, whether they have the capability.

"But if you assume a bad intention," he added, "and you assume the capability, then you have got a very bad situation.'

Discussing proposals for international control of atomic weapons production, Dean said he thought would be difficult for Russia to
