

Registrations Still Taken For Classes

Registrations are still being taken for the January session of classes of the Young Adult department of the YWCA reports Mrs. Robert B. Brooks, program director. The lessons are offered for six weeks in a term of classes, each lesson being two hours. The Ladies' Day Out program is the only exception, these classes are eight weeks long. "Creative Arts and Crafts for Children" is the course being offered for the Ladies Day Out program this term. The course will be taught by Mrs. Stanley Butler on Thursday morning at 9:30 beginning Jan. 17. A nursery is provided for pre-school children of mothers attending the course.

The Lampshade making class will begin Jan. 16. This is a daytime class, meeting at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be taught by Mrs. Frank Way. The teacher has reported there will be a display of lampshades at the first meeting of the class as an example of the many possibilities.

Two beginning bridge classes are offered this session on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The Tuesday class will be taught by Mrs. Ellis Jones. A special invitation is given to the men of the family to attend the Thursday class which is taught by Mrs. Arthur Lewis.

A conversational Spanish class will be taught by Mrs. Fred Starrett on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 under the leadership of Mrs. W. S. Ankney and Mrs. Lloyd Hockett. For the next session of classes beginning the last week of February, it is hoped several new classes will be offered including millinery, tray painting, home furnishing and decorating, water color painting, rug making and a "taking off the pounds" course.

Concert to Have Unusual Feature

The second concert in the series to be given here by the Portland Symphony Orchestra is to be Tuesday night, Jan. 22. An unusual feature of the concert will be the appearance of four woodwind players as soloists. Oboe, clarinet, bassoon and French horn will play solo parts with the orchestra in the Mozart Concertante Symphonie in E Flat. It is seldom that these wind instruments are heard in solo. The Concertante was "lost" for many years after Mozart's death and was discovered only within the past 5 years. Soloists will be fifty chair members of the orchestra.

Tickets for this concert will be on sale at the Ladd and Bush branch of the United States National Bank beginning Friday, Jan. 18.

Doris Ewen Married to Mr. Bryant

Miss Doris Joan Ewen became Peter Louis Bryant's bride at a beautiful ceremony Saturday night at the First Congregational Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Ewen and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Bryant of Astoria.

It was at 8 o'clock that Dr. Seth Huntington performed the nuptials. Miss Gloria Nandle was the bridesmaid and Jean Hobson Rich was the organist. Miss Leona Burgoyne and Miss Ann Avriette lighted the tapers and wore royal blue ballerina gowns.

Three attendants preceded the bride to the altar and wore ice blue ballerina frocks of satin and net and carried bouquets of red rosebuds. Mrs. Orville Kanner was the maid of honor and Miss Mary Gilham and Miss Laura Lee Newell, Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids.

Of white nylon net and lace was the bridal gown, fashioned with a gathered skirt and court train of net. The fitted bodice was made with lace sleeves. A crown held in place with her fingertip white nylon veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses tied with silver ribbons.

Attend the Groom Robert White stood with the groom as best man and seating the guests were Desmond Walker, Jon Straumfjord, Herbert Johnsrud and Chris Nizic.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Ewen selected a tulle lace gown over deep rose tulle. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant were here from Astoria for the wedding and she wore a champagne chiffon and lace gown over tulle with turquoise accessories.

A reception followed in the church parlor. Mrs. D. G. DeSart and Mrs. Robert White poured and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Rudolf Sobutt, cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Frank Michael, Miss Evelyn Martin, Miss Jane Fooseh, Mrs. H. D. Christensen and Miss Shirley Wayt.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Vancouver, B. C., the new Mrs. Bryant changed to a violet velvet suit with white top coat and white velvet hat adorned with rhinestones and black veil. The newlyweds will make their home in Astoria.

Don't Look Now ...

but ... a record has been made. We took a bath one morning this week, a whole bath without spending half the allotted time dripping on the living room rug, chatting on the telephone. One other day some years ago we accomplished the same thing.

Oh yeah ... We heard a discussion the other day of how many man hours it takes for a certain food product to reach the dinner table. Man hours they say, that ain't the way we heard it.

Brave front ... A friend who made 24 aprons for bazaars just before Christmas says she did a good job of acting happy when someone presented her with (un huh) an apron for Christmas. "Something I've always wanted," she probably said, thanking them.

Looking ahead ... Sometime perhaps we will get used to having cars whisk in front of us clipping our bumper in their frenzy to get over to the left hand side of the street. On Ice ... Looks like that when Reno was covered with snow this week, and activities were suspended, this was the first time gambling has been given the cold shoulder over in Nevada. Goodness ... Here it is the middle of January, with February only three weeks off and soon it will be March and if we don't hurry, the winter planting won't be in before it's spring! ... Maxine Buren
